TRUST THE ADMIRALTY.

LONDON, To-day. Carson, First Lord of the Admiralty, referred to Germany's new submarine campaign in a letter excusing himself from addressing the war loan meeting last night, on account of indisposition. He wrote:—"We are threatened with increasing acts of barbarity on the high seas by the enemy who has long substituted the practice of pirates for the laws of nations. I do not delude myself, nor will I attempt to delude you about the dangers of the German submarine campaign. These ruthless and inhuman attacks upon the peaceful shipping of the world have created for us and our Allies a problem as difficult as it is grave. But at least I can say. The problem will be grappled with day and night by the Admiralty with tirelessness and vigor, and hourly anxieties only stir us on to greater increasing effort."

BRITISH CRUISER ATTACKED BY SUB.

BUENOS AYRES, To-day. The British cruiser Amethyst, one of a squadron searching for the German raider in the South Atlantic, was attacked by a submarine, according to the Pernambuco newspaper Journal Pequeno, but repelled the attack. The cruiser then touched at Pernambuco to repair. Although the extent of the damage is not exactly known, the newspaper declares that the British Consul admitted an attack of a submarine on the Amethyst, although the ship bore no evidence of having been in the engagement.

EMBARGO RAISED.

NEW YORK, To-day. The Collector of the port, Malone, decided last night to modify his order under which ships were forbidden to leave port after night fall, and several vessels were permitted to pass quarantine. Every ship was stopped, however, by the torpedo boat destroyer assigned to enforce neutrality and subjected to a thorough examination. Only two of the steamships which sailed last night carried munitions.

RAIDER REPORTED SUNK.

RIO JANEIRO, To-day. Persistent reports have been received by newspapers here that the German raider has been sunk in an engagement with a British squadron.

DANISH STEAMERS TO DISCONTINUE.

COPENHAGEN, To-day. Danish export steamers carrying agricultural products and mail to England will discontinue their sailings, as will ships of various other companies.

AMERICANS RELEASED.

Five Americans, including a negro, were aboard the British steamer Yarrowdale, which was captured by a German raider in the South Atlantic. The men had been interned in Germany, but were released and sent to Copenhagen. They are now being forwarded to England by the British Consul.

SPANISH PRO-GERMANS THINK SITUATION GRAVE.

PARIS, To-day. A Havas despatch from Madrid says that even the Germanophile Press characterizes the Central Empire's blockade note as a document of real gravity and calls upon the people to group themselves around the Government and lend aid without reserve in the conflicts that are bound to present themselves.

U. S. ACTION DETERMINED.

WASHINGTON, To-day. The United States' action in reply to Germany's proclamation of unrestricted submarine warfare has been definitely determined by President Wilson, according to the official belief.

here to-day. What the course is, or when it will be announced remains undisclosed. The White House and State Department maintained strict secrecy, as on former occasions when a note had been despatched to Berlin.

GERMAN CHANCELLOR UNMASKED.

LONDON, To-day. The Times says that there is nothing surprising in the German note to those who are nearest the war. It contends that the communication is merely the logical application of the principle upon which Germany has acted from the outset, namely that necessity knows no laws. The Times sees in the speech of Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg proof that his real attitude on the submarine question has been consistent throughout. Although in his dealings with the United States he has sometimes sacrificed his principles to expediency, he now proclaims, says the Times, that he was always ready to adopt a ruthless U-boat war as soon as it seemed likely to bring Germany a victorious peace; so he flings aside the pretence of humanity unctuously affected in his former notes to President Wilson.

NOT AFRAID OF FRIGHTFULNESS.

PARIS, To-day. Rear-Admiral Lacaze, Minister of Marine, speaking in the Senate yesterday declared that only one half of one per cent of all tonnage which entered French ports during the last eleven months have been sunk by German submarines. He said that this percentage might be a little higher in the future, but that no efforts of the Germans could prevent the final victory of the Allies. The Admiral added, the Germans are trying to do now what they always have done. The world ought to know that they have endeavored to terrify us since the beginning of the war. Disregarding the engagements they made at the Hague they have not hesitated to throw crews and passengers into frail boats and abandon them to the waves and tempests far from any coast. In a great many cases even recently, a number of their victims who could not be reached in time died of hunger, thirst and cold.

THEY WILL SOON BE ENLIGHTENED.

