OFFERINGS LIGHT

London Market Today Was a No. 4 Santos, 9c; mild quiet; Cordova, 94/20 Compartively Small One.

HAY PRICES WERE FIRM

Oats Had a Good Sale-Vegetables Were Not Very Much in Evidence.

There was a very small market toay, and every variety of produce was comparatively scarce. Prices, on the ther hand, were fairly good, and save n a few instances, there was a very good demand.

The supply of hay fell off very noticeably today, only about 17 loads being offered, a good number of which were of new hay. The prices, however, remained strong, and $10 50 to $12 was paid for old hay, the majority of the oads being sold at the latter price. New hay, too, brought considerably better prices, selling from $7 50 to $9, ccording to the quality. The best 11%c per lb. ound a ready sale at the higher price. Oats, too, had a good sale today, and he price showed a considerable advance, going as high as $1 66 for firstclass quality, which is the highest price which has prevailed now for Meat Prices.

In butchers' meats there has been only a slight change. Beef shows a tendency to be firmer, while dressed hogs still continue to advance, and are now selling as high as $10 75.

Vegetables were very little in evidence. There was a good supply of lettuce, but other green vegetables were rather noticeable for their absence. The demand for potatoes was somewhat stronger than it has been for the past week or more, and they sold today for 75 to 80 cents.

In the line of fruit, cherries were the only thing that showed anything like a brisk sale. They sold for from 8 to 9 cents a quart for all varieties. Goose- dling uplands, 12.65c; middling gulf, 12.90c; berries were somewhat easier, bring- no sales.

Strawberries were there in some quantities, but the sale was anything but brisk. At wholesale, some small berries went as low as 51/2 cents, and to 11.23c; May, 11.27c. from that up to 8 cents, while the gen-

Red currants made their initial appearance today and had some sale on account of their novelty. They were wholesaling at 9 cents, and retailing at
