

DISFIGURING FACE SORES

How to Cure Them.

Pimples, face sores, and the kindred eruptions common to late winter and early spring, are, the worst disfigurements the face has to bear. The indoor life winter has caused impure matter which the skin should get rid of for the blood, to remain in the pores; the process of exhalation is interrupted; the general complexion suffers, and just where the bad matter collects, pimples, ulcers and sores quickly appear. To remove them, the pores must be opened and the functions of the skin stimulated, by the vigorous application of Zam-Buk morning and night, and washing frequently with Zam-Buk Medical Soap. Zam-Buk reaches the roots of the disease by soaking through the skin and tissues and expelling the germs which expel disease and make the skin do its work, which can be done simply by the use of internal medicine. Miss Ellen Smith, of Somerville Ave., Toronto, says: "My face was greatly disfigured by a skin eruption which annoyed me dreadfully for months. I was advised to try Zam-Buk and I am glad I did for it quickly removed the trouble and my face is now clear of all eruptions."

Zam-Buk contains no animal fat whatever, but is a pure healing salve. It cures rashes, burns, chafing, cold sores, itchy rashes, running sores, ringworm, eczema, red, inflamed patches, and all diseased, itchy and irritated conditions of the skin. Pleasant at all stages and stages, 50c per post-paid, upon receipt of price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

ST. JOHN MAN IN SASKATOON

A visitor to Saskatoon today was A. Haining, of St. John, N. B. Mr. Haining is a member of the large hardware firm of Emerson & Fisher, whose headquarters are in the New Brunswick city. Speaking to The Capital today, Mr. Haining stated that he is well pleased with what he has seen in the west. He left St. John early in April intending to proceed to the coast. The trip, however, embraced so many points of interest, that he was fain to stop over a while at each. The result was that he landed in Saskatoon yesterday. The "Hub" fame is well known "way down east," and it was but natural that Mr. Haining should desire to visit us. He was driven about the town and suburbs yesterday and got a good view of the locality. The situation of Saskatoon, as offering a fine opening for a wholesale and retail business, was pointed out. The visitor was surprised at the growth shown, and the general signs of progress noticeable everywhere in this budding metropolis, and expressed himself in these terms. Mr. Haining left this afternoon for Edmonton, and will continue thence to Calgary on his way to the coast. He expects to return to St. John about June 1—Saskatoon Capital, April 23.

MARINE DEPARTMENT INQUIRY WILL BE COMMENCED ON FRIDAY

Mr. R. L. Borden Makes the Charge That Partizan Lawyers Have Been Engaged to Conduct it—Mr. Brodeur Declares He Wants Whole Truth to Come Out.

Ottawa, April 28.—The escape of Private Mair after shooting down Sergt. Lloyd at Kingston barracks was brought to attention of the house today by Major Beattie who was of the opinion that the government should have offered some reward for his apprehension. The Finance minister introduced two bills which were foreshadowed in the budget speech. The first of these legislates the proceedings which were taken last year in connection with advances for moving grain. The second bill amends the bank act permitting banks at certain seasons to issue additional circulation to the extent of fifteen per cent. of their combined paid up capital and reserve. This is designed for assisting in the grain movement from the west. Mr. Beaugrand, of St. Francis, introduced a bill to amend the criminal code with respect to proceedings for contempt of court in connection with judgments. At present a judge may fine or imprison any one whom he deems to have unfairly criticized his judgment. Mr. Beaugrand's bill would require such a case to be tried by a jury or by another judge, thus doing away with the possibility of spite or personal resentment influencing the judge's decision. Several questions put by members at the opposition and replied to by Mr. Brodeur led up to a discussion of the investigation into the marine department which commenced Friday. Mr. Bergeron wanted to know who had suggested the appointment of counsel. Mr. Brodeur said that Judge Caselle had expressed the view that he should be given legal assistance. Mr. Foster asked on what grounds the lawyers chosen had been named. "Because they are men of repute, and there is no other reason," replied the minister. Then matter was allowed to drop till a motion to go into supply was reached when R. L. Borden declared that under the order in council, the inquiry must be restricted in its character. He commented on the fact that the Royal Civil Service Commission had left the inquiry in respect to the marine department in an unfinished state. The government, not having seen fit to send the report back to the commissioners to be completed, might have seen that the commissioners had a legal representative present at the forthcoming inquiry. Now, when the department, minister and government were to be placed on trial, two lawyers, both well known Liberals, had been named to assist Judge Caselle. This was in strange contrast to the policy pursued by the Conservatives at the investigation of the departments in 1901 when H. B. Oiler and Mr. Coffrin, who were both associated with the Liberal party, were named. The present minister had, on more than one occasion, shown a disposition to shield himself behind his immediate predecessor. As Mr. Perron had been a partner of Mr. Prefontaine it was easy to see the reason for his appointment.

