BROCKVILLE, ONT., March 28, 1880. Dear Sir—I have sold your VEGETINE since it was first introduced into Canada, and most cheerfully recommended it to all who are in want of a blood purifier, and believe it to be just what it is advertised to be, a purely vegetable compound. My customers all speak in its faver. My sales are steadily facressing. I have sold many articles of the same description, but VEGETINE gives the most universal satisfaction.

"Well, dear, and so do I, and she will never need a home while I have a kissing the tearful eyes that wept for the colonel." Six years of work in a city church Where the surface slone is seen, Shall the deeds and the efferts fall

As though they had never been? What of the duties manifold,

Of the young to be trained and led?
Of the constant care of the Master's fold,
Of the weary souls to be fed? What of the patience and charity
And the faith that is needed here?
What of the trust that fallereth not
And the courage that owns no fear?

What have we gained in the past six years, Of inward strength and sweetness? Have we faith that the seed that is sown in tears,
May bloom with a grand completeness?

While we cherish our grief for the loved and po we pause to weep with the living?
Dr. harder still, with the ir failures and faults
Are we patient and forgiving?

Have we learned to compare our petty cares
With another's greater trial?
Do we rise to higher, purer air
Turough daily self denial? Are we true as steel in word and deed, Do we steadfastly follow honor? Do we make it a part of our daily creed To faithfully wait upon her?

When we think of our fellow laborers here Who have passed from our sight forever; Let the deeds they have done and the rest Move us to fresh endeavor.

And as each loving heart roams round On all that it holds the dearest; Judge leniently for who may tell Which standeth to Heaven the nearest?

B. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir.—Ladvise you of the good results of your VEGETINE. My wife's father, now nearly eighty-five years old, was attacked atthe clock wistfully, and then through and does were swollen so that he was blinds and discolared, and broke out in several places and discolared, and broke out in several places and discolared, and broke out in several places and discolared. His physician said there was no remedy that could cure him, as to was such an old man. Te gratify a son-in-liaw, he was persuaded to take your Vegeting. She glanced and the soft violet eyes became softer yet, and a teuching sadness rested on how a healthy old man.

Last Spring I was troubled with a sallow skin, want of appetite, coid extremities, and headaches. Satisfied that this condition of things arose for proventy of the blood, I took two bottles of Vegetings; and headaches, satisfied that this condition of things arose for Vegetings; and headaches, strings in the condition of things arose for proventy of the blood, I took two bottles of Vegetings; and headaches, satisfied that this condition of things arose for Wistring; itcured me, and flam astisfied to the world.

Yours very traly.
