D.M.A. Bronzes represents the talent, imagination, skill and quality that goes into every sculpture produced by Diane M. Anderson. Creations are originals in their own right, and she has attracted collectors from all over the world. Her sculptures predominantly feature Western and wildlife drama, but her wide range of subject matter is suited to many different tastes. As a result, everybody can find items close to their hearts.

For individuals with specific ideas, Diane offers the unique service of private and public commissions.

Widely known for their extremely high quality, Diane M. Anderson's sculptures make excellent gifts and awards for incentive programs, visitor presentations, retirement awards and all special occasions requiring unmistakable quality recognition.

Bronze sculptures add warmth to any residential or commercial setting by creating common focal and conversation points.

The drama of Canada's west comes alive in original bronze sculptures.

Ross Handcrafts is a family-owned Canadian company creating a unique line of open-stock dinner ware, with all items individually crafted on the potter's wheel.

We manufacture two lines. Our newest, TRACERIES, is produced of a semi-porcelain clay body, and is glazed with a traced slip decoration. The SIGNATURE line is a traditional stoneware series finished in our signature two-tone glazed style.

Our dinner ware appeals to a broad customer base. It is both functional in style, yet contemporary in appearance. The lines fit the life style of the younger customer, while maintaining the classic styling and quality of finish which appeals to the more traditional client.

President

The name says it all at Eccentricities. Since 1979, we have been producing new and exciting sculptures designed to appeal to both the serious collector and the general public.

Our creations feature products from the fantastic to the frivolous. They are all hand-sculpted by the renowned Eron Eno, a recognized master of the craft. We produce everything from wizards and clowns, to cats, pigs and frogs, and jacks in the box. Eccentricities even manufactures mugs and tea pots . . . and they also reflect our belief that sculpture can be fun.

While our sculptures are light hearted, we still have a strong commitment to supporting our retail clients in a totally professional manner. Our distribution is fully reliable, ensuring that you will have superior products at market sensitive prices.
