What was said of Prof. Wells' Edition of
Literature for 1887.

Recommended to Pupils.

I am greatly pleased with the little work "Notes on Third Class Literature," by J. E. Wells, M.A. While I question the wisdom of placing before students explanations of difficult passages, so as to preclude the necessity of thinking, I deem it quite legitimate to furnish them with historical, biographical and geographical notes to save them the trouble of referring to libraries and encyclopædias. I shall recommend my pupils to use the "Notes." Libraries and encyclopædias are not always accessible; moreover, time is precious.

A. G. KNIGHT, M.A.
H. M. Campbellford High School.

The Right Kind.

The Notes are of the right kind—suggestive and full of information upon points needing explanation. They will be very useful to those who have not access to works of reference.

A Valuable Aid.

It is a valuable aid to the teacher, and will save him a great amount of labor.

With Notes and a Vocabulary. By J. E. WELLS, M.A.

(From the Preface.)

While this little work is intended expressly to meet the wants of students preparing for the examinations for which this portion of Cæsar is prescribed, it will be found none the less suitable for use in all classes commencing the study of this favorite author. To pupils at this stage of progress it is a matter of convenience, almost of necessity, to have within the same covers text, vocabulary, and all needful subsidiary matter in the shape of notes, historical, biographical, explanatory, and critical. This information the pupil must gain from some source. He cannot evolve it from his own consciousness. No teacher can take time to give it viva voce. Whether the pupil shall find it ready to hand within the compass of a single manual, or gather it laboriously from many sources, would matter little, save for the great loss of time involved in the latter process, and the danger that the student may neglect or fail to reach a satisfactory result, and thus be in danger of forming, at a most critical stage, a habit of looseness or inaccuracy.

There is really no more educational virtue in turning over the leaves of a large tome than of a small one. Nor is a fact in history, or biography, or archeology, any more valuable, from an educational point of view, for having been run to ground and unearthed only after a long and exhaustive hunt. There is, it is true, a certain advantage in making the acquaintance of standard authorities and works of reference, but the student is pretty sure of becoming familiar with these in the later stages of his course.

The author, nevertheless, fully recognizes the truth and value of the educational principle that nothing should be done for the pupil that he is capable of doing for himself. The more he can accomplish by the exercise of his own unaided powers the better. The only help given him in the mastering of the text, apart from the meaning of the words used, should be in the shape of suggestive hints and questions, and reference to broad principles, until, at least, he has done his best.

PRICE, - 75 CENTS.

(From the Preface.)

This little book is intended expressly to meet the wants of students preparing for either the Second Class Non-Professional Teachers' Examinations or the University Junior Matriculation Examination for 1888. All such students will find here, within the limits of one compact and low-priced volume, not only the texts of the work prescribed in English Literature, but a carefully prepared introductory essay, containing much necessary and helpful information, concise biographical sketches of the authors from whom the selections are chosen, and copious notes—explanatory, historical and critical—on all passages that seem to require elucidation in the texts themselves. The student is thus furnished with necessary information on various points which otherwise could be attained only by laborious research in works of reference, such as, in many cases, are not readily accessible.

At the same time the sound educational principle has been kept steadily in view that all such helps should be made to stimulate and supplement, but in no case supersede, the self-reliant efforts of the student. The aim has constantly been to incite, and in a manner compel, him to the vigorous exertion of his own powers, and in no case to do for him that which he could reasonably be expected to do for himself.

What is said by some of the Leading Public School
Inspectors of Canada about the Excelsior
Series of Wall Maps:—

"I am greatly pleased with the maps. They possess every feature to be desired in school maps."

FRED. BURROWS, I.P.S., Lennox and Addington.

"They are clear, the colors good, the execution very creditable, and the information correct. There is no crowding with details, and yet the information is ample for all purposes."

REV. THOS. MCKER, M.A., I.P.S., South Simcoe.

"The 'Excelsior' Series is no misnomer. They possess all the qualifications of excellent School Maps—cleanliness of outline, accuracy of information, and a freedom from a superfluous mass of matter which tends to obscure rather than to instruct. I shall recommend it for use everywhere."

F. L. MICHELL, M.A., I.P.S., Inspector, Lanark.

MAPS AND MAP CASES.

"The map is excellent; the mode of hanging the best I have seen; the case enclosing the map to preserve it is a boon to trustees, for with such an arrangement Maps will last many years longer. Economy, excellence and convenience are so combined that the 'Excelsior' Maps should sell at sight where skill is appreciated."

J. S. CARSON, I.P.S., West Middlesex.

"Have seen nothing to equal it, and its price places it within the reach of the Boards of Trustees."

D. P. CLAPP, B.A., I.P.S., North Wellington.

"Your 'Excelsior' Maps are very fine."

G. H. IRWIN, Sunderland.

"Bright and attractive, remarkably accurate and full."

W. H. G. COLLIS, I.P.S., Chatham.

"It seems to me that the Maps are unrivalled."

G. D. PLATT, B.A., I.P.S., Pictou.
