LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—He sings, the poet of to-day, Of saints or kings no lavish lay, He checks his verse and his hope To connect eulogies of soap.

—Mrs. Slack, of this city, left for Winnipeg yesterday.

—About the only thing some men ever see in this life is "where they missed it."

—A large dog lies dead on Queen's avenue near St. Andrew's Church. It ought to be buried at once.

—Mr. Boston, M. P. for South Middlesex, was an interested spectator in the gallery of the Ontario Legislature yesterday.

—Sept. H. T. Smith, of the street railway, left for Toronto this morning to take a much-needed rest. He will be the guest of his son while in Toronto.

—Mr. Macklin, of London, was in Brussels on Monday, and on the evening of that day organized a council of the Canadian Protective Association. (Brussels Post.)

—Miss Phelps held the attention of her audience for fully an hour, and delivered a most interesting address, showing that she had a deep knowledge of the temperance question and a wide experience. (Toronto World.)

—The death is announced at Chatham Monday of Mr. John Carruthers, a former resident of this city. The deceased was buried to-day in St. Thomas by the Masons.

—Mr. Carruthers having been a member of St. John's Lodge, 2095, A. F. and A. M.

—The annual Asylum ball was held last evening. The event was as successful as its predecessors and the staff acquitted themselves creditably in their endeavor to give wide entertainment for the large crowd of guests, many of whom were from a distance.

—James Ryan, who has been on remand on a charge of drunkenness, was fined $5 or twenty days by the police magistrate this morning. Another drunk was discharged and one was too sick to attend. His wife was present, however, and promised attendance to-morrow morning.

—Work on the new St. James Episcopal Sunday School, South London, will be commenced next week. The contractors were let as follows: James Johnston, brickwork; Tambling & Jones, carpentering; H. & C. Colerick, painting; R. Gash, plastering.

—The non-commissioned officer of the Infantry Barracks was incidentally mentioned by a police court witness Monday as having been intoxicated in Sars' restaurant, denies that he was worse of liquor. As he has several witnesses to prove his assertion, no doubt it is true.

—The police want an owner for a diamond ring. The ring is of gold and has a small diamond set in the back of each. It was disposed of by Wm. French, an employee of Marshall's livery, and is valued at $16 or $18. The young man claims he found it in the stable yard.

—Miss Maggie O'Connor, a young lady who lived with her father on Wellington street, died at the City Hospital last night. Deceased was in her 20th year. Last Friday she caught a severe cold, which soon developed into inflammation of the lungs, and she was removed to the hospital on Saturday.

—The Port Stanley village council at their last regular meeting decided to submit a by-law to the people at an early date to grant a bonus of $1,000 to Mr. F. E. Shepard to erect a planing mill and fit it up with modern machinery to take the place of the one burned at the recent fire, on which Mr. Shepard had no insurance.

—The Monetary Times of last week contained an excellent portrait of Byron Edmund Walker, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Mr. Walker, who has many friends in this city, has had a most successful career. He entered the service of the Bank of Commerce as a clerk in July, 1868, and in ten years afterwards was manager of the branch of the bank here. Eight years thereafter, in 1886, he was made general manager, a post which he has filled admirably.

—The residents of ward 3 in the neighborhood of the Port Stanley bridge were much alarmed this morning over the antics of three drunken men. They telephoned for the police and the patrol wagon, and on going down there the former found three Indians in a drunken sleep in a lane just off the Port Stanley track. They were brought to the station, where they gave the names of James Duxter, Robert Duxter and Isaac Duxter. The Duxter family have evidently a fondness for the flowing bowl. Abe is now serving a term in the Central.

—A charming concert was given last evening in London West under the auspices of the enterprising guild of St. George's Church. The attendance was large and $30 was added to the exchequer thereby. The programme was as follows: Orchestra selections under the leadership of Mr. John Ward; songs, Dr. Bayly, Miss Lilywhite, Mr. Soper, Miss McNab and Mr. Walter Gurd; duet, Miss Gurd and Mr. W. Gurd; recitation, Miss Jean Phillips; physical drill, five boys, under management of Mrs. Milligan. The last number was exceptionally well executed. Mr. Ward's orchestra was highly appreciated. The rector, Rev. G. B. Sage, presided.

