NAVAL AID BILL

per cent. of its capital, was then discussed and finally rejected.

The clause respecting the sale of assets of one bank to another bank was next discussed.

Hon. Frank Oliver pointed out that this was a "merger" clause.

Such legislation paved the way for combined and amalgamations. The tendency, said Mr. Oliver, nowadays was to create trusts. It had been apparent in our trade and commerce, and now it was becoming apparent in our banks.

"Under this clause," said Mr. Oliver, "a bank may remove a competitor by absorbing or amalgamating it."

The clause was allowed to stand over for the present.

The house then discussed the question of bank investments in bank shares. An amendment was finally adopted requiring the banks to make an annual statement of their real estate holdings and their fair market value.

Rate of Interest.

The clause regarding the rate of interest to be charged was then taken up. The bill as it came back from the banking committee contained no restriction upon the rate of interest which could be charged by the banks at the time of making a loan.

Finance Minister White explained that this was the legal effect of a recent decision of the privy council. While the bank could not recover more than seven per cent. interest after maturity by law, it could demand at the time of the loan and lawfully receive interest at any rate it was able to exact.

Hon. Francis Oliver said that the bill as amended in the committee was at least honest. If it was not the intention of the government to place any restrictions upon interest rates it was well to say so in the act. Personally, he preferred to see some provision against usury.

The clause was allowed to stand over for the present.

On his motion the old section remains in force, placing the rate of seven per cent. but as construed by the privy council, this does not limit the rate which may be charged by the banks and collected at the time of making the loan. The minister then introduced and the committee passed a sub-section requiring the banks to make a quarterly report as to the rate of interest they were charging in various parts of the country.

An amendment was made to the effect that the banks should not be required to make a return to the circulation redemption fund any percentage upon

SANGUINOL

—Makes Strong Nerves

Read this message from Mr. Wm. Newman of 15 Northcote Avenue, Toronto, whose wife was persuaded to give Sanguinol a trial when she was very nervous and run down.

I feel sure you will never forget to benefit my wife received from Sanguinol. She has taken four bottles and never felt better in her life. She has gained five pounds. She was very nervous and anxious. I cannot praise Sanguinol enough. She provided me with a dozen or more other medicines, but none did her any good but Sanguinol.

Does that sound as if Sanguinol helps when health and happiness is lost? Is not the most convincing proof of the efficacy of any remedy the results accomplished by it?

Get Sanguinol today. Let it prove to you that it is unsurpassed as a nerve-tonic and blood-builder.

Sanguinol is sold only at the Owl Drug Co., 176 Queen St. East, 1331 Dundas St. West, 191 Parliament St., 282 College St., 961 Bathurst St., 1215 Bloor St. West, 342 and 384 Yonge St., Vancouver Drug Stores and E. A. Legge, Owner of College and Ossington Aves.

town council might do was to give the ratepayers a chance to vote on hydro. The same situation had existed in Hamilton at one time, when the council there was absolutely wedded to the corporation and did not want to take a vote both ways; but a new council was elected, which believed in public ownership, and hydro-electric power was endorsed by the people. "We are not here tonight, however, to ask you to make a contract. We come to you with facts which will in themselves demonstrate that the hydro-electric is the greatest public and making the American continent has known" (Loud cheers).

He quoted Gov. Sulzer's remarks, "We have something to learn from Ontario" and pointed out that the State of New York was now developing a system similar to the hydro-electric.

After outlining the original growth of the movement until the commission was appointed, Mr. Beck referred to the difficulty other towns and cities had experienced in getting corporations to stand by their agreements and how little weight should be given to any clauses supposed to be in favor of the municipality, even the price of corporation power was cheaper in Brantford, Peterboro and Hamilton the people said, "We don't care now cheap it is; we want to control the situation."

Voting for Principle.

They all knew it was a principle they were voting for and not a matter of dollars and cents. (Applause.) Continuing, he emphasized the fact that every estimate given to any municipality by the hydro engineers has never yet been less than the work cost to carry out; that the cost of the power was fixed and had been fixed for years ahead; that the government was supplying money at 4 per cent. and that all the engineers and experts employed by the commission were in the service of the people.

Joker Clause.

Regarding the clause in the proposed agreement with the Metropolitan, which permitted the Town of Newmarket to retail power within a seven mile radius, Mr. Beck said that it was simply a joker, as the town could not legally do that, but the agreement once signed would bar neighboring municipalities from participation in the benefits of hydro-electric power.

mile radius, Mr. Beck said that it was Mr. Beck recalled the last occasion on which the Metropolitan had given an opportunity to sell without adding the benefits of hydro-electric power.

