MISS ROOSEVELT IN ATHLETICS.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Miss Alice Roosevelt is a daily pupil in equestrianism. She may be seen at Chevy Chase taking the hurdles almost any morning. She has not as yet attempted any cross-country riding, but confines herself to dashes at the bars under the eye of a riding master in order to perfect herself for the fall meets.

It is said that she devotes a part of each day to the gymnasium and is practising fencing and other athletic exercises. Some say that Miss Roosevelt is one of the clique of young girls who sometimes don the gloves and have a merry bout.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MAY 21, 1902.

THE GLOBE AND LOYALTY.

The Globe on Monday evening had a brief but sneering editorial on the Loyallists. The purpose of the article was to show that they were not so very loyal, since many of them, and more of their descendants, got back to the States as soon as they could. There was also a veiled sneer at the descendants of the Loyallists, because no monument has thus far been erected; and it was added that, though Loyallists founded the city, men who came later from the "old country" built it up.

Such an article, appearing on the very day observed as a holiday in the city schools in commemoration of the landing of the Loyallists, could only be written to express the Globe's contempt for the observance. This, of course, excited no surprise, in the minds of the general public.

The surprise came last evening when one who signs himself a "Descendant of a Loyallist" contributed a letter nearly a column long to the Globe, to defend the Loyallists and their children from the aspersions cast upon them.

"The Globe is my paper," writes this descendant of a Loyallist, in his opening sentence. Why, then, should he enter a note of protest? He knows that the Globe is the only paper in these provinces that has ever openly advocated annexation. He cannot have forgotten that the Telegraph once felt called upon to threaten the editor of the Globe with the punishment meted out to the traitor who "dampens the powder of the garrison" of a beleaguered city. A descendant of a Loyallist who can call such a paper "my paper," without disturbing the revered shades of his ancestors, has no cause for voluminous protest against so mild an expression of sneering contempt as the editorial in Monday's Globe.

ONE CHANCE MORE.

The mayor has received word that Hon. Mr. Blair will arrange for a delegation from St. John to meet the government when the members come together again the last of this month. It now devolves upon the city council, the board of trade and the business community generally to strengthen the hands of the delegation by formulating a definite plan for work to be done this summer, and by such an unanimous and energetic expression of opinion that the government will feel that it must do something. Mr. Tarte arrived in Quebec last Saturday, accompanied by his acting chief engineer, to look over the harbor works, and he informed the citizens that it was his intention to spend a million dollars on new works at that port. Under such circumstances St. John may very properly assert her rights, and there should be neither uncertainty nor delay.

KEEP TO THE FRONT.

The Tory newspapers criticize the government for appointing Hon. H. R. Emerson's son on the coronation contingent, but they will probably have no word of condemnation for the appointment of Capt. Morrison, editor of the Tory Ottawa Citizen, to the same service. Hon. Dr. Borden seems to be keeping the militia department pretty clear of politics.—Fredericton Herald.

No Tory paper has asked that a "Tory" be appointed from New Brunswick. Is Lieut. Emerson the only liberal among provincial officers? Will the Herald tell us what are Lieut. Emerson's peculiar claims to the position, and why this province, which has supplied so many good men for South Africa, should only send one officer—who was not in South Africa—to attend the coronation? Why should Mr. Blair's province not receive fair play?

PLAY BALL.

In an editorial yesterday morning the Telegraph rather expressed its regret that professional baseball players were being imported into the city. It also suggested that it would be more creditable if the game were played by amateurs. It is unnecessary save for the enlightenment of the editor who wrote the paragraph to state that there is no organization called the St. John baseball team, to which these men are coming. But that aside, would it not be well and in the interest of amateur sport which one of the editors appears to have at heart, to organize a baseball team among the present and recent editors of the Telegraph. There is no doubt that an interesting game could be arranged between it and the hospital commissioners' nine. With a loaf of sour bread on each base and a firkin of tainted butter on the home-plate there would be a good chance for the Telegraph editors to win out.

