The Battalion, paraded in good strength Tuesday, with a total of 124 all ranks on duty.

The Finance Committee, under the chairmanship of Lieut-Col. W. F. Rendell, held a conclave on finances. All departments had their representatives. Mrs. W. H. Hynes, Secretary of the Ladies' Auxiliary, also was present. The Committee requires funds to balance their budget and reminds all Honourary Members of the Brigade that Lieut-Col. Rendell and Major Outerbridge would be pleased to receive their contributions for 1924. Capt. Stuck, Adjutant, is arranging another "Sag" Card Party on the 10th November, the evening before St. Martin's Day, Nov. 11th.

Other departments are speeding up on the balance of their budget amounts, due the Treasury. The Staff have every confidence in making accounts balance if all ranks and their friends respond as usual. Thursday last, Sergt. Major Dowling, M.M., was busy with a Company lads giving instruction in first aid, including fractures, pressure points, etc. The lads are keen to learn and are making good progress.

Grand Falls reports for September, with 75 on the roll and an average attendance of 27. Regular parades are held on Mondays and Saturdays. Saturday evenings are devoted to gymnastics and games. Two new bugles and a drum are being sent them. Pte. J. J. Embery is on leave. We are glad to welcome Corporal Berg back to the city from Boston. He has been in Rhode Island and Boston the past two years. Capt. Sheppard, O.C. of Portugal Cove, visited the city last week and reports his company going strong, and all lads as keen as mustard in drill and gymnastics.

Under date of October 18th, we hear Major R. H. Tait, M.C., now editor of The Newfoundland Weekly, in Boston, U.S.A. and formerly Adjutant of the C.L.B. is improving rapidly from his recent operation and hoped to be out of hospital in a few days. All his pals at headquarters are glad to hear that he is convalescent and send him their best wishes.

Stars Brighter Than Ten Thousand Suns

Stars in the Magellanic Clouds are greater in size and in brightness than any of the giant stars heretofore known to astronomers, according to Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard College Observatory. Many of these stars are believed to excel the far-famed red giants, Betelgeuse and Antares, and in diameter probably approach the diameter of the orbit of Jupiter, some 669,600,000 miles. Says Science Services Daily Science News Bulletin (Washington):

"Extensive photometric work has led finally to the determination of the distance of the Small Magellanic Cloud. Similar investigations are under way for the Large Cloud. These stellar systems, visible only in southern latitudes, derive their name from descriptions given four hundred years ago by the navigator Magellan. They look like the Milky Way. Only this year has it been possible to give a decisive value for the magnitudes to measure the distance and dimensions of the system. It is now found that the diameter of this Cloud is sixty-five hundred light years. The distance from the earth is thirty-two kiloparsecs, which is equivalent to a little over a hundred thousand light years. A star of the luminosity of our sun would at this distance be if the twenty-third magnitude. Stars as faint as our sun in this cloud, however, are far beyond the range of modern telescopes.

"The studies of brightness on the Harvard photographs, which were made at the Arequipa station in Peru, go down only to the stars of the eighteenth century. More than half a million stars that are at least a hundred times as luminous as our sun are contained in the Small Magellanic Cloud. A few hundred of them have each more than ten thousand times the solar brightness.

"The very brightest of the supergiants are shown by photographs of their spectra to be of the redder classes of color.

Greatest Film of Its Kind Ever Made

IS "NANOOK OF THE NORTH" AT NICKEL TO-MORROW.

To-morrow St. John's will see the most marvelous screen story that has ever projected in a local theatre. Read what a noted critic says about the film:

"Nanook of the North" was produced on the East Coast of Hudson Bay for Revillon Freres by Robert J. Flaherty, a fellow of the Royal Geographic Society and a noted explorer and engineer. It is a picture that defies classification. It is not the adaptation of a "story" in the accepted sense of the word, yet it has drama—the drama of life where mere existence is a continual battle against the forces of nature in their most cruel form. It is not a scenic in the accepted sense of that word even though its scenic splendors are magnificent, because it is a real, true human document. It cannot be placed under the general head of an educational, but it brings the South up to and through the door of the vast North and shows how it lives.

