KNOX COLLEGE ENDOWMENT.—Rev. Wm. Burns, agent of the College, preached in Knox church last Sabbath morning and evening in behalf of the above fund. A canvass of a day and a half resulted in a subscription list of $1086. We congratulate him on his success. Mr. Postmaster Dickson is the Local Treasurer for the Endowment.

Owing to the large amount of political and other news during the past month, we have had to leave out our price list for envelopes. Our prices remain at the same low figures, however, and those in want of a good envelope at a low price, printed or unprinted, by the thousand or otherwise, are invited to call and inspect our stock at THE SIGNAL OFFICE.

S. S. ANNIVERSARY.—A successful celebration by North Street Methodist Church Sunday School.

The anniversary services in connection with the North-st. Methodist church Sunday school were held on Sunday and Monday, Dec. 19th and 20th. Special sermons were preached by the pastor, Rev. G. R. Turk, to the morning and evening sessions.

Remember how thy Creator in the days of thy youth, and in a very effective way presenting the truth to those young men and women in the evening to parents and teachers, his text being: "Train up a child in the way he should go, when he is old he will not depart from it." Mr. Turk put emphasis upon the words "should go," and very clearly brought out the fact that parents and all who had charge of children were in a very large measure responsible for their future, by allowing them to go in the way they "should go." Large congregations attended both services. On Monday evening a "tea" was served in the basement, after which the scholars adjourned to the main part of the church, where an interested audience had gathered to welcome them. After the opening exercises, a rather novel programme was entered upon. A ladder, specially constructed, was placed upon the platform, and on its seven steps were the following mottoes, commencing at the bottom: "Our Country," "Our Home," "Temperance," "Music," "Obedience," "Our Church," "Bible," and this was surmounted by a cross, and the whole being prettily decorated. Ten minute addresses were given upon each of the topics, interspersed with solos, choruses and recitations by the school, the whole affair being very successful. The school is now in a very prosperous condition, the attendance each Sunday numbering about 200. Special collections were taken up at all the services in aid of the library fund.

At the close of the programme, Miss Henderson, superintendent of the primary department, was called to the platform, where she was presented with a handsome plaque, specially constructed, and accompanied by a suitable address, in recognition of her services in connection with the school for the past three years, which now terminates, owing to her removal to the east.