BERLIN, To-day. The attitude of the German people in respect to the new submarine policy, so far as ascertained to-day from conversations with persons in various walks of life, is that the inauguration of an unrestricted submarine campaign is dictated by stern necessity and for self-preservation and that in such a life and death struggle no regard can longer be paid to other considerations. The all absorbing question in every discussion concerns the attitude of America.

GERMAN ATTACKS FAIL.

PARIS, To-day. French trenches south of Leintry in Lorraine were attacked last evening by the Germans. The attacks failed, the War Office announcement says to-day.

WILL WAIT GOVERNMENT INSTRUCTIONS.

NEW YORK, To-day. The owners of American vessels in Transatlantic trade probably will follow the example of the ship owners of the Entente nations and abide by the instructions of their Governments in regard to running the risks of the new German blockade regulations. They awaited to-day the reply of the State Department to a message sent by P. A. S. Franklin, President of the International Mercantile Marine, seeking advice as to movements of steamships of the American Line. No passenger steamers have left New York for Europe since the declaration of the German blockade, but several freight ships sailed yesterday and last night.

JOINT SELECT COMMISSION.

The postponed meeting of the Joint Select commission of the Legislature, which was to take place yesterday, will be held in the Speaker's room at 5 p.m. to-day.

NOTHING DOING YET.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Secretary of State Lansing authorized the statement to-day that so far no communication had been sent to Germany.

A Dream.

The other night I had a dream, I dreamed I saw a land Where all was peaceful, all did seem Happy on every hand. I thought I saw the farmers till The land, and sow the seeds; They did their work with right good will. Their work supplied their needs. I saw the men go out to sea, The toilers of the deep; I saw them go ere break of day, While others were asleep. In fact all things I saw in dreams Showed plainly happy life, A life so glad and free, it seemed, Knowing no war nor strife. That land of peace was France; I thought, It seemed the war was o'er; Their liberty the men had bought, They had to fight no more. I have but dreamed; yet wake to know 'Tis dreams as yet untrue; Daily men to the trenches go, Freedom to buy for you! —E.L.B.

CARE OF THE BODY. The doctor considers the body a house that needs constant care. If one neglects her house dust and dirt gather in every corner. And because a famous actress loves her art she has persisted in adhering to the rules of her beauty trinity—diet, exercise and bathing. The extreme grace and ease of her little movements are not characteristic of many women of even thirty years. She has no sympathy with the woman who takes a hot soapy bath each day—and wonders why she is listless and inert. She herself makes the bath a source of invigoration.

Here is the recipe for a beneficial herb bath: Barley—two pounds; Rice, one pound; pulverized Lupin. Seed, three pounds; Bran, six pounds; Oatmeal, two pounds; Lavender, half pound. Cover this mixture with water and boil for an hour. Strain and add two quarts of this decoction to bath water in which are previously dissolved one ounce of borax and one of bicarbonate of soda. Rub the body with a rough towel and use a flesh brush vigorously. She believes this herb bath is unequalled for softening, whitening and preserving the flesh. She usually drinks a cup of warm milk or a frothy, beaten raw egg just after the bath in order to relieve any faintness of the stomach. After the theatre the famous actress always eats a light supper of simple food and has a rub-down. Rather than use impure soap she will use dried rosemary. She believes that a few handfuls of cowslips in the bath water help to make the flesh firm and that a warm salt rub restores as much vitality as three hours of sleep.

For three years the little son of G. Romanello, of Edenbridge, suffered with a bad attack of eczema, which everything failed to cure until they used Zam-Buk. The father, writing to the Zam-Buk Co., says: "For three years my little son suffered with a severe attack of eczema, which many doctors pronounced incurable. For two years the sores on his eyes and forehead were so bad that he was unable to see. We tried everything, but without any benefit and he was in a shocking condition when Rabbi Shaitiff recommended Zam-Buk. This wonderful ointment has entirely cured my boy, and I cannot express my gratitude for his marvelous recovery." Zam-Buk is also unequalled for ringworm, scalp sores, salt rheum, old wounds, blood-poisoning, piles, burns, cuts, scalds, and all skin injuries. Etc. box 3 for $1.25. All druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send 1c. stamp for postage on FREE trial box.

Messages Received Previous to 9 A.M.

