Examination in Literature for Third Class Non-Professional
Examination, 1888.

By J. E. WELLS, M.A., formerly Principal Woodstock College, Editor of Notes on Cæsar's Gallic War, and Notes on Third Class Literature, 1887.

PRICE, - 30 CENTS.

From Preface to Edition of 1887.

This little work will, it is believed, be found to meet a felt want, and to serve a useful and legitimate purpose. In the study of a series of eighteen or twenty extracts and selections from the works of as many different authors, it is not to be expected that the ordinary student will have within reach the means of informing himself on the many points of enquiry that constantly arise. In the crowded state of the programme and amid the pressing duties of the school-room, the teacher cannot reasonably be expected to find time to answer all enquiries and solve all difficulties as they present themselves. Both teacher and student must constantly feel the need of a manual such as is herewith furnished.

In the use of literary selections for educational purposes the first and chief aim of the skilled teacher will be to have his pupil read intelligently and with appreciation. In the preparation of these Notes that fundamental principle has been kept constantly in view. Explanations, questions, suggestions and criticisms have been so framed, it is hoped, as to stimulate and guide the student in his own earnest efforts, rather than in any measure to supersede the necessity of such efforts. Whatever appears in the form of direct statement will be found to be matters of fact, explanations of allusions, etc., which are essential to full understanding of the text, and in regard to which, it may be assumed, the means of information are not generally available.

In addition to the standard dictionaries, encyclopædias, and histories, to which free recourse has been had, the author has especially to acknowledge his indebtedness to Phillips' excellent work on English Literature for many of the critical opinions appended to the Notes.

What was said of Prof. Wells' Edition of Literature for 1887.*Recommended to Pupils.

I am greatly pleased with the little work "Notes on Third Class Literature" by J. E. Wells, M.A. While I question the wisdom of placing before students explanations of difficult passages, so as to preclude the necessity of thinking I deem it quite legitimate to furnish them with historical, biographical and geographical notes to save them the trouble of referring to libraries and encyclopædias. I shall recommend my pupils to use the "Notes." Libraries and encyclopædias are not always accessible; moreover, time is precious.

The Right Kind.

The Notes are of the right kind—suggestive and full of information upon points needing explanation. They will be very useful to those who have not access to works of reference.
