

num. In advance. The Herald is very respectably got up and well conducted, and it is fair to be what it is imports—a family paper. Eschewing the troubled waters of politics, the Herald is devoted to education, Literature, Agriculture, Science and the Arts.

We wish the enterprising publisher the success which his commendable effort to introduce cheap and profitable reading so richly merits.—Edinburgh Record.

THE CANADIAN FAMILY HERALD.—Such is the title of a new weekly paper published in Toronto, by Mr. D. McDougall. We have just received the third number. It is very neatly got up in the quarto form, containing eight pages two of which are advertisements. The selections, judging from the present number, are good, and the paper will probably be a welcome and useful visitor to the family circle. We have marked a well written original tale of narrative, for insertion in our next number. We wish the publisher every success, and trust that by the time he reaches his second volume, his subscribers, by their numbers and punctuality, will warrant him to enlarge, and otherwise to beautify and improve his Herald.—Western Progr.

THE CANADIAN FAMILY HERALD.—This is the title of a new publication lately started in Toronto. It is published by Mr. D. McDougall, and is intended to supply a want that must have long since made itself felt in Canada, to wit: A Family New-Paper. The Family Herald will be strictly neutral in politics and religion. It is published once a week at the low price of a dollar a year. We should like very much to see a Canadian literature spring up amongst us, and not have us dependent on American authors for mental food. We trust that Mr. McDougall's undertaking will prove successful, and that the Family Herald will ere long find its way into every corner of Canada.—Mirr.

New Paper.—A new weekly periodical has been commenced in this city, called "The Canadian Family Herald." It is a neatly printed sheet, in the quarto form, and is to be devoted to Literature, Science, Art, and Agriculture, and promises to be a valuable addition to our periodical literature.—Christian Guardian.
