SOCIETY TO RETAIN MONASTIC EXISTENCE

Boston, Nov. 6.—Through an notification received by the Bishops of the Episcopal church from Right Rev. Frederick Kinsman, Bishop of Delaware, it became known tonight that the monastic Order of Atonement which has its headquarters at St. Paul's Priory, Praymore, Fossil-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., has left the Episcopal diocese of Delaware and been deposited into the Roman Catholic church. The Prior of Superior of the order, Rev. Father Paul James Francis, who was canonically attached to the Episcopal diocese of Delaware has been deposed from the priesthood by Bishop Kinsman because of his defection from that denomination.

Father Paul formerly resided in Delaware and was the founder of "The First Order of the Society of the Atonement," which had for its object the education of Episcopalians to regard the Pope as the leader and temporal father of Christendom. The Society of the Atonement will retain its corporate and monastic existence in the Catholic church and will be attached to the Franciscan Order in the third degree.

With Father Paul, the only priest in the Monastery, a number of lay brothers go over to the Roman Catholic church. Robert Gallinger son of United States Senator Jacob Gallinger of New Hampshire, who died in New York recently was formerly connected with the Graymorn Monastery, but left it before he became an actual member.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF ST. MARYS MAN
Henry Alcorn Found Drowned
With Money and Valuables
Gone—Evidences of Foul Play.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 6.—Word has been received here of the death of Henry Alcorn, who was about 22 years of age, left here about three years ago, and went to sea. About three weeks ago word was received from the young man that he had obtained his discharge from the ship and was on his way home. Recently, a letter from Oldtown, Maine, conveyed the sad news that a strange young man, Alcorn's companion, was dead, and that from letters found on his person, he was believed to be Harry Alcorn, of St. Marys.

A photograph and a sample of the young man's clothes, was also forwarded here, and the fact was established beyond doubt that the unfortunate young man was Alcorn.

From information received it was learned that after his discharge young Alcorn, who has considerable money on his person, fell in with a stranger, and together they visited several places during the evening. When the body was found the money was missing, and all efforts to locate his companion failed. It has since been learned that Alcorn's companion went to the Maine woods to work on the day following the young man's disappearance, and the authorities are now trying to get in touch with this mysterious stranger.

Alcorn's father, whose name was John Alcorn, died about a month ago.

EVIDENCES OF GRAFT IN GERMAN NAVAL YARDS
Kiel, Nov. 6.—The trial of nine persons implicated in robberies from the navy yard here was continued today. Four officers and five merchants are accused of being mixed up in the affair.

One of the accused merchants, a man of the name of Frankenthal, admitted on the stand today that dealers in various commodities had made extraordinary profits at the expense of the imperial navy yard owing to the hopeless mismanagement and ignorance of values and prices on the part of officers. The dealers, he said, were allowed to fix upset prices for everything. They formed a close ring or combine and declined to bid against each other.

As an instance of how this worked out, Frankenthal admitted that he sold material to the government at 1,000 marks which had originally cost him only 70 marks.

The banner was made by Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont of New York, and bears the inscription, "Votes for Women." It was sent to Mrs. Baker by the leaders of the suffragette movement in New York.

Mrs. Baker, who was one of the American delegates to the International Conference of Women in London last year, chartered a special train to the top of the peak.

Schooner William L. Douglas
Rams Schooner Marguerite off Shinnecock Light—The Douglas Returns to Port.

MARGUERITE IS BADLY DAMAGED

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Nov. 6.—A collision at sea between the six-masted schooner William L. Douglas, bound from Baltimore for Boston, and the four-masted schooner Marguerite, by which the latter was badly damaged, was reported by the William L. Douglas on her arrival at this port tonight. The collision occurred at 11:30 last night when the vessels were eight miles south of Shinnecock light. The William L. Douglas, running before a strong northwest wind, struck the Marguerite, which was close hauled, about midnight. The Douglas was cutting deep into the side of the smaller vessel and carrying away her mainmast.

Impossible To Estimate.
In the darkness it was impossible to tell just how serious was the injury of the Marguerite or whether she was cut down to the water's line, but as the schooners swung apart after the collision, the captain of the Marguerite shouted to Capt. McLean of the Douglas that he would anchor where he was and remain until the William L. Douglas could reach the nearest port and send him assistance. The Marguerite was running light bound from Fall River for a coal port. Her captain reported that she was not leaking when the Douglas left and it is believed that the revenue cutter Achusnet, which left Woods Hole in search of her tonight, will locate the Marguerite all right tomorrow morning and tow her to port. In addition to the loss of her mainmast, the Marguerite had nearly all her sails stripped off.

Not Badly Damaged.
The Douglas was not very badly damaged. Her hull is probably unbroken, but she had her port anchor broken and all her lead stays were carried away. She will remain here until the tug Underwriter arrives from Boston to tow her to that port. The Underwriter left Boston this afternoon.

No statement as to the cause of the collision was made by Capt. McLean. It is understood that the captain was below at the time and that the vessel was in charge of a mate. The weather was clear, but the night was very dark, and even at the time of the collision when the vessels were locked together a few minutes, it was impossible for those on the William L. Douglas to make out anything on the deck of the Marguerite.

Hermits Body is Found in Chair
Apparently Gazing at His Strange Testament—Leaves
Property to Son.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 6.—Peter G. Liest, who claimed a dozen trades and professions, but who was a hermit, was found dead at his home, near Savannah, today. He had been dead since Monday. He was seated in a chair apparently staring at the wall of his room, on which he had written his will. Two hungry bulldogs were guarding the dead man and snarled at the police.