It is a stark, staring disclosure of the holy life known to the Eskimo, a race of people that endures the greatest hardships, knows only the severest climate and has the least advantages of any other, and yet is probably the happiest among all the races. And you laugh with them. It is the drama of a slice of the life of the Eskimo, the great hunter, and his continual struggle to feed his little family. It has vital interest for everyone. "Nanook of the North" is a screen classic.

"Nanook of the North" is the first picture of its kind to reach our screens. It is distinctive and different to say the least. It is a cross section of reasonable life of the Eskimo that, it should be repeated, is saturated with drama and supplied with humor, although there is no plot in the accepted sense.

"Big Family" Prize Goes to Father, Who Has Twelve to Feed

PARIS, Oct. 21.—The "big family" prize of 25,000 francs has been awarded by the French Academy, at former Premier Poincare's request, to Devouste Dubreuil, whose family has been struggling against the high cost of living with ten small mouths to feed.

The children include quadruplets—two boys and two girls—born during the war, for whom M. Poincare, who was then President of France; King Albert of Belgium; King George of England, and the Empress of Russia were God-fathers and God-mother. M. Poincare induced the Academy and the multi-millionaire founder of several score such annual prizes to waive the rules which limit the awards to families in which the parents are under 40 years of age. Dubreuil is 63.

Hallowe'en Card Party and Dance

A most enjoyable Hallowe'en Card Party and Dance, under the auspices of the T.A. Ladies' Auxiliary, was held last night in the T.A. Hall. First on the night's programme was the card party, and a large number of players participated, the prizes being won by Mr. L. Kennedy and Mrs. Summers. Could Canon was next served by the ladies, and was in no small way responsible for the evening's pleasure. After the tables had been cleared away dancing was begun to the music of the C.C.C. Orchestra and continued until an early hour this morning. The stimulation dance was won by Mr. L. Mackay and Miss Lowth, and as the "witch" called on the many dancers and paid her hallowe'en respects, she provided no end of amusement.

Nature's Danger Signals

Nervousness, melancholia, backache, headache and pain in the side are all nature's danger signals which indicate some ailment peculiar to a woman. When such warning symptoms appear women may avoid much pain and suffering if they will rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as its tonic, strengthening influence speedily removes the cause and restores the system to a healthy normal condition.

MUTT AND JEFFA. MUTT DISCOVERS HOW HE STANDS WITH HIS PAL JEFF.*Mrs. Asquith

and Mussolini

Mrs. Asquith has been to see Mussolini in Rome, and tells the story in the London Magazine:—

"I have an unblemished mind, and have seen too many pocket Napoleons and public favorites to be easily imposed upon, and I left the Palazzo Chigi feeling I had seen a very rare man. No one can doubt that Mussolini, in spite of fundamental defects, has done great things for Italy. My fear for him would be that, like all converts, or perverses, his new Faith may make him forgetful of his old, and this is a great danger. Repression is not power.

He wore grey whipcord knee-breeches and black top boots, and has a well-knit, muscular figure. His eyes are very fine and every part of him—from his hair to his hands—expresses life, added to which he has one of the most beautiful voices I have ever heard. I was surprised to find him so unself-conscious, easy and humorous, and above all so courteous."

Electing a King of Trees

In the "Nouvelles Littéraires," M. Brasseur gives the result of the inquiry opened by the Society of Tree Lovers with the purpose of electing a king of trees.

"The oak obtained the greatest number of votes, far more than any other tree," says the writer, "and the pine comes next. A curious point is that none of the trees chosen by our correspondents, oak, pine, fir, cypress, willow, and so on, bears any notable fruits. Nobody mentioned such trees as the cherry tree, the orange tree, the apple or the pear tree.

"Our people are all idealists; they
