"Shamus O'Brien " at the Grand. Apart from the operettas of Gilbert & allivan no operatic work for many years has had such a brilliant success as "Shamus O'Brien," the romantic Irish opera, with music by Dr. C. Villiers Stanford, which Torontonians are to have the ure of hearing for the first time to pieasure of hearing for the first time tonight. Its career throughout England, Ireland and Scotland was one continued success, and its reception in this country promlies to be equally cordial, to judge from the warmth of praises bestowed upon it when produced at the Broadway Theatre, New York, The fact that this opera is to be given by the Duff Opera Company is in itself an assurance in advance of the quality of the artists engaged. A special effort has been made by Mr. Duff and Manager Sheppard to secure a really adequate orchestral accompaniment, so essential in the production of opera, and altogether to-night is likely to prove an eventful occasion in the operatic line.

" The Land of the Living." "The Land of the Living," with its picturesque and accurate stage settings, its novel and realistic mechanical effects, and its pretty story of city and country life, will begin a week's engagement at the Toronto Opera House to night. The piece is from the pen of the well-known English playwright, Frank Harvey, whose productions have always been so favorably received here. It will be presented with a new scenic outfit, and Miss Lillian Washburn will be seen in the character of Meg. During the week "bargain matinees" will be given on Tuesday and Thursday, and a special holiday performance on Christmas iternoon.

Princess Theatre. Andiences shouting with laughter will be in evidence at the Princess Theatre this week, with the Cummings Stock Company's revival of the famous comedy, "Charley's Annt." There is no more amusing or more popular comedy known to Toronto theatregoers than "Charley's Aunt," which was first produced in Toronto at the Grand Opera House a few years ago at high prices. Mr. Cummings promises a production fully equal to the original, which made such a hit here. The comedy will be staged with new and appropriate scenery, and the company will be added to by the engagement of Miss Polly Stockwell, who is said to be a very capable and attractive young actress. "Charley's Aunt" is the