For the information of the Telegraph it may be stated that the site of the proposed abattoir is not at all near to the entrance to Rockwood Park.

STILL SOME HOPE.

Since the evening reprint has taken to explaining its own jokes, perhaps it will elucidate the strange contrast between its recent editorials alleging St. John to be unfortunate and its little less recent editorials such as one headed "St. John is all right" and beginning: "Communities like individuals, are sometimes subject to fits of depression, for which no sound reason can be given."—Telegraph.

The esteemed Telegraph will kindly observe that a city may in itself be "all right," and at the same time unfortunate in its choice of representatives—as when an alleged "strong man" proves to be sadly lacking in strength when the interests of his constituency are involved. Even a city newspaper may go wrong; but if the Telegraph will continue its careful study of the utterances of this ambitious young journal and profit thereby, there is no good reason why in a few years it should not set itself right.

American concerns appear to have an eye on the graduates of McGill. Not long since a number of graduates in civil engineering were offered more places than they could fill in American cities, and now an American insurance company offers to pay the expenses and give instruction for from thirty to sixty days in its business to students who have worked their way through the whole or part of their university course, and will guarantee positions worth $75 a month to the best of them.

The Fredericton Gleaner says that the Old Burial Ground in that city will be cleaned up and the falling monuments straightened up. In the Old Burial Ground in St. John at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday evening six youths were balancing themselves on the top of as many tombstones, while other youths looked on and admired.

NEW PASTOR WELCOMED.

Rev. Christopher Burnett, the new minister of Leinster street Baptist church, was formally inducted into his new pastorate last night, and was heartily welcomed to St. John by representatives from the various evangelical denominations in the city. Rev. Dr. Manning presided at the service, in which Rev. H. H. Roach, Rev. R. C. M. Campbell, Rev. C. T. Phillips and Rev. Dr. Fotheringham participated. The musical programme consisted of congregational singing, anthem by the choir and a solo by Miss Drake.

Clerk A. A. Wilson briefly related the circumstances leading to the unanimous call of Rev. Mr. Burnett. A cordial address of welcome was then delivered by Rev. H. F. Waring, Rev. C. T. Phillips, Rev. G. M. Campbell, Rev. Dr. Fotheringham and Rev. R. R. Morison.

In a brief but clear and strong address, Rev. Mr. Burnett returned thanks for the kind welcome he had received. He also was a strong believer in the growth of denominational unity, of which the present meeting was a remarkable demonstration. Speaking of the ministry he had entered upon in Leinster street, he said that for it to be a success both he and his congregation must believe that they had a mission to fulfil, and be determined to fulfil it. He considered that a church which had lived for 45 years need not apologise for its existence. Leinster street church had a work to do and it should be done if the congregation would give him their prayers, their moral support and their attendance—especially on wet Sundays. He asked them to want him as much as he wanted them, both regarding his preaching and his management of the church. He would possibly make many mistakes for which he would crave indulgence in advance, but he would promise them that he would always be true to the old gospel and keep the cross of Christ and all it stood for paramount in his preaching and his life.

MEETING.

A well attended meeting of the local assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was held in St. Mary's Church school house last night. Rev. W. O. Raymond gave a very interesting and instructive address on the Council of Nice and Early Church History.

Dr. J. E. March has resigned the directorship of the music festival choral, which is deeply regretted by the members. Living on Partridge Island he finds it hard to attend all the practices of the chorus, hence the resignation. A. Chip, Ritchie is mentioned as his successor.

The managing committee of the St. John branch of the New Brunswick British and Foreign Bible Society met in the Y. M. C. A. parlors last evening to choose officers of the society for the ensuing year. The following were elected: George E. Fairweather, president; Wm. Peters, Dr. W. S. Morrison, C. E. MacMichael and J. E. Woodburn, vice-presidents; Joshua Forbes, secretary; Joshua Clawson, treasurer and Mr. McKelvie, agent. The old chairman of committees were re-appointed with the exception of the repository committee, over which Ald. T. H. Bullock was elected for the next year.

