People Who Saw the Fair Are Now Buying at the Simpson Store
Concerning the Carpets on the Fourth Floor
Are You Going Hunting?

Talking of Exhibitions—there's no finer showing of carpets in the country than on the 4th floor of the Simpson Building. Here are to be seen carpets for the rich, carpets for the poor, carpets from the furthest corners of the world, carpets from the largest modern factories, and carpets woven by hand in a tent pitched in some inaccessible valley of Afghanistan.

In our Carpet Section is the finest Antique Fereghan in Canada. Experts have declared it to be at least 400 years old. The wonderful design and beautiful colorings are remarkably well preserved. This strip is 7.8 x 17.8. In New York city it would bring three times the price we have put on it.

There's a great demand for Kirmanshahs in brown tones. Our present display includes several fine samples, in medium and large sizes, at prices which you would expect to pay for ordinary Kirmanshahs.

There's a piece that you won't care to buy but will be much interested in. To the uninitiated at the first glance it might seem an almost worthless rag, but further study shows it to be a very fine Antique Ghiordes Prayer Rug, with a hundred mends so skillfully done that they add rather than detract from its beauty.

An Antique Kazak, 3.0 x 13.6, so rich in coloring and silky in appearance that its surface seems to shine by its own light, is marked at only $75.00.

A pile of extra large and remarkably fine Royal Antique Bokharas, the equal of which cannot be found on the continent, should make a visit worth while on Tuesday, whether you have any thought of purchasing or not. The sizes are above the average, the texture exceedingly close and silky. These rugs will be worth many times the marked prices in a few years, as such carpets are not now being woven in the East.

There's a pile of Anatolian Rugs, in various colorings. The weave is much finer than usual, sizes range from 2.8 x 4.10 to 4.6 x 6.0. Tuesday, your choice, at... 6.75

Novelty Ostrich Mounts Millinery Salon

For fear our Exhibition plumes would be all sold out before the morning night, we accepted the offer to take over a number of Parisian novelties at a big reduction. These will be ready for you in our Millinery salon tomorrow; there is such a variety that to give descriptions and prices here would be futile. But to give you an idea of what you can expect, we will tell you that our price tomorrow will be at least a third less than the wholesale price on such goods.

71-3-inch Millinery Ribbon 59c

If you noticed how ribbons have predominated at recent millinery exhibitions, you will be glad of this opportunity to get one of the newest millinery ribbons at a most reasonable price. This is a taffeta ribbon, with three very wide stripes of color, each shading into the next. 7 1/2 inches wide. Monday... 59