WATCHING WASHINGTON. LONDON, Feb. 1. The eyes of the British and of all Europe are to-day focussed on Washington, as it is recognized that the question whether the United States will be finally drawn into the European war is being decided there. Not only the policy of the United States but of the neutral European nations is also being largely determined at Washington. From Spain, Holland and Scandinavian countries messages to the English papers say they are waiting for the lead which the United States will give before framing their reply to the German announcement of unfettered maritime war against all cargo ships approaching her enemies' coasts. British officials have declined to speak for publication on the crisis, lest any utterances might be construed in the United States as an officious attempt to influence the American policy, or intrude upon the problem, which they recognize is purely one between a neutral nation and the Central Powers. Two theories are current here and are being warmly discussed. One is that the Central Powers expect to starve out Britain and her allies by unrestricted sea warfare, and that they consider they have done more by trying to shut off American supplies of munitions and food than by continuing friendly relations. The second is that the Central Dynasties consider that at the present moment they may best serve their own interests with their people by bringing upon themselves the hostility of neutral nations and saying they cannot fight the whole world. At no previous stage of the war since the sinking of the Lusitania has the development of the American policy been watched and so curiously awaited. Every news message from the United States, however brief, or however indefinitely worded, is devoured by the public and debated as to its significant bearing in newspaper offices and in the streets.

Dear Sir.—The enclosed letter has just come to hand and as we know that there are many lovers of children in Newfoundland we thought it might interest them to know that the Chaplain is the Children's own Chaplain, although now looking after the soldiers. That makes it very specially interesting to us, because, well, he must love children, and he must love music too. So please help us to help Mr. Phipps to have the electrical power blower. That is really a very important part of an organ, no wind no music.

With love from your little friends, Diana and Daphne Davidson. P.S.—We may mention that a friend studying at Burlington College, London, S.W., tells us that to their pleasure it was the Newfoundland Sailors who wrote and thanked them for socks and mitts they had knitted. And also some poor Newfoundland soldiers.

3rd London General Hospital, Royal Victoria Patriotic Schools Wandsworth, S.W., London. January 13th, 1917. Dear Misses Diana and Daphne Davidson. I learn from "The Daily News," St. John's, Newfoundland, that you have very kindly appealed to the children of Newfoundland to assist in providing an organ for the use of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan daughters who after the war will return to the Royal Victoria Patriotic School now a temporary hospital for wounded soldiers. It will interest you to know that the donations already received amount to £250. In addition to this the Carnegie United Kingdom Trust has made a grant of £320. After several interviews with Sir Frederick Bridge the Organist of Westminster Abbey, I have accepted the estimate of the well known firm of Messrs. Hill Son, Norman and Beard, to erect an Organ for £580. It will be hand blown and thus further donations come in and thus enable us to substitute electrical power.

In normal times 300 girls live in the school. Probably when the war is over, this number will be considerably added to as there will be so many orphans (made by his great war) waiting for admission. I am their Chaplain and therefore do naturally take a keen interest in them. I hope you will some day come to our beautiful chapel and see the very impressive spectacle of 300 girls ranging from 7 to 16 years of age clad in scarlet cloaks, worshipping God.

You write of the Newfoundland boys' appreciation of the 3rd London General Hospital. I can assure you that we Chaplains have been most favourably impressed with the Soldiers from Newfoundland. You have good reason to be proud of them. From no part of this great Empire of ours, have come more loyal, more earnest and God-fearing men than from Newfoundland.

Thanking you most heartily for your practical sympathy with "Our Organ Fund." I beg to subscribe myself, Yours very truly, (Sgd.) J. SAMPSON PHIPPS, C.F. Government House, 1 February, 1917. To Editor of Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—Kindly let us tell our friends through your paper that we are closing the Organ Fund from the Children of Newfoundland to the Wandsworth Hospital, which is in good old Peace times an Orphanage for Soldiers' and Sailors' children. We have just Seventeen Dollars ($17.00) and we believe over a thousand of our own lads have passed through that Hospital, and how they praised it too.

Should any of our friends wish to send a gift however small it will be gratefully acknowledged by Your little friends, DIANA AND DAPHNE. Please Address: Organ Fund, c/o Misses Davidson, Government House, St. John's.