THE PRESBYTERY.

An adjourned meeting of the Presbytery of St. John was held last evening at St. Andrew's Church. There were present: Rev. Dr. Morrison, moderator; Rev. A. H. Foster, clerk; Rev. Dr. Fraser, Dr. Fotheringham, Rev. Mr. Burgess, Rev. W. W. Rainnie, Rev. Mr. Ross, Rev. G. D. Ireland, Elders S. R. Jack and Peter Chisholm; also the delegates from Calvin Church, J. H. Murphy, T. S. Hill, Wm. Robertson and James Buchanan.

The first business was the consideration of the resignation of Rev. W. W. Rainnie of Calvin Church. T. S. Hill read a report on behalf of Calvin church, thanking the Presbytery and Rev. Mr. Ross for showing them a way out of their difficulties as a church, and expressing the very highest appreciation of Rev. Mr. Rainnie as their pastor for nine years, and also expressing deep regret that it would be necessary for him to sever his pastoral relations. Rev. Messrs. Fraser, Fotheringham and Macneil spoke briefly, testifying to their personal regret and the loss of the Presbytery which would be caused by Rev. Mr. Rainnie's retirement. The resignation of Rev. Mr. Rainnie was then accepted.

Rev. Mr. Ross was appointed to proclaim the pulpit vacant on June 1st.

The next matter considered was the call from Blackville, Northumberland Co., to Rev. D. Fraser of St. George. On motion it was decided that the congregations of St. George, Penfield, and Bocabec be cited to appear at the next meeting of the Presbytery, to be held in July.

Superintendent Ross of the Home Mission board recommended the payment of the balance of a bill for the supply of Norton, Hampton, Selina and Salisbury.—Passed.

Several notices read by the clerk were approved.

Rev. L. G. Macneil said it would not be possible for him to attend the meeting of the general assembly, and asked that the member next in order be approved as a delegate.—Sanctioned.

SPLENDID CANVAS CANOES.

W. H. Thorne & Co. have recently made an important addition to their stock of goods suitable for sportsmen's use. It was the importation from the State of Maine of a large assortment of canvas canoes, which cannot fail to make a favorable impression. They are displayed in one of the upper floors of the Messrs. Thorne's spacious establishment on Market square, and are so shown that each and every canoe can be thoroughly examined. The canoes run from 16 to 18 feet in length. They are substantially built, the frames being remarkably strong. Canvas will not tear as easily as wood in the experiences through which a canoe is bound to pass. The canoes are of different models, some being designed for the use of guides, while others are of extreme width, which permits of the carriage of a larger quantity of supplies. The finish of the canoes is very stylish, and no one who wishes to purchase anything in this line should do so before examining the Messrs. Thorne's stock.

SENT IN ANSWER TO PRAYER.

Queer Looking Things on Deacon Brown's Wall—Says He Asked For Them.

VINCENNES, Ind., May 20.—Images of a woman of the face of an Indian squaw, of two doves, of beasts and reptiles and verses of Scripture have shown themselves on the kalsomined walls and ceiling of the cabin of Israel Brown, a negro of this city. Brown is intensely religious and a deacon in the African Methodist church. He says that God should manifest Himself to the world that all might believe in Christianity. He says that every night for thirty years he had prayed earnestly for the manifestations. Brown's wife has been dead twenty years and several of the older people say the image of the woman is a likeness of her.

DUTY ON BROOK TROUT.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Brook, or speckled trout, brought into Maine from the provinces of Canada, are dutiable at the rate of one-fourth of a cent a pound, not at three-fourths of a cent a pound, as collectors of customs have been holding. But it is incumbent on the importers to show the habitat of the trout. The decision has just been rendered by the general board of customs' appraisers on a case brought up from the collector at Boston, on importations from Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. The collector's decision was sustained and the protest overruled, but that was because the protestants did not show the habitat of the speckled trout.