—Mr. Charles Frohman's company of players will be seen at the Grand Monday, April 17, in the latest comedy sketch, "Gloriana," from the pen of Edward Mortimer. "Gloriana" is said to have been well received in London and New York, having enjoyed a run of five months in the latter city, and not yet withdrawn from the stage at the Globe Theatre, London. The play is said to be one of dash, sprightly language and clever situations, creating and maintaining an incessant uproar of laughter from the rise to the final fall of the curtain. The comedy is admittedly constructed and developed on the basis of the French of "Le True d'Arthur."

—Mrs. Wonnacott, who resides at 150 Ann street, while entering the house the other day slipped on some ice and sprained her knee. The accident will confine her to the house for some time.

—Wm. Livermore, a married man employed in Elliott's foundry, had two fingers on his right hand badly smashed the other day by getting them caught in some of the machinery, and as a result it will be some time before he will be able to resume work.

—Mrs. A. E. Ames, of this city, has been up at London for some time under medical treatment. Yesterday word was received in the city from Mrs. George A. Cox, her mother, that she was much worse, and Mr. Cox and Mr. Ames went west last night, Mr. Cox going direct from the city to attend to Mrs. Ames. A message was received by Mr. Ed. Cox last night that Mrs. Ames was some better. (Toronto World.)

—London Typographical Union, No. 133, has elected the following officers: President, Chas. Doe; Vice-president, James Thorpe; financial secretary, F. Plant; corresponding secretary, H. Emery; treasurer, W. Hunter; sergeant-at-arms, Wm. Hardey; board of directors, Messrs. Hooper, jun., Rose, Haydon, Wallace and F. Parkinson; delegates to T. and L. Council, Messrs. Thorpe, Hunter and Hardey. Mr. F. Plant was chosen delegate to attend the I. T. U. meeting at Chicago next June.

Kicked by a Horse.

Mr. Ed. Howie, of Queen's avenue east, was kicked by a horse yesterday afternoon. The accident occurred out at Mr. Howie's father's place in London township.

Dr. Gardiner was sent for as soon as possible, and it was found that a rib had been broken. It will be several days before the injured man can be removed to his home.

The Opera Singer at Church.

At the Centenary Church last evening Mrs. McKelcan sang "Easter Song," by Vandewater, as a solo, also a duet with Miss Schumacher, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." Mrs. Mapleson (who performed in London last week) sang "There is a Green Hill Far Away," imitatively. The rest of the musical service was of a high order. The church was crowded. (Hamilton Times.)

The Convalescent Home.

The trustees of the Convalescent Home gratefully acknowledge the following donations for March and April: Mr. Gill, lamps; Mrs. Eustace Bucke, $2; Mr. P. M. Lawrance, soap; a friend, reading matter.

Easter offering: Mrs. Cleghorn, fresh eggs, flowers, apples and oranges; Mrs. Dooney, hot cross buns; Mrs. F. A. Fitzgerald, fresh eggs and meat; Mrs. John Puddicombe, men's clothes; Mr. Coutier, house-keeper's Mission, preserves.

A Recent Arrest.

The case of Mrs. Atkinson vs. George M. Atkinson, of Harrietsville, came up at Osgoode Hall yesterday on a motion to set aside the order for arrest of George M. Atkinson, made by the local judge at London, under which Atkinson was arrested some time ago. Hon. Mr. Justice Ferguson refused to set aside the order of the local judge; but set the defendant at liberty on a motion to discharge him from custody, on the ground that the defendant, being practically worth nothing, was leaving this country, if at all, not with a view of defending, but of obtaining a divorce in the United States courts. Costs in the cause; the defendant to bring no action.

Geo. Wilson's Minstrels.

