Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

The summer's swiftly gliding by, it couldn't well be feeter; and soon we'll cease to curse the day, and howl at the mosquitoes. A few more busy bustling weeks, and summer will be over! The frost will sparkle on the leaves, the sandbars and the clover! The sun, behind the winter clouds will sink, its task forgotten! And when the snow has laid the flowers, which now the fields are throwing, we'll talk of golden summer hours with tears of idle long. And that's the way we all are built; our heads are made of leather; in summer, when we're all in the sun, we're all in the sun, and when the flies of winter, when the snow and the blizzard, we wish that summer would return to thaw our frozen gizzards. I sometimes think that when we leave this world of sorrow, where people sit around and cry, and weep and anguish, we'll wear of the harp and crown and of the snowy pinions, and seek a chance to amble down to these profane dominions.

Something New in News

Quaint Journalistic Mistake our Foreign Friends Have Made.

English news as it is served up in Continental and American newspapers, is often very peculiar news. In its passage across the sea it seems to get curiously distorted. Those English journalists, in fact, whose business it is to skin the leading foreign newspapers often have an opportunity in indulging in a quiet chuckle at what they find there.

Within the last few weeks, for instance, a leading Madrid newspaper, "A. B. C.," has announced, on the authority of its London correspondent, that "Lord Asquith" has just been appointed Prime Minister, and is hard at work forming his Cabinet! Among the important persons that "Lord Asquith" has been interviewing on the subject are, it seems, Mr. Samal, lord Bauchan, and mister Kunaman. Mr. Samal is probably Sir Herbert Samuel, but who lord Bauchan and mister Kunaman are probably not even Mr. Asquith knows.

The news that America gets of us is often very quaint. Over the Correlation loss of American journals have gone badly astray. One refers to the Life Guards, "otherwise known as the Beefeaters."

Another, a great New York journal, gives us the startling information that when the foreign princes were arriving at Buckingham Palace for the reception there, the majority of the great crowd who watched them, were, we are told, "frankly to beg."

"As the carriages rolled along, their whining importunities filled the air." Many of the princes, it seems, showed coins over the heads of the Guardsmen to the "begrimed, appealing hands." Those who did not give were, we are equally gravely told, received with showers of vituperation.

Till very recently the great Paris papers were full of quaint touches about English ways and English institutions. Sir Asquith and lord Balfour are sometimes mentioned still, though the French newspapers a good deal about us.

But the Lord Mayor of London is the object of peculiar awe in the newspaper land of Paris, and is still sometimes referred to as the most powerful man in England after the King, ranking before the Prime Minister. It was only a few years ago that a leading French provincial paper, the Lyons "Passe Temps," solemnly remarked, after the drafting of the treaty between Britain and Japan, that it was rumored that the Lord Mayor would veto the project by refusing his signature. The Lord Mayor, by the way, has about as much power in International politics as a lighthouse man.

The German and the Japanese press are particularly well informed about English matters; but the Italian newspapers are often very funny when they touch on England. A Milan newspaper, giving an account of the last great raid of the Suffragettes on the House of Commons, related gravely how a determined attempt had been made to kiss "Signor Speaker," and how a bodyguard of members formed round him and escorted him to safety, "as ancient ceremonial practice." The last delicious phrase seems to imply that the rules of the House lay down exactly what is to be done whenever lady visitors show signs of wishing to kiss Mr. Speaker. If King George ever reads the "Gazette News," he is probably glad that at the Prince of Wales' investiture, an item that this Texas newspaper recently spoke of as definitely arranged, has been dispensed with. The writer of the article, with an eye on his history book, announced that the King would hold out the infant Prince to the crowd, cradled in the curve of a shield!—Answers.

Special Hints on Gas Cooking.

In addition to the above directions on the general management of gas cooking stoves, the following hints may be helpful.

The oven preheats presents the greatest difficulty to the novice; she is apt to become confused as to the arrangement and use of its gridiron shelves, composed of horizontal bars, and the solid browning shelf, as it is usually termed.

It must be remembered that the solid shelf is used to throw down the heat on to the top of the meat, pastry, cake, etc., being cooked, and thus browning them.

