Though not unearthly, they were very mysterious looking. They had books and maps and photographic apparatus. The village inn received the wanderers, and they seemed busy and well pleased; but who were they, and what did they want? The fair of Cahirmee was not near, and even if it were nigh at hand, the company seemed to know as little of horseflesh as Dr. Johnson did of old

ADROWST PRECENTOR.—On Sunday, the gentleman who "skirls up the Banger" for the congregation worshipping in the Established Church here (Millpert) horsified the godly beneath the precentor's desk by falling fast-saleep towards the end of the service. When the elergymae had finished his disconree and read the pealm which follows, the crowded and attentive congregation waited for a lead, but they waited in vain. The wolucky precentor was fast lapped in the arms of Sommus, and in this soporific condition neglected all the well-means efforts of Mr. M'Nab to call him to a sense of his awk-vard position. A general titter of course got-up, but the sleeper was awakened by the parechial cohoolmaster, and the service proceeded, the first line running very appropriately, "Lord bless and pity us."—Citizen.

The editor of the Cynthian (Ky.) Nesse, in making an appeal to his subscribers, who are in arrears, to pay up, says.—' We hope they will 'settle' without delay. Not that we need the money—oh, no! Our ink is given to us, we steal our papers, and we wis our printers' wages at 'seven up.' So it costs us nothing to carry on hunners. Nevertheless, as a matter of accommedation, and to case their consciences, we will take what they owe us, if they will send it in immediately.'

The Nova Scotians say that there was a time when conciliation might have been tried with advantage by Sir John and his party, but that time, has passed away. The Chronicle thus addresses the Premier:—

A settler, while felling a tree, was surprised by a bear. In his surprise he east his axe at him, has missed him. Weaponless, confounded and confused, he did just right. As Bruin leaped upon him, he, thrust his hand down his throat, seized his tail and Jerked him in-

After fomentation with warm water, the utmost relief and speedlest cure can be readily obtained in all complaints affecting the skin and joints, y the simultaneous use of the Ointment and Fills. But it must be remembered that industly all skin diseases indicate the depravity of the blood and derangement of the liver and stomach consequently in many cases, time is required to purify the blood, which will be effected by a judicious use of the Fills. The general health will readily be improved, although the cruption may be driven out more freely than before, and which should be promoted; perseverance is necessary.

On the appearance of any of these maladies the Ointment should be well rubbed at least three times a day upon the neck and upper pair of the chest, so as to penetrate to the glands, as salt is forced into meat: this course will stynce fremove inflammation and ufcertation. The worst cases will yield to this treatment by following the printed directions:

This class of cases may be cured by Holloway's purifying Pills and Ointment, as their double action of purifying the blood and strengthening the system renders them more affable than any other renedy for all complaints of a scroulo nature.