George Wilson, the famous minstrel star, will bring his excellent company here Friday for one night's stay. Wilson's fame is far and wide. In commenting on a recent performance, the St. Louis Star says: "At Pope's yesterday afternoon and evening, George Wilson, the happy-go-lucky minstrel man, and his large company of comedians, acrobats and merry-makers made their initial bow, being well received by the large and well-pleased audience. George Wilson still has that delightfully absurd monologue about his person, and when he springs it the audience settles down to the funniest twenty minutes of the evening. Minstrelsy leads its best exponent in the Wilson show. There is a little of everything that minstrel-goers expect to see on a good programme, and all those little are presented in a pleasing way."

Dredging the Harbors.

The Canadian dredge, Ontario, is now being fitted out for the season at Amherstburg, preparatory to proceeding to work on the north shore of Lake Erie. It is supposed that in a few days she will be ready for operations. Her first work will be at Port Stanley, where the opening between the piers is to be deepened for the car ferries which are to ply between Cleveland and the London and Port Stanley Railroad, and the London and Port Stanley Railroad Company, having placed the necessary sheet piling required inside the Rond Eau harbor, as approved of by the Government at Ottawa, the Ontario will be sent to that point to perform the necessary dredging there to make the harbor more capable than it now is, and thoroughly fit for commercial trade and afford wharfage, harbor accommodations and anchorage for a line of car ferry boats which the E. and H. Company purpose to employ between Eau and Cleveland, and the other steamers and vessels that will seek the superb harbor on Lake Erie for trade, shelter or refuge, in case of storms or distress. (Chatham Planet.)

The Water Commissioners.

The water commissioners met last evening, Chairman Jones, Mayor Esery, Commissioner Cowan, Engineer Moore, Inspectors Platt and Plawstow and Secretary Ellwood being present. Harry Ryan, of the Clarence House, complained of excessive water rates for the last two quarters. The meter had been tested and was found to work properly. A reduction was made of $6 on each quarter. Wm. Geary has moved his planing-mill to York street, and asked that some additional service be provided for fire protection purposes. His request was granted. He also asked that free water for boiler purposes be granted him for five years. The council will deal with this matter. Rev. Principal English, of Helmhurst College, refused to pay $21.38 for a relief valve which he saw was defective and allowed the water to leak through. The contractor will be asked to furnish a new one. Hobbs Hardware Company asked that a new meter be placed in their establishment on Ridout street, as the old one did not work properly. Referred to the engineer. Jonas Forster's offer to rent a small lot at Springbank belonging to the waterworks was filed.

The Children's Entertainment.

The children of the London West Methodist Church enjoyed themselves immensely last night at their annual Sunday school entertainment. The programme they furnished reflected highly on their artistic abilities, and their parents, mammas, relatives and friends appreciated it greatly. The chairman was Mr. James Elson, assistant superintendent of the school. The following numbers were given: Instru-

My Life Saved—Nine Years a Dyspeptic and Sufferer of Liver Complaint—Three Bottles Royal Crown Remedy Effected a Complete Cure—Now Twelve Years and no Symptom of Return of the Disease—Read for Yourself.

LONDON, Aug. 30, 1889.

To Mr. Williams: It is not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to you and the suffering world that I add my testimony with the many you have already received. Royal Crown Remedy cannot be too highly praised. It has saved my life. For nine years I suffered extremely with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and could not retain anything at all on my stomach without excessive vomiting. Erysipelas set in, which confined me to my bed. Doctors could do me no good. I also tried many other plans with no success. I was induced by Mr. Williams to try his medicine, which I did after much persuading. Three bottles completely cured me, and for twelve years I have had no symptoms. Your medicine is worthy of praise. I advise all suffering humanity to try it, for it is the best.

mental selection, Vivian Wilson; recitations, Lillian Armstrong and Frank Ware; duet, Misses Annie Jeffries and Maud Gillespie; recitation, Clay Gibson and Gwene Water; instrumental selection, Mr. Gibson; dialogue, "The Trades," by several boys; "Storm and Sunshine" chorus, girls; recitation, Ralph Gibson; parson drill, twelve little girls; solo, Willa Gibson; solo, Charlie Armstrong; chorus, "Little Acts of Kindness," girls; doll drill, sixteen little girls; delirant exercise, Misses Donovan, Graham, Woodward and Grant. After the programme presentation of the prizes was made to the children, and all the little ones went home with their hearts made happy.

A Crossing Accident.

