The Meeting This Evening

The meeting which has been called for to-night in the Court House to take steps to centralize and augment the subscription which people are showing themselves willing to contribute will be under the presidency of His Excellency, the Administrator, Sir William H. Wood. The speakers will be His Lordship the Bishop of Newfoundland, Rt. Rev. Mgr. Roche, V.G., Rev. Dr. Cowperthwaite, Hon.
J. R. Bennett, Acting Premier, J. M.
Kent, Esq., K.C., John S. Munn, President of the Legislative Council, and Deputy Mayor Martin, all of them occupying representative positions.

The One to Own if You Can Own But One.

That is what a critical user of a "Globe-Wernicke" cabinet says of his equipment. Another says "It leaves nothing to be desired." Another says "So complete yet so concise." Another "Perfection as a filing arrangement." Another "It is really indispensable." Another "A surprising advance in handling records." Another "A welcome improvement in office conditions"—and so on. The extensive sale of "Globe" filing cabinets in St. John's is by no means as remarkable as the abundant evidence that it is on merit alone that these devices have earned such generous appreciation. For certain when you become a user you will be well contented with your adaptable and reliable outfit. Mr. Percie Johnson has your catalogue ready for the asking as well as all other necessary details.

Willing Workers.

There are many
Willing Workers
down among the unemployed, and their lives are spent in trouble and in hardship unusually. And they cry, "It is a rank injustice that we men of willing hands must be classed with bums and hobos, with the non-productive bands.
Here we stand ask for labour, beg for work and be in vain, and there's surely something rotten with the nation's heart of brain. We are little Willing Workers and no labours would we shirk, but you make us down-and-outers, for you will not give us work." I have here-some Willing Workers, able-bodied men and strong, and they surely worked like blazes—but they always did things wrong. Oh, no odds what job they tackled, they would do it copperjawed, whether they were hoeing chickens or just spading up the soil, whether they were fixing fences or repairing buggysheds, they were willing with their muscles, but they never used their heads. And I always had to follow, follow sadly in their track, doing all their labours over with a green pain in my back. This is why the Willing Workers find this world so sad a joint; this is why the stern employers say to them, "Skidoo!
Avoid it!"

Food For Thought

This is the cheapest food in the world. Fill your thoughts for while with insurance, unless you are already covered. No thinking man neglects this protection. Think of insurance means thinking of Pecie Johnson—and his low rates—his prompt payment of claims. Why not ask for terms?—adv.t.f

At The Queen.

The performance given at the Queen Theatre last night in aid of the Marine Disaster, was well attended despite the disagreeable weather.
It only goes to show that the people of St. John's are always ready to help the needy. "Mr. Sydney Hart" who kindly offered to sing, for this worthy cause, was loudly applauded when he appeared and sang "Anchored," in a masterly manner. The programme will be repeated to-night and we hope all who could not attend last night will make an effort to do so to-night.

The Tragedy at the Floe.

It is now when the aftermath is setting in that this never-to-be-forgotten catastrophe is being more adequately realized. Yesterday business in the city was practically suspended and the grief and sympathy expressed on all sidelines looked as if the terrible affair had just commenced. In every home yesterday there was widespread sorrow for the afflicted widows and orphans who lost their breadwinners on the wing-swept floe.

Last night at every club room and hall in the city the one and only subject of conversation was the disaster while in every church on Sunday large congregations were present, and offered up prayer for those hardy sealers of the Newfoundland who succumbed in that awful blizzard.

THE SURVIVORS.

Many other survivors were interviewed but all virtually corroborated the stories told by previous survivors as published in this paper. They told how men fought with each other before death, pinched and bit the dying to keep them alive and other similar pathetic and awe-inspiring incidents that words fail to depict properly.

The bodies that were embalmed Sunday night and placed in the mortuary will be sent home to-morrow night on the S. S. Beothic. The body of Fred Hackett, of Cat Harbour will be interred here. The bodies to be sent to their respective homes in the outports are:—

D. Abbott, Dotting Cove.
Adolphus Howell, Newtown.
Robt. Brown, Fair Island.
Alpheus Dowden, Newtown.
Percy Kean, Valleyfield.
Eli Kean, Pound Cove.

No Tidings of Southern Cross.

Her Absence Causing Grave Anxiety—Cruiser Fiona Joins in Search.

Much anxiety and grave concern is being felt for the Southern Cross. Her non-arrival is causing universal alarm but there is no reason why hope should be abandoned.

Exactly a week ago this forenoon Capt. T. Connors, of the Coastal S. S.
"Fiona," passed the Southern Cross five miles W. S. W. of Cape Pine. That same afternoon the fatal blizzard came and it is believed the Southern Cross was driven off to sea a couple of hundred miles and since then has not been able to reach the land.

Ever since she was reported by Captain Connors relatives and friends of those on board have been besieging the telegraph offices in the city and out-ports and the eager information of "Have you any news of the Southern Cross?" is sought for, but, unfortunately the reply is always in the negative.