POLYMORPHIAN CLUB SMOKER.

The Polymorphian Club's committee will meet this evening at R. J. Wilkins' store, King street, to perfect arrangements for the grand smoker to be held in Victoria Rink on Thursday night to arouse interest in the celebration of King Edward's coronation next month, an occasion on which the club intends to surpass all its previous displays. The programme for tomorrow night at the Victoria is a huge one, and a grand good time is assured. Every member of the club should make it a point to attend and hear what lines of work are being put out.

FISHERY CONFERENCE.

OTTAWA, May 20.—The fisheries conference was held today in the office of the minister of marine. The Dominion representatives were: Hons. Sutherland, Fielding, Fitzpatrick and Templeman. Hon. Mr. Tweedie arrived this morning to represent New Brunswick. The discussion centred at first on the question of jurisdiction, but no decision was arrived at. Another meeting will be held tomorrow.

LONDON, May 20.—A woman balloonist named Edith Brooke was today dashed to death at Sheffield through the failure of the parachute apparatus to work properly.

CALMLY AWAITED ERUPTION.

PARIS, May 19.—Martinique mails, forwarded just prior to the disaster, arrived here yesterday. The newspapers print a number of private letters from St. Pierre, giving many details of events immediately preceding the catastrophe.

The most interesting of these is a letter dated May 3, from a young woman who was among the victims. After describing the aspect of St. Pierre before dawn, the town being lit up with flames from the volcano, everything covered with ashes, and the people greatly excited, yet not panic stricken, she said:

"My calmness astonished me. I am awaiting the event tranquilly. My only suffering from the dust, which penetrates everywhere, even through closed windows and doors."

"We are all calm. Mamma is not a bit anxious. Edith alone is frightened."

"If death awaits us, there will be a numerous company to leave the world. Will it be by fire or asphyxiation? It will be what God wills. You will have to wait for that."

"Tell brother Robert that we are still alive. This will, perhaps, be no longer true when this letter reaches you."

The Edith mentioned was a visitor who was among the rescued.

Another letter, written during the afternoon of May 3, says:

"The population of the neighborhood of the mountain is flocking to the city. Business is suspended, the inhabitants are panic stricken and the firemen are sprinkling the streets and roofs, to settle the ashes which are filling the air."

These and other letters seem to indicate that evidence of the impending disaster were numerous five days before it occurred. It is difficult to understand how it was that a general exodus of the population of St. Pierre did not take place before May 8.

WANTED.—A case of Headache that KUMFORT Powders will not cure in from ten to twenty minutes.

DR. HALE SCORES THEOLOGIANS.

CHICAGO, May 20.—Dr. Everett Hale has scored the theologians (or not having a knowledge of "religion" in his sermon at the University of Chicago. He defined a theologian as one who has a theory about God and his relation to his fellowmen which he can state in scientific terms, and said that the tendency for men to know theories but not the religious life, shows itself more and more in literary and refined circles.

In presenting the "Religion of the Lord's prayer," he said: "The four gospels are the despair and terror of the scientific theologians."

He said the Lord's prayer was the only ritual the Saviour had left and declared it to be a complete statement of the fundamentals of religion. "Wherever repeats the Lord's prayer or thinks it," he said, "comes into heavenly relation with God and man."

There is full weight in every package of Red Rose tea.

MONTREAL, May 20.—An affidavit produced today in the St. James election fraud made by J. H. Lefleur, representative of Mr. Bergeron, states that he was offered money to keep his eyes shut to what was going on, and that gross frauds were committed at that gross frauds were committed at the polls, including the substitution of the ballot and the stuffing of ballot boxes. Lefleur also says he received money from agents of Brunet, the liberal candidate.