A G. T. R. train and a horse disputed the right of each other's way at the Wellington street crossing about 6 o'clock last night, and, as usual, the horse, rig and man got the worst of it, though luckily in this case no life was lost. Mr. James Goldwin was driving south at the time, and when he got to the crossing could not hold the horse. This, coupled with the fact that the east half of the gate is out of order and does not work, led to the accident. The train was the regular passenger one from Stratford, and was going at a very moderate rate of speed. After the horse struck the car the animal wheeled around and started down the track in a seeming endeavor to head it off. This brought the wagon crash against the side of the train; the rig was smashed and the man thrown out in a heap. Mr. Goldwin was stunned and bleeding from some cuts on the head, while one hand was severely crushed. He was conveyed to his home on the Hamilton road and a doctor summoned, who found that his injuries were not serious. It is probable, however, that one finger will have to be amputated. The east gate of the crossing has been out of order for some time, and in its place a lone pole with a red flag on the end has been in use. Witnesses of the accident say the result would have been the same had both gates been working, for the horse would have smashed through, anyhow.

The Canada Life.

The 40th annual meeting of the Canada Life Assurance Company was held at the head offices, Hamilton, on Monday last. The report, which appears in another column, was presented to the shareholders. The directors were able to show a larger amount of new business than had ever been written in a single year by the company, and it was explained that the amount might have been increased but for the determined policy to keep down expenses and to avoid undue risks. More than $1,000,000 of the insurance applied for was not carried out, yet the new policies written amounted to $6,200,011, being the largest total income carried by the Canada Life close to $60,000,000—an amount far in excess of that carried by any other Canadian company. The income for the year was $2,344,077, the addition to the assets $1,003,044, and the total of the assets on Dec. 31, 1892, was $13,077,129. The 222 deaths of policy-holders which occurred during the year cost the company $771,726. Reference is made in the report to the success of the Michigan branch and to the extension of the company's business to the State of Minnesota, also to the legislation obtained during the year to facilitate the transaction of the company's business. The Canada Life has a very large business in London and neighborhood, its policy-holders representing most of the leading citizens, who will be rejoiced to hear of the continued phenomenal progress of the company. It is exceedingly well officered, both at headquarters and in the district agencies. This fact was borne testimony to at the annual meeting. The representative of the Canada Life in this city is Mr. H. E. Gates.

Died From Natural Causes.

Coroner Gustin, of St. Thomas, held an inquest on the body of Neil McMillan, the old man found near Belmont Monday. It was discovered that on Saturday and Sunday nights he stayed at Mr. Taylor's, about two miles from Belmont, and left the house between 8 and 9 o'clock, in apparently good health, to go to Mr. Thomas Harkness's, the farm immediately north of Mr. Taylor's, to inquire after his daughter, who is very ill. He started across the fields and woods, carrying his overcoat on his arm. After he left Mr. Taylor started out to look for some turkeys, which had strayed away, and about 11:45 found the old man's dead body in the woods partially undressed. He lay on his back when found, his left hand under his head, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict of death from natural causes. Deceased leaves a wife, a son and two daughters, but for some reason had been separated from his wife and family for years. His wife lives with her uncle, Mr. John McMurchy, Aldboro, near Bismarck. His son Walter is thought to be in Duluth. One of his daughters, Mrs. Davis, is in Detroit, and the other is Mrs. D. W. McIntyre, of Glencoe. Another daughter, now deceased, was the wife of Mr. James H. Smith, formerly principal of the Belmont public school, and now teacher in Ridgeway. The family are highly spoken of, and the deceased was regarded as a quiet, inoffensive man, but rather eccentric.

BRUTALITY EXCUSED

By a Coroner's Jury in the Dunfee Knockout Case.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 11.—The coroner's jury in the case of Dan Donovan, of Cleveland, who died after receiving a knockout blow from Joe Dunfee, of this city, last Tuesday night, returned a verdict.

"That Daniel Donovan was in such a reduced physical condition, resulting from protracted training, and from the diseased condition of his lungs, that he was unable to endure protracted physical exertion, and that the immediate cause of death was hemorrhage between the membranes of the brain."