Mr. Borden then repeated his views that the royal commissioners whose work will be a sense be under review should have been called upon to nominate the legal representative. Their choice would not have been so closely touched with the Liberal organization. Mr. Brodeur, who replied with some heat, declared he was anxious to have the inquiry as wide as possible. He had told the house that it was his desire that officials of the department who have been depicted in their duty should not be spared and that those who are under any false suspicion should be cleared. "I am anxious to see the truth in this matter," he said, "and I want to see such an investigation as will satisfy the people of Canada." Mr. Brodeur denied that he had ever tried to shield himself behind his predecessor in office. "I have not done so," he declared, "and will not go behind a corpse or a coffin to escape responsibility. I want the truth, the whole truth, and perhaps we will find truths which will surprise somebody." Mr. Bergeron intimated that Judge Caselle was apparently appointed to review the report of the commission. This was combated by Mr. Fielding, who said an erroneous view appeared to exist as to the nature of the task set for Judge Caselle. He was to inquire into certain matters specified in the commissioner's report about which the commission had either said too much or too little. Charges of corruption were made. His duty was to show "who was corrupt and where." There was nothing in the report that reflected on the head of the department, who was not responsible for the report in his constitutional responsibility. He referred to the fact that the Conservative government in 1892 received a civil service commission report and in four years prior to 1896 did nothing with it. Mr. Foster replied that if the Conservatives did nothing in four years, the Liberals did nothing in the twelve years following. The report was not a party affair but a state affair and the duty of dealing with the report of 1892 devolved upon the Liberals when they came into power in 1896. Mr. Foster strongly criticized the minister of justice for his speech at Newmarket following the civil service report being brought down in which he had criticized their work. The debate was continued by Messrs. Bergeron, Fielding, Foster, Lennox, Bristol and others. Mr. Fielding said Judge Caselle was appointed to enquire into certain matters specified in the report about which the commission "has either said too much or too little." His duty was to "show who was corrupt and where."

FORTUNE WASTED

A Bankrupt Youth Who Threw Away $34,000 in 6 Years

(Lloyd's Weekly News.) Harold Collins, described as Colchester House, Maidenhead, told the Windsor Bankruptcy Court on Monday that $34,000 expended by him in six years had gone to pleasure—in living, motor cars, traveling, and lending money. Some time since a warrant was issued for the arrest of the bankrupt owing to his having gone abroad. Last month, however, he appeared and surrendered at the court, and made apology. The costs were paid on his behalf, and the warrant was then withdrawn by the court. The bankrupt gave details of having mortgaged or realized the whole sum of $22,000 receivable at the age of twenty-five under his father's will; also the sum of $8,000 he would have received under his grandfather's will when reaching the age of twenty-one, but which he realized for $3,000 altogether between the age of eighteen and twenty-one. His estimated liabilities are now $2,700. In regard to a charge upon his annuity given to Messrs. Ashton and Mitchell, the theatre agents in London, to secure payment of £40 lbs. 10d. debt and costs he explained to the Official Receiver that there were county court proceedings against him and he made that arrangement rather than appear in court. He had been hoping to be repaid a loan by Mr. Mitchell, but this was done by Mr. Watson. In 1905 he spent about £4,000, in 1906 about £3,000, and last year about £1,000. The Registrar: You simply threw your money about and kept no account?—I kept no account.

