MR, McCOIG "SMILED."

It is universally admitted by all honest and fair minded citizens who take an interest in public affairs, refuses to leave the stranded ship that the session of the Legislature and unite with his more able col-at Toronto, which was formally clos-leagues in an effort to establish a ed to-day, has been the most fruit-ful one since Confederation. Town him since his election—for some reason or other he has chosen to keep a calmlike sclence. Naturally, when he returned home on Saturday, the people looked to him for some account of his stewardship.

With this end in view, a Banner reporter was detailed to see him and obtain un interview. What was the result, hand what was Mr. McCoig's message to his constituents?

It is said that when Mr. McCoig's saw the reporter coming he "smiled." The reason for the smile is not given. Mr. McCoig was told by the reporter that the London Free Press credited him with opposing Ross, Mr. McCoig "smiled" again one of those knowd bland "put off" smiles and the reporter didn't press him further, merely published the "smile." The reonversation switched to more congenial subjects, and the reporter, possibly at Mr. McCoig's suggestion, said something about the Power Bill. Mr. McCoig "smiled" again. The situation was evidently getting humorous to him. Mr. McCoig acted more as if he had just returned from

What has Mr. McColg done - bcsides smile-since he was elected. He himself was unable to tell the Banmer, and they, so far, have been quite unable to find out 'anything for themselves. His name has been mentioned twice in the newspapers since the opening of the Legislature-once by the Toronto News in an article entitled "A Trip 'Among the Back Benches." The reporter found Kent's member during that trip, and said something about his "smiles." The other time was when Mr. Mc-Coig asked a question about the San Jose scale. He was informed that the Government had sent an inspector through the district, and that gentleman had reported a remedy. The treatment was simple, and if the farmers refused to take advantage of the opportunities offered them by the Government, it was their own fault if their orchards were destroyed. This time the people "smiled," at Mr. McCloig's ignorance in worrying about something that had already been attended to.

This, evidently completes Mr. Mc-Coig's work. It is true he has been position is a benefit to any government. The Opposition managed by Mr. Ross has been visibly and decidedly for full p has been coldedly for full p has been colded.

by the press during the past few weeks. Even the Liberal organs, while a few of them still cling somewhat waveringly to the old discredited and condemned Rossism, have to admit that Mr. Whitney has taken charge in an able manner and has produced legislation that is progressive, timely and honest.

The most of the criticism comes from the fact that [Mr. Whitney is a publer, and those admirers of Mr. Ross who have become educated to piece-meal legislation, and unducanticus resembling from her parliamentary representatives, and unless Mr. Mr. Ross who have become educated to piece-meal legislation, and unducanticus resembling from her parliamentary representatives, and unless Mr. Mr. Whitney is an publer, and those admirers of Mr. Goigh as something from her parliamentary representatives, and unless Mr. Mr. Whitney is a publer, and those admirers of Mr. Goigh as something from her parliamentary representatives, and unless Mr. Mr. Whitney is an publer, and those admirers of Mr. Goigh as something soon, and shows himself wide awake and progressive.

The most of the expectatives, and unless Mr. Mr. Whitney is a publer, and those admirers of Mr. Goigh as something soon, and shows himself wide awake and progressive is exceedingly pretty with its smile may be somewhat changon, the people of West Kent should not forget that they have had a representative in the House—a man who was elected to look after this constituency. These views were taken in the Golden Gate city during the progress of the calamity, from the initial quake till the final complete destruction of the city, by the Frisco Picture Company, which was fortunate in not having its plant injured by the earthquake. Many of the most terrible incidents of this nerve racking calamity were caught by the camera, and are produced in vivid motion pictures, complete in every detail. The result of the work of the Frisco Motion Picture Company will be seen by the citizens of Charlam in a truthful story in moving pictures of the greatest catastrophe in history since the destruction of Pompeii.

salt with hot water, enough to wet it through. Stand in tub and give the body a thorough rubbing with the salt. This operation should take not less than twenty minutes to rub the entire body. The salt removes the dead cuti-cle that is being constantly pushed off from the body by the new cuticle form-ing and which cannot be removed by soap. It also produces an active circulation of blood throughout the entire body. The salt is also a fine thing for the scalp and should be rubbed into the hair and scalp at least once a week.

After giving the body a thorough rub-bing it is necessary to cool off properly, thereby closing the pores and eliminating all possibility of taking cold after the bath. Lie in the tub and turn the
