

The Best Food For Children?
 is worthy every parent's study; not only what they can eat, but what gives the most nourishment. No children are better, and most are worse, for eating lard-cooked food. If, however, their food is prepared with the healthful new vegetable shortening, COTTOLENE instead of lard, they can eat freely of the best food without danger to the digestive organs. You can easily verify this by a fair trial of Cottolene. Sold in 3 and 5 lb. pails by all grocers.

LITERARY NOTES.

The "Progress of the World" department of the Review of Reviews for November, besides covering a wide range of political, administrative, and constitutional topics of timely interest to Americans in view of the approaching elections, has some pertinent notes on European politics and editorial tributes to the memory of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes and Professor David Swing, of Chicago.

Switzerland, France, Belgium, England, Germany and Italy have been admitted to the benefits of the new international copyright law. For an American citizen to secure copyright in Great Britain, the title must be entered at Stationers' Hall, London, the fee for which is five shillings sterling, and the work must be published in Great Britain simultaneously with its publication in the United States, and five copies of the publication are required. A foreigner may secure copyright in France by depositing two copies of the publication at the Ministry of the Interior in Paris. In Germany a foreigner must enter his work in the general registry book of copyrights at Leipzig, and have it published by a firm having its place of business within the German Empire. The Librarian of Congress at Washington cannot make arrangements about copyrights with other countries.—November Ladies' Home Journal.

A Colored frontispiece entitled "A Rest On The Way," is a feature of the November issue of the English Illustrated Magazine. Stanley Lane-Poole has an interesting article, "Caged In China," treating of this mode of imprisonment.—past and present. "Malachi," by Gilbert Parker, is a very interesting story. "The Life and History of Lord Russell of Killowen," the present Lord Chief Justice of England, is told by Katherine Tynan. Stanley J. Weyman contributes a second story, "From The Memoirs Of A Minister Of France—The Tennis Balls." "A Handful of Gems," by E. L. Cutts, appear in the November issue.

Almost a Hopeless Case.

A Terrible Cough. No Rest Night nor Day. Given up by Doctors.

A LIFE SAVED

BY TAKING

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctors, after working over me to the best of their ability, pronounced my case hopeless, and said they could do no more for me. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I began to take, and very soon I was greatly relieved. By the time I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured. I have never had much of a cough since that time, and I firmly believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—W. H.