OPENING.—The Barber's Shop at the top of Prescott St. will be open for business to-morrow (Saturday) morning at 8 o'clock. H. WALSH.—Feb 2, 11

Train Notes. The belated express with the Kyle's passengers is due at 3 p.m. to-day. To-day's incoming express left Port aux Basques at 9.30 a.m. to-day. The mail and freight left Little River at 9.29 a.m. to-day, coming east. The Trepassay train reached the city at 11.45 a.m. to-day. Stafford's Drug Store (Theatre Hill) is open every night till 9.30.—Jan 2, 17

Hr. Grace Notes.

Messrs. W. Simmons and Frank Jones were among the passengers who left by this morning's train. They go to Sydney, the former to resume work in the wire mill and the latter to take up some other work.

Another of our old and most highly esteemed citizens—Capt. J. J. Hennessy—passed away on Monday last after a long illness. Capt. Hennessy was a sea-faring man in every particular, and commenced that calling when very young. He had reached the age of 77 years. We tender our sympathy to the sorrowing relatives.

Mr. Patrick Northcott, an old resident of Bryant's Cove, passed away at that place yesterday morning at the age of 80 years. He was well known in Hr. Grace and much respected.

President Coaker and Dr. Lloyd paid a visit yesterday to the Local Council of the F.P.U. here and at 7.30 last night the members, to the number of about 250, left their hall accompanied by the visitors and attended a parade through the streets, going down Harvey Street and on to Water Street by way of Cochrane Street, then back to the Hall. They were then addressed by President Coaker and Dr. Lloyd, who were listened to with keen interest and rapt attention.

The S.S. Euphrates arrived from St. John's yesterday morning with the schr. Minnie Maud in tow.

Quite a snow storm raged last night, and as a result banks of snow are now to be seen in different parts of the town. Snow-shovellers are not sorry as they are not making hay while the sun shines, but making dollars while the snow lasts.

The Sock Social held by St. Catherine's Guild in St. Paul's Hall on Tuesday night was very enjoyable and a success financially. CORRESPONDENT. Hr. Grace, Feb. 1, 1917.

Dramatic Feast at Rossleys.

They certainly know how to impersonate French Canadians, was the general verdict of the audience concerning Fox and Carr's act, as they left Rossley's British Theatre last night. Appearing in an act in which they depict the peculiar characteristics of the French Canadian farmers and lumber jacks. They gave a splendid delineation of the late Dr. Drummond's splendid creations that was indeed a rare treat.

"Leetle Dominique," "The Cure of Calumette" and "De Nice Leetle Canadians," were all given with exquisite expression, and not only was the accent and manner of the back woods farmer of Quebec faultlessly portrayed, Mr. Fox not only proved himself an actor of rare ability, but in his curtain speech at the close of the act handed out a bit of advice that should be followed by theatre goers in general. "Don't ask your neighbor how the show was," he said "see it for yourself," and that is the very best advice the writer can offer, for the performance is certainly worthy the patronage of all lovers of high class entertainment. "In the Moon's Rays" by the Essany Co. in two parts is a fine social drama and well worth seeing. "Taking a chance" by the Selig players, a strong Western Drama, and the "Tank Town Troupe" a Ham Comedy by the Kaleem is a scream with Ham and Edd in the leading roles. On Monday a first class comedy will be presented by Fox and Carr "Married by Telephone," in which Mrs. Rossley and Miss Bonnie Rossley will take part.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.—The enterprising firm of F. J. Roll & Co., have added a Financial Department to their already extensive business. In this new branch they will handle the sale and purchase of Debentures, stocks, Bonds and mortgages. We feel certain they will receive the patronage from the public that their enterprise deserves.

City Fathers Will Make Special Effort to Collect Arrears.

The regular weekly session of the Municipal Board was held last night and was an unusually brief one.

The Council's accounts showed that $23,000 of last year's taxes remained unpaid at the end of the past year. This amount added to the outstanding arrears for many years up to January, 1916, made an aggregate of approximately $70,000. A special effort will be made by the Council to collect taxes that are due. When the new Charter comes into being, the law will be strictly enforced.

Particulars regarding the death of Denis Sullivan were asked for by The Newfoundland Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance Co. Will be supplied by the Secretary.

On recommendation of the Public Health Officer, J. Anderson was given permission to build a stable on Hamilton Street.

The reports of the Engineer, Plumbing Inspector and Waste Water Inspector were read and adopted.
