THE CAUSE SUFFERS.

The temperance men and prohibitionists of Canada are pretty well disgusted with Hon. Geo. E. Foster. It is not so many years ago that he was their acknowledged leader, and his voice was heard on platforms all over the country (at $10 per night) denouncing the liquor business and all who aided or abetted it. Prohibition, he said, would come, but in the tained. "License the liquor traffic? What! license a wrong?" his voice used to shout in the City Hall. But, like many other aspiring politicians, Mr. Foster was only employing the temperance and prohibition platform and its of Mr. Foster standing on a temperance now? No, his voice is stilled by the lost in the politician. Not only is Mr. Foster entirely indifferent to the advancement of temperance sentiment, but he has openly countenanced and advocated a measure which will go a long way tothe suppression of the liquor traffic. The French treaty, which has been carried through parliament, largely by Mr. Foster's advocacy, reduces the duties on French wines and encourages their introduction and use in Canada. Every straight prohibitionist in the country was earnestly opposed to this feature of the treaty, but that made no difference to Mr. Foster.
