FRENCH ENLARGE POSITIONS.

North of the Somme the French enlarged their positions opposite Combles and stormed new trenches south of Priez, says the official statement to-night. After desperate attacks the Germans recaptured a farm in Labbe Wood and Hill 76, but both were retaken by the French, who maintained all their gains on the centre and on the right. Total captures yesterday and to-day were 2,300 prisoners, 10 guns and 40 machine guns. GENERAL SITUATION UNCHANGED

LONDON, Sept. 13. The War Office communication is-sued this evening says concerning the fighting on the British front in France the general situation continues un-changed. An attack made last night on our lines from the region of Mo-quet Farm was stopped by our fire, and the enemy driven back to his trenches with considerable loss. Hostile artillery activity is normal.

SERBIAN OFFICIAL.

SALONIKA, Sept. 13. The Serbian official issued to-day says: A violent artillery duel was started by the Serbs yesterday, and Serbian infantry at many points ex-pelled the Bulgars from the advanced positions occupied by them. The Bulgars' counter attacks in the course of the night were completely repulsed. Serbian attacks carried out during the night were successful.

NO PRISONERS TAKEN.

LONDON, Sept. 13. The Bulgarian troops which took the Danube fortress of Silistria, in Roumania, the capture of which was announced by the German war office on Sunday, apparently did not take as prisoners any considerable number of Roumanians. The official Bulgarian statement of September 11th received here to-day, says the Roumanians retired on both sides of the Danube pursued by our cavalry. Although this translation of the Bulgarian statement is taken literally to indicate that the Bulgarians forced the passage of the Danube, it is improbable the Bulgarian war office meant to convey this meaning. The Bulgarian report the following day makes no mention of any such opera-

GERMAN VALUE OF ZEP RAIDS. BERLIN, Sept. 13.

Capt. Persius, naval expert of the Berliner Tageblatt says the value of the airship attacks on England consists in damaging the military means of our most dangerous enemy. Bombs may be thrown upon fortified places, airships, munitions and workshops, as well as upon places of economic importance such as railways, docks, wharves, coal and oil depots, electric-ity and gas, works and buildings used for meteorological purposes, when in military hands, as for instance, the Greenwich Observatory. The measures of defence in England demand unchanged a number of military persons and ent, in remuch material and numberless aviators are engaged in anti-aircraft de-fence. Special guns, much ammuni-tion, searchlights and aeroplanes have been created for the purpose of warding off these attacks. Even if only ing off these attacks. Even if only little damage is done, great alarm is created, everything is disarranged, causing disturbance and delay, especially in harbor works. Attacks cause anxiety, and furthermore, all kinds of organizations, as for instance the transport of men or material to the continent, are delayed.