From eighteen, when you left school, till you attained your majority, how much money did you raise?—About $6,000. Can you give any account of what you have done with these large sums?—I cannot. Pressed, he said he had done a little betting, but only lost £100 altogether. That is a mere bagatelle. Where has all this money gone?—£28,000 and $8,000—$34,000 altogether in six years. A tremendous amount of money has been paid in interest, and the rest gone in extravagant living.

Debtor had also been in the habit of making presents of jewellery to ladies—he should think about £2,000 altogether. His present annuity of £250 would cease when he is twenty-five years of age in August next, when he would then have nothing whatever.

A joint meeting of the laymen's missionary movement committees of the Methodist churches was held in the parlors of the Wesleyan church last evening. G. A. Henderson was in the chair. Considerable progress with the work of organization was made, and the meeting adjourned until next Tuesday.

The teachers and staff of St. Peter's Sunday school enjoyed themselves at a supper and social in the Hall, Elm street, last evening. After the good things had been disposed of, a social time was enjoyed by all present. The Y. M. C. orchestra furnished music and solos were given.

AT THE NICKEL

The experiences of a country girl in a seminary is the subject of the Nickel's leading picture for today and tomorrow. It is an Edison film of 1400 feet and treats of life in a fashionable college with the comely country lass heroine of a dozen adventures, including a horse race, basketball match, boxing escapade, theft, assault, sensational friend, like all good romances, a marriage. The picture is colored and the scenes are enacted in one of the leading ladies colleges in the United States. A Holiday Making in Japan depicts the 1908 people at their national fête, and is very edifying. A Hunchback for Luck is a French comedy about a lottery ticket. There are three brand new pictures, as we explained before, the Nickel is enabled through special arrangement to show the "first run" of all the new film as soon as it is issued. The songs Rose and Dreams of You and Saw will be concluded tomorrow night.

Mr. Brown has added three new high class comic productions to his repertoire this season, each of which will have the same care as to staging that made his engagements here last season so enjoyable. Together with the most popular of his last season's list Mr. Brown has added Kyrie Bellew's greatest success "Raffles, The Amateur Crackman," which will be the Monday and Thursday evening selection, Wilson Barrett's famous play "The Sign of the Cross" and "My Right of Sword."

Mr. Lator was asked to speak on political matters and he predicted a great landslide for the Conservatives in Ontario in the next general election. The provincial elections were likely to be held in June and the probabilities were Mr. Lator said, that Mr. McCall, leader of the Ontario opposition, would have a smaller number of seats than the Conservatives in the present government was given over to corrupt practices, together with the ruinous immigration policy and the odious land revenue work of the various municipalities, securing a great Conservative victory.

Mr. Lator said the length of the session depended on the introduction of the new franchise bill by Hon. Mr. Ayleworth. This bill affected Northern Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia, and would result in the establishing of a "thin red line" to the exclusion of thousands of Conservative voters. If an attempt was made to force this bill through, the Conservatives would fight it tooth and nail until late in the fall, rather than have it become law. The bill was held over the session might end in June.

WENT TO DEATH LIKE TRUE MEN

Discipline and Bravery of Gladiators' Crew Unsurpassed in History.

London, April 28.—Today's mild though dismal weather greatly helps the salvage operations at the Gladiators. Divers report seeing several bodies in the stranded ship, but are still unable to reach them. Meanwhile the divers are busy recovering all portable things carrying away battered boots and other material, and are also searching for confidential papers and the ship's books, the recovery of which will assist the authorities to complete the list of missing.

From every quarter of the globe and notably the United States come messages of enthusiasm for the triumph of self-control and discipline displayed. "Give me a shoeborn that drenched bluejacket who was sticking to the shining brass hull of the Gladiator as it grounded." "Give the old girl a cheer. She's struck land at last," the rest of the half drowned but wholly jubilant cheered as only Britons can cheer. The least exhausted of them slid down the ship's hull and somersaulted cheerily into the sea. At least 35 of them went in this and similar ways to death.