Two years ago the price quoted them was $40 per horsepower, "just about half the price you are asked for now. What made the difference?" he asked.

The answer was a regular tornado of handclapping and cheering. "This province," he continued, "can sell all the power it wants to sell without adding the municipality with a burden of debt. I care not what price you have got, it cannot be cheaper than an opportunity to purchase power at cost for all time."

In conclusion Mr. Beck stated that the council had no legal power to submit a money bylaw regarding electric power to the electors, and that even if the vote carried, any citizen could upset the decision. This statement, he said, was backed by the best legal talent in Toronto. Mr. Beck was asked a number of questions but all attempts to "heckle" met smart answers, which delighted the meeting.

Mayor Gough of Ottawa gave an interesting account of the Ottawa municipal developments in the way of public ownership and the great success of the municipal-owned electric plant, there. On the motion of John Currie, seconded by Reeve P. W. Pearson, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Beck for his interesting address.

Municipal Councils Pass the Necessary Resolutions Under New Act.

IS GOING RIGHT AHEAD

Toronto-Uxbridge-Port Perry Route First in the Field.

The first step under the new Hydro-Electric Railway Act, which only received royal assent a few days ago, has been taken and the public will watch with interest the working of this advanced legislation.

The first municipalities taking advantage of the act are those in the district covered by the proposed Toronto-Uxbridge-Port Perry electric road, and for these municipalities the necessary form of resolution asking the commission to take the initial steps, following the advanced legislation under the Hydro-Electric Power Act, has been prepared and sent to the various councils for action. Markham passed the resolution on Monday and the Stouffville council has also taken action in the matter. The other towns and townships will act as soon as they can meet, and it is hoped by all interested that the requests of a sufficient number, upon which the commission may act, will be in the hands of the commission before the end of this week.

The public through the district are thoroughly roused over the probable release of their district from a railway monopoly and delighted at the prospect of having a railway under control which looks not after profits, but exists for public service and accommodation.

The railway carrying the hydro power lines will give to all the farmers and hamlets in East York and Ontario power at the lowest price.

BRAMPTON.

At last night's meeting of the town council the J. L. Hewitson Shoe Co. bylaw was given its first reading and will be voted on by the electors next month. Negotiations have been going on for some time with this company and such going concerns as these, when added to the town's industrial section will do much towards making Brampton what the board of trade and town council set out some months ago to do. The shoe company will purchase a site and erect a 45 x 250 three-story building, costing $40,000, and agree to employ 100 hands and pay $50,000 in wages per year. The town will guarantee their bonds for $20,000 for a period of 20 years to be paid back in full with interest at 5 per cent.

Victoria Day celebration here promises to eclipse all former efforts in the sporting line. In the morning half the population of Toronto and the local Old Countrymen's Club will play football. At 2 o'clock there will be a big parade, headed by the Boy Scouts and Bugle Band. The lacrosse team will be in uniform and march. At 3 o'clock a lacrosse match will be played at the Robison between Varsity Intercollegiate team of Toronto, senior champions of America, and Brampton Excelsiors, senior champions of the O.A. for 1912. This is the first game of the season, and promises to be a home run.

In the evening the Weston Dramatic Club will give a concert in the concert hall, at the close of which last year's senior and junior champions will be presented with championship medals.

A mass meeting in the interests of the temperance cause was held last night in the Baptist Church at Snelgrove. Dr. J. H. Gough, president of the Canada Temperance Association, Dr. Long and Capt. Young of Brampton were the speakers and outlined the plan of action to be taken.

How provoking! Company expected—carver dull—meat won't slice nicely. Under ordinary circumstances such a situation is extremely trying. With a General Utility Motor in the house, however, the difficulty vanishes at once.

For sharpening knives and tools the General Utility Motor is a most handy and useful device. And simple as A, B, C to operate.

This is only one of the numerous household tasks performed by the General Utility Motor.

Just screw on the grinding and polishing attachment, which comes with the outfit, and you have a most effective means for sharpening knives and tools. A moment's time puts an edge on the dullest knife.

Besides keeping the cutlery "on edge," it will operate your sewing machine, polish the silverware, grind tools, and may be operated as a ventilating blower for bedroom, sick chamber, or any room. Costs less than 1c an hour to operate.