However, the Southern Cross is only a week overdue and this is not considered long by nautical men as the records will show. The crew of the Southern Cross whose names are already published belong to St. John's, Conception Harbour, Brigus, Clarke's Beach, Bay Roberts, Harbour Grace, Spaniard's Bay and St. Vincent's.

FIONA MAKES SEARCH.

Yesterday afternoon the absence of the Southern Cross was discussed by the Executive Government and it was decided to send the revenue cruiser Fiona to assist the Kyle and U. S.
Scout ship Seneca in searching for the overdue vessel. The unanimous hope is that the "Cross" will turn up all right.

Since we went to press yesterday the following wireless messages were received from the S. S. Kyle:— Colonial Secretary.
Hon. J. R. Bennett.

"Ship's position at 6.15 p.m. 52 miles S.W. by S. off Virgin Rocks, now lying to; ship's head S. E. half East, blowing a gale from S. S. E. with glitter. Saw no sail or any steamer to-day."

At 8.30 p.m. to the Reid Nfld. Co.:—
"Ran 67 miles S. W. half south from Virgin; changed course east 28 miles; 2.30 p.m. changed course N.
W. and ran 41 miles. At 6.15 p.m.
Cape Race N.N.W. 85 miles, N.E. gale with thick fleet; ship laying to."

Newfoundland Coming Home.

The S. S. Newfoundland is returning from here late trip to the ice-fields and will likely arrive here this evening. Mr. Gerald Harvey did not order the ship home as he could not communicate with her, the ship not having wireless, but he assumes that in view of the Florida coming home as ordered last evening by Bowring from that in all probability the Newfoundland is accompanying her.

AT THE MORGUE.

Crowds of people were assembled around the morgue yesterday and scores of relatives of the deceased sealers were admitted and the covers were raised from the coffins to all the relatives to view the remains.

TOUCHING SCENE.

While the morgue was receiving many visitors yesterday many sad and touching scenes occurred. Mr. Pear-of Thornburn Road, when shown the corpse of his son, William, collapsed and when he came to became inconsolable. The old man's son was of splendid physique and a fine promising young man. Later the body was removed to the late home of the deceased and will be buried to-day.

SURVIVORS RECOVERED.

The survivors show wonderful improvement daily. There are only four cases looked upon as serious. No operations will be performed before Friday or Saturday next. The am-putations necessary will be considerably less than at first apprehended.

Those at the Seamen's Institute, suffering slightly from frostbitten faces and hands, are being well cared for by the nurses in charge. The patients are getting well rapidly and it is only a matter of a few days when they will be discharged.

Songs Of The Little Villages

"Not many years ago, a French poet wrote a poem—if it may be called a poem—consisting entirely of feminine names, arranged in accordance with rhythm and rhyme. The effect was musical and not unpleas-ing. But the Rev. James D. Dollard performs with greater skill a more difficult feat in the hauntingly lovely lines we quote below. Simply a string of names—but what exquisite melody they make!" says the Literary Digest.

The pleasant little villages that grace the Irish glens, Down among the wheat-fields—up amid the whins.

The little white-walled villages crowding close together, Clinging to the Old Sod in spite of wind and weather:

Ballyloneen, Ballyporeen, Bansha, Ballygarry, Ballymagorry by the Banks of Foyle,
Ballyloneen, Ballyporeen, Bansha,
Ballysadree,
Ballybrack, Ballinalack, Barna, Bal-lyclare.

The cosy little villages that shelter from the mist,
Where the great West Walls by ocean spray are kissed;

The happy little villages that cuddle in the sun, Where blackberries ripen and the harvest work is done, Corrymeela, Croaghneela, Clogher, Cahiriveen, Cappahoe, Carrigalee, Cashel, and Coosheen.

Castlefinn and Carrigtohilly, Crumlin, Clara, Clane,
Carrigaholt, Carrigaline, CloghJordan, and Coolrain.

Leave the little villages, o'er the black seas go, Learn the stranger's welcome, learn the exile's woe, Leave the little villages but think not to forget, Afar they'll rise before your eyes to rack your bosoms yet.

Moneymore, Moneygall, Monivea, and Moynoe, Mullinahone, Mullinahave, Mullagh, and Mooncoin, Shanagolden, Shanballymore, Stran-oriar, and Slane, Toberheena, Toomyvara, Tempo and Strabane.

On the Southern Lianes—north where strange light gleams, Many a yearning exile sees them in his dreams: Dying voices murmur (passed all pain and care),
"Lo the little villages, God has heard our prayer."

Lisdoonvarna, Lisadill, Lisdargan, Lisnaskea,
Portlone, Portlauring, Portumna, Portmagee, Clondalkin, and Clongowan, Clonfarn, and Clonara.

God bless the little villages and keep them night and day!
