PREMIER AND MANION CLASH AT FT. WILLIAM

Cheers and Boos Evoked by Personal Dispute Over
House Records.

BOTH SPEAK FROM SAME PLATFORM

Candidate Denies He Asked to be Paired With Dr.
Lepage

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Oct. 12.—Premier King's meeting at Fort William had unexpected developments. He had been given an attentive hearing for about an hour when a chance remark almost precipitated a spirited debate between himself and Hon. Dr. Manion, Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment in the Meighen Administration and Conservative candidate of the riding.

The Prime Minister was recounting the story of the restoration of pension rights to the men who served on the Grand Trunk in 1910. He spoke of efforts made to have these rights restored and of an amendment to this effect that he had proposed to the Grand Trunk acquisition bill of the Meighen administration. Mr. Meighen, he said, had voted against the amendment and, according to the records of Parliament, Dr. Manion did not vote, but was paired with Dr. Lepage. This, he said, Dr. Manion was not present, but had asked to be paired.

DR. MANION CALLS OUT.
Dr. Manion did nothing of the kind, he suddenly called out to himself, who was at the back of the hall.
Dr. Manion's interruption created an uproar. Supporters of his present, called for "three cheers for Manion," and there was both cheering and jeering.

RISES TO PROTEST AGAIN.
Premier King continued that Dr. Manion knew the rules of Parliament as well as any other member. "He knows," proceeded Mr. King, that "when a member desires to support a resolution he takes care to be in Parliament to vote for it. Now, I would draw your attention to the fact that when the resolution with respect to the Grand Trunk was before Parliament, Dr. Manion was not there to vote in support of it."

LEAVES IT TO RECORDS.
"I leave it to the records of Parliament," said Premier King. "The record of Parliament," he added, "showed that Dr. Manion was paired with those who voted 'aye' instead of 'yea.'"
"Let the records of Parliament speak for themselves. I am content to leave the question whether Dr. Manion asked that he should be paired. I will leave him to explain in his own way and in his own time. But again I refer you to the records of Parliament."

DR. MANION SPEAKS.
Dr. Manion began with the remark that he would be presuming too much to take up any length of time. Nor did he think he would be fair to attempt to criticize the Prime Minister's speech, but the Prime Minister knew very well, proceeded Dr. Manion, that the pairing of members was a common occurrence. Dr. Manion did not remember the circumstances of his pairing with Dr. Lepage on the Grand Trunk vote, but it might well be that Dr. Lepage had asked for the pair.

TEARS DROWN PRAYERS

TOKIO, Oct. 12.—Prayers were drowned by weeping when hundreds of girls of the segregated district here were taken under the watchful eyes of their owners to the dwelling of a statue to the goddess of mercy. The statue marks the place where many geisha girls, locked in during the earthquake, were burned to death. At the unveiling the girls wept so that the voice of the Buddhist priest, reading prayers, could not be heard.

SUPPLIES SENT TO DISTRESSED FAMILY

Red Cross Helps Those Who
Were Sheltered in Stable—
Children's Aid Also.

From the New Brunswick provincial Red Cross headquarters in Prince William street there were sent out yesterday two large consignments of emergency supplies. For the family which had been taking shelter in a stable in Saint John the society gave two beds, a large bundle of clothing, quilts and a generous supply of bedding. The gift is indeed a godsend and has been received with sincere gratitude. The other consignment of supplies went out to the Children's Aid Home on behalf of which Mrs. J. H. Doody had made an earnest appeal at the last meeting of the New Brunswick division. The Children's Aid received 24 garments, six blankets and some quilts. The supplies at the home have got down to a very low ebb and the bedding especially was deplorably outworn. The society's help in this direction will be more than welcome.

TYPE-SETTING FILM

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Type-setting by photography is the latest invention heralded as a printing revolution. J. R. C. August and E. K. Hunter, who have devised the system, predict that metal type printing will soon be obsolete. The basis of the invention is a film on which letters and all kinds of type have been photographed. By means of a keyboard like that of a typewriter characters from a "master film" are projected in rapid sequence to a sensitized base and photographed by fractional exposures.

Apparently he had been cleaning the pistol, and the coroner's verdict was that it accidentally discharged.

Dr. Emil Kammerer, lawyer, of Vienna, Austria, is suing for that amount with interest for three years, claiming it is due him in establishing the right of the oil heiress to the title. Her counsel wanted to know by virtue of what law her husband was a count in the Republic of Austria.

TRUE RELIGION.

Rev. J. S. Bonnell spoke on the Challenge of Christ to the young people of Canada. He showed the fallacy of three misconceptions of religion, first that religion was merely an appendix to life and not at all an essential; second, that religion was only a temporary expedient not at all necessary in the days of youth; and third, that religion restricted enjoyment of life. Mr. Bonnell said Christ had offered more than these misconceptions in the
