Cecil Says League of Nations Very Much Alive.

Germans do Not Like Army of Occupation.

LEAGUE VERY MUCH ALIVE.

GENEVA, Nov. 17.

"Very much alive" is the condition of the League of Nations as shown by the report of the Executive Council, Lord Robert Cecil, of England, sitting as a delegate from South Africa, declared in to-day's session of the League here speaking on the report made by the Council to the Assembly.

Lord Robert remarked that while it has been said in some countries that the League is dead, the Council's report shows it to be very much alive. Referring to criticism of the League that it was spending all its time getting ready to do something, Lord Robert said that a machine to work well must be set up well. He considered the report showed great progress had been made.

HIS CHANCES ARE DIMINISHING.

PARIS, Nov. 17.

The chances of ex-King Constantine's return to the throne of Greece are steadily diminishing, according to opinion in French circles, as the anti-Venizelos party in Athens is coming to realize the strength of allied opinion against such restoration.

TINO SPEAKS.

LUCERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 17.

Former King Constantine made his first pronouncement expressing his attitude in the light of the Greek elections to the Associated Press to-day. "I cannot go to Athens at the head of any one political party and therefore insist upon a plebiscite for my return or the return of one of my sons," he declared. "It is for the Greek people to decide. If the people want me I shall return to Athens, unless of course prevented by unjust force."

PRO-TINO.

ATHENS, Nov. 17.

It is believed here that the Allies will make known to Greece their intention not to recognize Constantine should the ex-King be restored to the throne. "Constantine is our rightful King," former Premier Gounaris, leader of the successful party in the Greek elections, told a correspondent to-day, "and we expect him back as soon as a plebiscite is held showing that the people want him." We expect to assume the government in a day or two," continued Gounaris, "when the results of the election become official. We shall quickly call the Chamber and have the plebiscite. It was the intention of Constantine to return after the plebiscite, and I have no message so far from him that he is coming earlier."

DOES NOT APPROVE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.

The British Embassy to-day notified the Committee of one hundred investigating conditions in Ireland, that it did not approve of the purposes to be served or the methods to be followed in the Committee's hearing to begin to-morrow and that, therefore it could not accept the Committee's invitation to have a representative present. The Embassy's reply addressed to Oswald Garrison Villard, Editor of the Nation who appointed the Committee, declared that the only outcome of the inquiry would be the spread of propaganda and that there was nothing in the composition of the Committee itself to remove from it the idea that it was not impartial or prejudiced in advance.

PARIS WORKMEN ATTEMPT TO SEIZE FACTORY.

PARIS, Nov. 17.

Shots were exchanged when a crowd of workmen and sympathizers this afternoon again attempted to storm Blarlot factory, which was guarded by a cordon of police, who had been placed at the plant after the attempt made by dismissed workers yesterday to storm the plant, which closed down recently, throwing two thousand persons out of work. The police, reports state, opened fire when shots from the direction of the crowd wounded policemen. Two workmen were wounded, one of them seriously.

A VEILED THREAT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.

A veiled threat that the permits granted for the landing of the Western Union cables in the United States will be revoked unless the company continues to accord the United States Government the same privileges that it accords British and other Governments in handling cable messages, is contained in a formal statement issued to-day by the State Department.

WILSON'S HOPES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.

President Wilson in a message sent to-day to Paul Mymans, President of the League of Nations' Assembly at Geneva, Switzerland, extended his personal greetings to the assembly, and expressed the hope and belief that their labors will be of immense value to the whole civilized world. The message was an acknowledgment of one to Pres. Wilson, conveying an expression of sympathy voted President Wilson unanimously upon the opening of the Assembly of the League last Monday.

UKRAINIANS FLEE BEFORE BOL-SHEVIKI.

WARSAW, Nov. 17.

Ukrainians have evacuated Kiev and other towns they had occupied and are fleeing before the new Russian Soviet offensive. Bolshevik cavalry has swept through Ukrainian lines at various points.

A GERMAN PROTEST.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.

Allied armies of occupation in Germany are being maintained at strength which is unnecessary, said Foreign Ministers Simmonds in a speech at Cologne to-day. He contended that the Allies intention in thus keeping their forces in a high state of efficiency was not defensive but offensive.

DUE TO MISUNDERSTANDING.

WARSAW, Nov. 17.

Lithuanian troops fired on members of the League of Nations Control Committee as they were crossing "No Man's Land" from General Zeliggouski's lines to those of the Lithuanians, according to dispatches received here to-day. The members of the Commission were carrying a white flag. The Lithuanian commander said the firing was due to misunderstanding.

DISAGREE OVER RUSSIA.

LONDON, Nov. 17.

The Cabinet to-day held a long session, again discussing the question of opening of trade relations with Soviet Russia. Premier Lloyd George and Bonar Law and other members of the Cabinet were understood to be pressing for resumption against the opposition of Earl Curzon, Foreign Secretary, Winston Churchill, Secretary of War, and Austin Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who fear it would be difficult to enforce the provision in the proposed agreement that the Bolsheviks cease their propaganda against Great Britain. They desire to meet again with Leonid Krassin, Soviet Representative, and endeavour to get from him further assurances on the propaganda question. It is reported the Russians will agree to recognize Russian debts owed to the British Government, and British individuals with long term payment, but that part of the negotiations has not yet been reached.

For years I have never considered my stock of household remedies complete unless a bottle of Minard's Liniment was included. For burns, bruises, sprains frostbites or chilblains it excels, and I know of no better remedy for a severe cold in the head, or that will give more immediate relief, than to inhale from the bottle through the nasal organ.

And as to my supply of veterinary remedies it is essential, as it has in very many instances proven its value. A recent experience in reclaiming what was supposed to be a lost section of a valuable cow's udder has again demonstrated its great worth and prompts me to recommend it in the highest terms to all who have a herd of cows, large or small. I think I am safe in saying among all the patent medicines there is none that covers as large a field of usefulness as does Minard's Liniment. A real truism good for man or beast.

CHAS. K. ROBBINS, Chebogue Point, N.S.

Silver lace and rose tulle are an exquisite combination.

AT THE TOP.

It's buckling in and fighting hard that gets a fellow through.

It's giving all your thought and strength to do what you have to do.

Oh, there's no idler's road to fame, no care-free way to win.

The man who wants to reach the top must have a stern set chin;

The summit of success is fine and much there is to see there.

But he who'd climb up to the crest, must prove his right to be there.

You cannot feign the touch of skill, nor glory's gods deceive.

The indolent or cunning hand no lasting joys achieve;

Though sham may seem to prosper here, there always comes the test

When only they survive who give their noblest and their best;

A man must climb the mountain heights, nor are the glories free there.

Who stands with men of strength and skill, must prove his right to be there.

Life sorts the false men from the true, the crooked from the straight.

No man shall wear the wreath of fame save he be truly great;

Real merit has no counterfeit, when by the test 'tis tried.

If it does not deserve to win it's quickly thrown aside;

So work your way and earn your way—you shall receive the fee there

When you have reached the mountain top, if you've a right to be there.

Fashions and Fads.

Suit coats are longer.

Tunics are slightly circular.

Back panels often form trains.

The low waistline may be outlined with thread lines of skunk.

Pearls and lapis beads girdle a cardinal-colored chiffon creation.

A number of Paris gowns feature the Victorian drop shoulder.

Only for afternoon wear is the short sleeve smart.

Short skirts, narrow at the hem, are still the vogue.

If you would be smart, wear a bandeau on your hair.

The transparent veil is worn thrown back over the hat.

Coat collars are huge, and preferably of fur.

Bangles and bracelets adorn bare arms.