Another incident which strikes the world's imagination is that of a bluejacket who climbed over on to the deck of the St. Paul when looked in the Cruiser's hull. He saluted as he foot touched the liner's deck, seemed temporarily dazed, rapidly recovering himself he saluted again, then looked round seemed to realize his position and gasped, "Oh, my God, what have I done, what will my captain say?" then jumped back to the Gladiator and to death. "There he is," says a German commentator, today, "large nobility is that immortal question, 'what will my captain say?' It is the heroic note of Raleigh, Grenville, Drake and Nelson."

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Thistle Curling Rink Co., Ltd., held at the rink last evening, reports were received and the old board of directors re-elected.

GRAY MURDER CASE WAS TAKEN UP YESTERDAY

Trial of Richard Gray for Killing His Daughter's Child Now on at Woodstock.

Woodstock, N. B., April 28.—Keen interest is being taken in the session of the Circuit Court which opened this morning at the court house at Upper Woodstock over the trial of Richard Gray, charged with murdering the child of his wife. This is the third murder trial to be held in this county within four years.

The grand jury after retiring selected John A. Lindsay foreman, heard the evidence of Deputy Sheriff Foster, Estella Gray and Dr. Field and returning brought in a true bill for murder. To the charge the prisoner in a clear voice pleaded not guilty.

Solicitor General McLeod is prosecuting, aided by J. C. Hartley and Hon. W. P. Jones, who as solicitor general was prosecuting Gray at the preliminary examination, is now defending the prisoner. Mr. Jones was only engaged yesterday on the retirement of T. C. L. Ketchum, and he was allowed a conference with the prisoner in the barristers' room, after which the work of selecting a jury proceeded. Rainsford Birmingham and Francis Doherty were challenged by the crown and George Arnold and John J. Eggers were challenged by Mr. Jones. Gilbert Gilbrison and Coun. W. C. Bidout were stood aside, the former being a witness for the prosecution and the latter being more than 60 years of age.

The jury was then sworn as follows: H. H. Smalley, C. E. Gallagher, Harding C. Wolfe and Amos Demerouty, Eber Kearney, Henry B. Smith, John Farley, Wilnot Robinson, Henry Post, Michael Keenan and Frank Hayward.

Solicitor General McLeod addressed the jury in an able speech, giving the facts of the case from the birth of the child on January 22d last, claiming that it was born alive, that it was taken out of the bedroom by the prisoner and deposited by him where it was found a mile from the house by Wilnot Lawrence and Leonard Wolverson on February 19th under an upper covered with snow.

Estella Gray swore that she lived in a log and covered with snow. Richard Gray was and seventeen years of age last December. She had lived all her life with her parents with the exception of a few months when she was with her Grandfather Shaw in Somerville, that she gave birth to a child on January 22d, that she was three months alive, that she took what she supposed was the child after it was wrapped in a blanket by her mother out of the room through the kitchen and shed out doors, inside of half an hour after its birth.

The spectators were ordered out of the room during a part of Miss Gray's evidence. Wilnot Lawrence and Leonard Wolverson swore to the finding of the body, notifying Sheriff Foster, who took the body to the corner in Bath.

Ralph Whitney swore he resided in Houlton, was a policeman, assisted Foster to arrest prisoner near Houlton on February 8th. Neither Foster nor he offered any inducement or in any way threatened the prisoner to secure the confession which he made. Whitney was about to give the confession of the prisoner when Hon. Mr. Jones objected to the evidence on the ground that neither Foster nor Whitney were the prisoner not to make a confession, as it might be used against him on trial. Mr. Jones quoted authorities on this subject. The Solicitor General also read opinions contra and it being 6 o'clock, his honor adjourned the court until tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

TORTURED BOY MAKE HIM STEAL

Toronto, April 28.—The tortures of the inquisition were revived by four small boys in a stable in East End Saturday afternoon last. The victim was Fulton Wood. Tying him securely with a rope, they threatened to hang him to a beam if he would not obey their instructions. The lads wanted to force young Wood to go into the house and steal the money so that they could procure smoke. He refused even when threatened with hanging. Then the boys got some matches and lit them. Placing them to the lad's finger tips they tried to force him to go in. Still he refused them, while he was cries and yelling with pain. At last other boys got afraid, and released their victim.

Fulton went home and told his parents what had happened, with the result that the police were notified, and the four boys will be arrested.
