

ARTICLE VIII.

OF VOTERS.

The Voters at the election of Trustees and Officers shall be Ordinary Members, who have paid their subscription for the previous year, and Life Members, of which payment the books shall be evidence.

ARTICLE IX.

COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT.

The Trustees, on taking office, shall appoint four of their number who, with the President and Recording Secretary, ex officio, shall form the Committee of Management.

ARTICLE X.

THE TRUSTEES.

The Trustees shall hold a meeting, at least once a month, to conduct the affairs of the Society, and shall draw up an annual report of their proceedings, to be laid before the Society at the annual meeting for the election of Trustees. Their term of office shall commence immediately after the officers shall have been elected. Five shall constitute a quorum for transaction of all the business of the Society, except the election of Honorary Members.

ARTICLE XI.

OF THE PRESIDENT.

The duty of the President shall be to preside at all meetings, maintain order, and state the business before the meeting—give the casting vote when necessary—call for accounts and committee reports—call extra meetings when requested in writing by ten Ordinary Members, five Trustees, or the Committee of Management; and generally to superintend the execution of the By-laws and Regulations of the Society.

ARTICLE XII.

OF THE VICE-PRESIDENTS.

In the absence of the President at any meeting, the Senior Vice-President present shall preside; failing them, the meeting shall choose viva voce, a chairman, who shall exercise all the functions of President for the occasion.
