

Spring Song.

A bird sang sweet and strong,
In the top of the highest tree;
He said: "I pour out my heart in song
For the summer that soon shall be."
But deep in the shady wood
Another bird sang: "I pour
My heart on the solemn solitude
For the spring that returns no more."

The Age of Modern Man.

People are fond of saying that "man-kind is growing wiser and waker." But it is really so? Let us glance at the facts. According to the latest statistics there are more centenarians now living than at any previous time in the history of the world. Why? Because of the great discoveries in medical science which afford him immunity from diseases that formerly devastated mankind. Greatest of them all is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the best blood-purifier and renovator of the age. Scrofula, fever-aches, tumors, unsightly ulcers and eruptions vanish like magic beneath its beneficent influence.

A Confectioner's Confidence.

"I can plainly state that I can find nothing better than Hagar's Yellow Oil. I have rheumatism occasionally, and Yellow Oil does me great good. You can use my name if you wish." Yours truly, H. Dickinson, Confectioner, St. Thomas, Ont.

—He Do you read the current fiction of the day? She? Not very extensively. I am ashamed to say. However, I did wade through "Robert Elton" and I intend to read this "Pige in Clover" that everybody is talking about. —C. H. Farnham, in Harper's Magazine.

—Attention! If you desire a fine head of hair of a natural hue and free from dandruff, Hall's Hair Renewer is the best and safest preparation to accomplish it.

—A most astonishing story comes from California telling how Claus Spreckels has been paying taxes, owing to defective maps, on hundreds of acres, that he does not own. This is probably the first case of the kind on record.

—To keep the beard from turning gray, and thus prevent the appearance of age, use Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers, the best dye made.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—My daughter was greatly troubled with Scrofula, and, at one time, it was feared she would lose her sight. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has completely restored her health, and her eyes are as well as ever, with not a trace of scrofula in her system. —C. King, Killbuck, Conn.

A Song of Days.

REV. W. HIGGINS.

O radiant summer day,
Whose air, sweet air, steals on from flower to flower;
Couldst thou not yield one hour
Whence the glad heart says "This alone is May?"

Oh passionate earthly love,
Whose tremulous pulse beats on to life's best boon;
Couldst thou not give one noon,
Of those rare moments when the bliss above?

Oh solemn human life,
Whose nobler longings bid all conflicts cease!
Grant us one day's deep peace
Beyond the utmost range of all strife.

For if no joy can stay
Let it at least yield one consummate bloom,
Or else there is no room
To find delight in love, or life, or May.

The Watchman's Story.

(New York Sun.)

"How long have I been a bank watchman?" repeated Daniel McShane, as he took the place from him.

"Well, sir, I've put in over thirty years at it."

"But you are not more than forty now."

"Forty-one sir, and I began the business when only ten years old."

That was a tender age and there must be a story connected with your debut.

"Right you are sir, and if you have a half hour to spare I'll tell you the yarn."

When I was a kid of eight, my father was made a night watchman of the old Traders' Bank of Philadelphia. Everything was very primitive then, as you may remember. There were bad men about, but there was no need of burglar-proof safes and metal ladders to climb over the walls.

Banks were then run about the same as stores. The Traders' opened at six in the morning and closed at five in the afternoon, and the last official did not leave till seven, at which time my father went on duty.

That hour until seven in the morning but was not supposed to be awake all the time. He had a cot bed in the office, and many a night he slept all night without once opening his eyes, although he was supposed to be on duty.
