THAT OVER WORKED, PLAYED OUT FEEL-ING AMONG WOMEN

There are thousands of females all over our land who are broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, overburdened with diseases peculiar to their sex, apparently growing old while yet young. Often they have pale or sallow complexion, hollow, sunken eyes, with a lifeless look; the face has a pinched and hargand apparently for the steamers, which were supplied, but the haggard appearance; they are weak, weary and trembling, often extremely nervous, starting at every little noise. Many are low-spirited, and some are fretful. Some are apparently bloodless, with cold hands and feet, while others are flushed by an unequal circulation of the blood, dizziness. unequal circulation of the blood, dizziness, and sometimes dimness of vision, loss of memory, and often loss of appetite and aleep, and are wearied with terrible dreams.

Apart from the speculative effort directed at the summer months, and based almost entirely on the question of supply and demand, it must now be noted that planting conditions in the cotton belt are distinctly bad, and that too much rain is falling over all areas, except, perhaps, the hill lands and uplands of Texas.

There is nothing however, in the situation as yet fatal to a good yield, and to this extent it is a weather market.

Mange in Canadian Cattle.

London, March 28.—(C.A.P.)—A recent is sue of The Scottish Farmer contained a letter from the manager of a ranching company in Alberta, who said it would be extremely foolish to take off the embargo, as home cattle would soon get infected with mange. A correspondent of The Times draws attention to this letter saying this is not the first intimation of the existence in Canada of this disease which others have called infectious mange. Quite apart from the obvious folly of improving Canadian or other cattle, save under the three months' quarantine regulation, there is danger of disease of this character being imported in food stuffs and other articles, just as anthrax is.

defendant had also said that Dr. Sangster had to be helped home by two men.

Joseph Brillinger of the Methodist Church said he heard Rev. Mr. Aikentead discourse on local option. He rever as being carried home drunk. He took this to mean Dr. Sangster, as he had heard other rumors about it.

These facts he admitted under searching questions given by Mr. Dewart and when he finished, Justice Anglin said: "I consider this a mighty unsatisfactory witness. He might as well have told all he knew without all this tooth-pulling."

Allen Parks of Tyrone Burned to Death in His Home.

Flesherton, March 28.—In a fire early this morning, at Tyrone, a hamlet about four miles from this place, the residence of Allen Parks, was completely consumed and he was burned to death. The charred body was found amidst the smoking ruins, but burned beyond recognition, Mr. Parks had been in Proton in the evening and left for home at an early hour.

He was very well known in Flesherton especially in musical circles, and was a member of Prince Arthur Massonic Lodge, A., F. & A. M. He was a bachelor and lived alone.