Therefore, when a brown surface is required, put the solid shelf as close as possible over the food being cooked, without actually touching it, and at the same time leaving room for a possible rising of the cake, bread, etc.

When any food is browning too rapidly before it is cooked through, or it is required only slightly browned, place it above the browning shelf or reduce the over heat by regulating the oven tap.

The Papal Delegate at Carbonear.

Monsignor Pellegrino Francis Stagnoli, D.D., O.S.A., Apostolic Delegate to Canada and Newfoundland, paid a visit to Carbonear on Friday afternoon accompanied by His Grace Archbishop Howley, Bishops March and Power, Monsignors Sinnott, Reardon and Veltch, Fathers Mackey, St. John Finn, Father McCarthy addressed His Excellency on behalf of the people in terms very eloquent and appropriate. His Excellency replied in the Church in language most touching, forcible and impressive, after which he gave the Papal Benediction.

After luncheon at the Rectory, the convent was visited. The town was en fête. There was a grand display of hunting on the Church grounds and from private residences, &c.

The reception was most enthusiastic. The highest praise is due to Mr. Louis Williams, the able and energetic chairman of the active and efficient committee, who all used their best efforts to make the reception a great success.

Following is the address from the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese of Harbor Grace which His Lordship Bishop March presented to His Excellency the Apostolic Delegate:—

His Excellency the Most Reverend Pellegrino Francis Stagnoli, D.D., O.S.A., Archbishop of Aquila, Apostolic Delegate.

May it Please Your Excellency,—

In the name of the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese of Harbor Grace, and in my own, I bid you a most cordial welcome to Newfoundland. The pleasure we feel in approaching you for the first time as our Apostolic Delegate is enhanced by the fact that an opportunity is thus afforded of giving expression to our fealty and devotion to the See of Rome, and our sincere and heartfelt affection for our Holy Father, Pius X. The action of the Holy See in placing the Church in this Colony under your Excellency's august embassy, opens a new era in our ecclesiastical history, and promises to eventuate in much good and permanent for the cause of our holy religion. By this order of the Congregation of the Council, Catholics are brought in closer touch with the Supreme Pontiff through the medium of his personal representative; and the seat of authority, three thousand miles away, with its unavoidable tardiness, is thereby rendered easily accessible. From this intimate union of action and counsel with Rome, hitherto unattainable, will, we feel sure, issue great and specific blessings, the magnitude of which we cannot at present estimate. We are proud to see this legislation of the Holy See to be fully conscious of its important bearing on our ecclesiastical life. They who shall be removed from it by fifty years will perceive its full proportions and see the outline of its results. We trust that Your Excellency may long be spared to discharge the responsible duties of your exalted office, and we pray you to accept the assurance of our unqualified obedience to the authority with which you are invested, and our kindly and most respectful regards for yourself personally.

On behalf of the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese of Harbor Grace,
—JOHN MARCH,
Bishop of Harbor Grace.

One Camorrist Committed to Jail Gets Two Months for Contempt of Court.

Viterbo, August 1.—The trial of the Camorrist for the murder of Gennaro Cuocolo and Senora Cuocolo was interrupted to-day while one of the prisoners was tried for contempt of court. The one to feel the displeasure of the court was Salvatore De Lucia, who was arrested by Maresciallo Capizutti, charged with having been one of those who condemned the Cuocolo to death. On examination he said he was a clerk in the employ of the White Star Steamship Line, and that he had been mistaken for another man by the authorities. In summing up his defence when interrogated at the trial he declared: "The truth is that I was arrested because I refused to buy a new dress for the wife of Maresciallo Capizutti."

When the proceedings opened to-day Capt. Fraboni, of the Neapolitan Carabinieri, was further interrogated regarding the evidence which he has given against the Camorrist. He had described De Lucia as a supporter of the Camorra, when the latter interrupted to ask how the witness knew that to be true.

Fraboni answered: "I know it from the Camorrist."

De Lucia answered insolently: "You are a Camorrist yourself."

Telegram Fashion Plates.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

9004.—LADIES' PRINCESS SLIP.

A Desirable Petticoat Slip.

