

VARIETIES.

THE BIBLE IN SARDINIA.—The Geneva correspondent of the London Christian Times, in a letter to that paper, says:— "Wishing to profit by the permission granted by the Sardinian Government with respect to admission of Bibles, the Bible Society of Geneva lately sent to Chambery two of its colporteurs, and such was the demand for the sacred volume, that in the space of a fortnight, in the two towns of Chambery and Ancey, 1500 copies of the Scriptures were sold by the colporteurs of the Bible society, and at the depot which Mr. Graydon, agent of the British and Foreign Bible Society, established at the house of the editor of the Gleaner. Of these 1500 copies, about 1000 were Bibles, and 500 Testaments—all of the French version of Sacy."

A LOCOMOTIVE was lately run, for the first time, five miles on the Egyptian railroad, much to the astonishment of the Bedouins, who galloped alongside on their fleet horses for some time, until they found they had no chance of keeping pace with the locomotive.

The following anecdote, illustrative of railroad facility, is very pointed. A traveler inquired the distance to a certain point. "Dat" pends on circumstance," replied the darkey. "If you gwine afoot, it'll take you about a day; if you gwine in the stage or de homibus, you make it in half a day; but you get in one of dose smoke wagins, you be almost 'dar now!'"

PRESERVING EGGS.—M. Appert's method of preserving eggs is to put them in a jar with bran, to prevent their braking; cork and hermetically seal the jar; put into a vessel of water, heated to 200 degrees Fahrenheit, or 12 degrees below boiling. The vessel with water being taken from the fire, the water must cool till the finger may be borne in it; remove the jar. The eggs may then be taken out, and will keep for six months.

THE BEST MEDICINE.—Good, wholesome food and temperance, with pure, cold water to drink and bathe in, with fresh air, plenty of exercise, and a clear conscience, are said to do more to restore or preserve health, and prolong life, than all the doctors and medicines in the universe.

HENS AND EGGS.—The Maine Farmer says a young hen will lay the first year about 150 eggs, the second 120, the third 100,—diminishing every year as she grows older; and she should "go to pot" after the fourth.

BEST FOOD FOR FOWLS.—By experiments lately made on a farm at Neuchâtel, in Switzerland, it has been proved that fowls to which a portion of chalk is given with their food lay eggs the shells of which are remarkable for their whiteness. Some hens, fed upon barley, would not lay well, and tore off each other's feathers. The barley was then mixed with some feathers chopped up, which the hens ate and digested freely. By adding milk to their food, they began to lay, and ceased plucking each other's feathers. Never give poultry or birds salt, or salt food; it is poisonous to them.

CRUISE SENTENCE.—The following verse contains every letter in the English alphabet except "E." It is a question whether any other English rhyme can be produced (in print) without the letter "E," which is a letter employed more than any other. By inserting the word vex instead of tax, in the second line, the verse would contain all the letters of the alphabet.

A jovial swain may rack his brain, And tax his fancy's might, To quiz his rain, for 'tis most plain That what I did was right.

A COMPARISON.—A preacher, who had once been a printer, observed in one of his sermons, that "youth might be compared to a comma, manhood to a semicolon, old age to a colon, to which death puts a period."

A SECRET is like silence—you cannot talk about it and keep it; it is like money—when once you know there is any concealed it is half discovered. "My dear Murphy," said an Irishman to his friend "why did you betray the secret that I told you?" "Is it betraying you call it? Sure, when I found I wasn't able to keep it myself, did I do well to tell it to somebody that could?"

WANTED, by an attorney, a clerk to engross people's attentions.

A MAN in Burlington advertises, "hams and cigars, smoked and unsmoked, for sale."

"DADDY, I want to ask you a question." "Well what is it son?" "Why is Smith's gin-shop like a counterfeit shilling?" "Don't know, son; why?" "Because you can't pass it," said the boy. The old man was carried off on a shutter.

Ab. Mr. Simkins, we have not chairs enough for our company," said a gay young wife to her frugal husband. "Plenty of chairs, ducky, but a little too much company."

