Toronto. J. J. Dixon & Co. received the following from Counselman & Day of Chicago: Markets were all active and materially higher to-day. The short interest became demoralized after several attempts to force a reaction to lower prices. The leading feature in both grain and provisions was return of general public confidence in foodstuffs, and their belief that recent bear operations had depressed prices below sound values was backed by substantial buying orders. Extreme prices were not maintained, but closings show no indications that top prices have yet been reached. The buying for foreign and outside account has given local shorts but little opportunity to cover, and many of their are still heavily oversold. The outside public are likely to increase them holdings as profits will warrant. If receipts to-morrow are not excessive and tone of cables is encouraging, we expect higher prices all around.

SMITH & PRIESTMAN

Drummond & Brown received the out of the cody over their private wire from Baldwin & Farnum of Chicago: Wheat opened at about last night's close and has been strong the entire day. In the advance a heavy local short here is presumed to have been a big buyer and to have covered a large line of shorts around 90c. This may or may not be so. The market closes at a todeline from top prices, which rather shows for moment that the strain is off. On general principles such a sharp advance ought to be sold for a turn, but the news from other side has been 100 very strong, quoting French markets very much higher and even English markets, that have shown an apathy all the time lately, were stronger. We ought to see some setback from this sudden upturn and no doubt will.

R. Cochran received the following to-day from Kennett, Hopkins & Co., New York: The stock market at the opening received its inspiration from the strength of the London market, especially the advance in the price of consols in London, which indicated a better-financial feeling there. There has been no gold engaged here to-day for shipment, but sterling excenange rates are firm and it is generally expected that some gold will go by Saturday's steamer. Exchange at western points is getting to be against New York. At Chicago it is 60 cents discount, and in the past two days there has been $800,000 currency deposited with the sub-treasury in this city, for shipment to the west. This movement is likely to increase rapidly, as the receipts of wheat at western points are larger and earlier than expected. There is nothing new in railway situation, but C.