With the vogue of semi-transparent dress fabrics, it becomes almost imperative to wear a slip or Petticoat underneath. It may be of silk, satin, nainsook, longcloth or sateen. It takes the place of both corset cover and undershirt. The design is simple and can be developed at home at about half the cost of a ready made slip. The pattern is cut in 8 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. It requires 8 yards of 36 inch material for the 36 inch size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Suitable materials for any of these patterns can be procured from AYRE & SONS, Ltd. Samples on request. Mention pattern number. Mail orders promptly attended to.

8992.—A SIMPLE HOUSE OR WORK DRESS.

Ladies' House or Work Dress in Princess Style, With or Without Pocket.

Pink and white checked dimity was chosen for this charming model. The spacious pockets will be found a great convenience. Gingham, percale, lawn or chambray may be used for this model, which will develop nicely without the pockets for a dainty afternoon gown. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. It requires 4 1/2 yards of 44 inch material for the 36 inch size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Harbor Grace Notes.

Mr. Roy Scott, of St. John's, is spending a holiday in town, the guest of Mr. J. G. Mann.

Mrs. G. MacKinnon, of Cochrane Dale, is on a visit to town, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. James D. Mann.

We are to have a big day here on Wednesday. A large number of Bell Island friends are coming to spend the day with us. Two steamers will bring the party along. A garden party will be held in Shannon Park in the evening, and no doubt a pleasant day will be spent.

The past three or four days have been very favourable for fish and hay making, and people who have work in the above lines have been kept busy.

About noon on Thursday last a large amount of smoke was seen rising to the northwest of the town and Sergeant Spracklin with Const. Gruchy were immediately despatched to find out the cause. Near one of the ponds a bush fire was discovered, which the officers and the driver fought to a finish. Had the fire not been put out in time much damage would no doubt have been done. It is thought carelessness on the part of troutsters or berry-pickers is responsible for the outbreak.

The lads of the Catholic Cadet Corps left by train Saturday evening for Spaniards Bay, where they had a pleasant time in the school hall there at night. Early yesterday morning the lads marched to Bay Roberts, where they attended service, returning here last evening. We hear that the Methodist Guards, now in camp at Carbonear, and our own C.C.O. will have a joint parade here on Wednesday.

A committee has been appointed to arrange for the holding of our annual Regatta, which is to take place on Wednesday, Aug. 23rd. The collectors will soon visit our townfolk for contributions, which it is thought will be as liberal as possible. We have five new boats this year, and it was whispered to us last night that the committee are determined to make the Races for 1911 far more enjoyable than any we have yet had. A liberal response from the public will do this.

Rev. W. B. Rosborough, of Bell Island, occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian Church here yesterday, the Rev. F. S. Coffin taking the service on the Island. Mr. Rosborough's services were very much enjoyed.

Some of our citizens boast of having new potatoes at their tables during the past week, and claim that they are much better than they were this time last year.

Mr. Fred McKay, of Messrs. Parker & Monroe's Shoe Factory, St. John's, spent a few days in town last week, returning to the city by Saturday evening's train. Fred likes his work in St. John's and speaks very highly of his employers and fellow employees.

Two strawberry festivals were held here last week—one in St. Paul's Hall by the ladies of St. Paul's Church on Tuesday, and one on the South Side by the ladies of St. Peter's on Thursday. Both were well patronized, and a success socially and financially.

Work on the new Marine Railway Dock is now being pushed ahead and already part of the material for its construction is on the site. It is generally believed that the dock will be a paying concern and will be availed of by people from Bonaville and Trinity Bays, as well as by schooner owners of this bay.

Mr. Mark Walsh received a letter from his son, Harrison, the other day, which greatly relieved his mind. It was known that Harrison was in the Porcupine district, where the terrible fire with its dreadful death rate lately occurred, and Mr. and Mrs. Walsh were almost hoping against hope that their son was amongst the fortunate ones who escaped. Never was a letter more welcome than that bearing the news of Harrison's safety. It seems that the place where his shack was situated had been visited by fire some time ago, and this acted as a break to stay the devouring elements in that neighborhood during the recent terrible conflagration.