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF LOSS OF HEALTH, DISORDERED STOMACH, INDIGESTION AND DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD. Copy of a Letter from Mr. John Lloyd, of Evesham, near Harlech, Merionethshire. To Professor HOLLOWAY.

Sir,—I avail myself of the first opportunity of informing you, that for a very long period, I was afflicted with a dangerous diarrhoea and frequent vomiting in the head, attended by loss of appetite, disordered stomach, and generally impaired health. Every means had failed to give me any permanent relief, and at length it became so alarming, that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant. In this melancholy condition, I waited personally upon Mr. Hughes, Chemist, Harlech, for the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do; he kindly recommended your Pills, I tried them without delay, and after a few days for a short time I am happy to bear testimony to their wonderful efficacy. I am now restored to perfect health, and enabled to resume my usual duties. You are at liberty to publish this letter in any way you may think proper.

I am, Sir, your obedient Servant (Signed) JOHN LLOYD. June 6th, 1852. MIRACULOUS CURE OF DROPSY. Extract of a Letter from Edward Rowley, Esq., of India Walk, Tobago, dated April 8th, 1852. To Professor HOLLOWAY.

DEAR SIR—I deem it a duty I owe to you and the public at large to inform you of a most miraculous recovery from that dreadful disease, DROPSY, and which, under God, was effected by your invaluable Pills. I was tormented five times within eight months, and skilfully treated by two medical practitioners, but could not get cured, until I had recourse to your remedy, and notwithstanding all I had undergone, this miraculous medicine cured me in the course of six weeks. (Signed) EDWARD ROWLEY.

A DANGEROUS LIVER COMPLAINT AND SPASM IN THE STOMACH EFFECTUALLY CURED. Copy of a Letter from Mr. Bostock, Druggist, of Clifton, near Bristol, dated July 14th, 1852. To Professor HOLLOWAY.

DEAR SIR—I have much pleasure in handing to you a testimonial of the efficacy of your Medicines. A person in this neighbourhood, with whom I am well acquainted, was afflicted for a long time with violent spasmodic pains in the stomach and liver, arising from frequent colds, smells of paint, and the effects of a steeping position, which he was obliged to assume in his business. The spasms were of an alarming character, and frequently left him in a weak and debilitated condition. At length he heard of the salutary effects of your invaluable Pills, and was induced to give them a trial. The first dose gave him considerable relief, and following them up in accordance with your directions, they have acted so wonderfully in cleansing the liver and stomach, and strengthening the digestive organs, that he has been restored to the enjoyment of good health.

I remain, dear Sir, your faithfully, (Signed) WILLIAM BOSTOCK. INFALLIBLE CURE OF A STOMACH COMPLAINT, WITH INDIGESTION AND VIOLENT HEAD-ACHES. Extract of a Letter from S. Gowen, Chemist, of Clifton, near Bristol, dated July 14th, 1852. To Professor HOLLOWAY.

DEAR SIR—I am requested by a Lady named Thomas, just arrived from the West Indies, to acquaint you, that for a period of eight years herself and family suffered from continual bad health, arising from disorders of the Liver and Stomach, Indigestion, loss of Appetite, violent Head-aches, pains in the side weakness and general debility, for which she consulted the most eminent men in the colony, but without any beneficial result; at last, she had recourse to your invaluable Pills, which in a very short time effected so great a change for the better, that she continued them, and the whole family were restored to health and strength. Her desire is to say, that she has witnessed their extraordinary virtues in those cases connected with children, particularly in cases of Measles and Scarletina, having effected positive cures of these diseases with no other remedy.

(Signed) S. GOWEN. These celebrated Pills are wonderfully efficacious in the following complaints. Agee Inflammation Bilious Complaints Erysipelas Liver Com. Blotches on the skin Female Irregularities Bowel Complaints Lumbago Cholera Fevers of all kinds Rheumatism Constipation of the Bowels Head-ache Scarcels, or King's Evil Secondary Symp-toms Venereal Affections Worms of all kinds Ulcers whatever cause, &c.