The strange document left all the hermit's property, which is considerable, to his son, who is in school at Sharon, Ga., or in event of his death to Henry Dreyer, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

A year ago Mr. Liest's wife killed herself. Shortly afterward he married again, after an acquaintance of eight hours and was at the time of his death seeking a divorce. Since he separated from his second wife, he became a hermit.

TO INCREASE LUMBER

50 Per cent. Increase in the
Tobique River Cut Is Expected
This Year—The Firms Interested.

Fredericton, Nov. 6.—The lumber cut on the Tobique River this year will be about half as much again as that of last year, according to information obtained from an authentic source.

The greatest increase on the part of any operator is being made by J. D. McLaughlin, of Mill Cove, Queens county. In addition to the three million that he will cut on Three Brooks and Trout Brook, he will also cut five millions on the Stetson & Cutler Company's lands. Messrs. Hillyard Bros., St. John, will increase their operations from three million feet last year to about twice as many this year, while Charles Miller, of St. John, will have an operation of about three million, in charge of Mr. R. A. Estey, of this city. The firm of Donald Fraser & Sons will cut about twelve million feet on the Tobique this year.

Last year the cut on the Tobique was about twenty million feet, and the above figures for the year show a total of twenty-nine millions, while the cuts of small jobbers not mentioned will make the total cut of logs on the Tobique this year about thirty million feet.

VARSITY HEAD

President Falconer administers
Stinging Rebuke to Unruly
Students of Toronto University—Promises Punishment

FUTURE BEHAVIOR TO BE GUARANTEED

Toronto, Nov. 6.—Dignified and manly, but straight from the shoulder, was the stinging rebuke which President Falconer administered in convocation hall to the university students who, by their unruly conduct, disgraced their alma mater on Hallow'en V. brant with suppressed emotion, his voice rang out clear over a shamefaced audience of 2000 men, who, when he ceased, cheered him to the echo.

He said: "Gentlemen, I hardly need to recount to you the occasion, which has given rise to our asking you to meet us here today. Those associated with the university feel deeply humiliated at what occurred on Saturday night.

"The public is indignant. I believe that nine-tenths of you moreover, probably more, are thoroughly indignant, and I take it that the article in The Varsity is a true expression of the minds of those who are the real students in this place.

Humiliating Position.
"We are put in the humiliating position of having asked guests to accept our hospitality, and of having not known how to treat them. The leading educational institution of the Dominion asks ladies to a function and does not know how to afford them protection. Can you think of anything more humiliating than such an action?"

"Many things have been done that we can tolerate, but gentlemen, there are some things as gentlemen, that you cannot tolerate.

"If this continues, self-respecting ladies will refuse to act as patronesses and will refuse their presence at your entertainments.

"There are a few men who got here by mistake, and on them the burden lies.

"What is to be the continuation of this? How can this be avoided? We do not wish to remove from the university and from the tempering influence of its environment these social functions. We hesitate to bring in police from the city. I hesitate to introduce detectives in plain clothing. It might result in the introduction of a spirit of mistrust and the means of prevention become worse than the disease, and so it might be better to banish social functions altogether.

Appeal to Honor.
"Is there no way out? I believe you can control if you only organize and let your influence be felt. I hope the great majority of this university, who are men of honor, will see that this is stopped. Gentlemen, as soon as we get a reasonable assurance from you that we will not be subjected to a repetition of this humiliating, we will give you perfect liberty for the social functions to proceed.

"You have your year organizations and faculty societies. If these bodies will through the medium of parliament, express themselves prepared to stand behind the university to defend it against this disorderliness, the caput will not be obliged to shut down on the privileges.

"I need not tell you what happened on Saturday night. One gentleman's automobile was damaged to the extent of $40 or $50. A door was broken in, university property was damaged. Some coward flung a large stone through one of the windows near which four or five men were standing, and anyone might have been struck. A childish thing, you say, and we are not supposed to have children who will do that sort of thing.

"A party with ladies, strangers to the city, were being taken through the park, and an obstacle was thrown in their way by students, which, fortunately, they avoided, and afterwards stones were thrown at them.

"Can you imagine anything more cowardly? Do you wonder at our indignation that the university should harbor such students?"

"Gentlemen, if we get the men who were responsible for this, we will deal with them, but it is difficult to get them. We look, of course, to the university to meet all the damage. But the feeling and decision of the students should be expressed in some definite way."

"And gentlemen, we trust the students of this university."

After taking his seat President Falconer again rose, and remarked pointedly: "One of the serious functions is called for next week. You will have to act immediately."

Mr. Bray informed The Standard last evening that an information will be formally laid and the matter taken before a magistrate, as his visit to the locality has led him to believe the fire was not an accident.

New York, Nov. 6.—Cypriana Castro, ex-President of Venezuela, has been baffled in an attempt to recover for himself the reins of government of that South American republic, according to a message just received here by the United Wireless Company. The wireless report, was relayed from ships to San Juan. President Castro is himself at present sequestered in a small city in Spain. His conspiracy for an uprising of his allies to overthrow the government of President Gomez, his successor, was discovered by Venezuelan agents more than a fortnight ago, according to the wireless report. The conspirators are now held in Venezuelan prisons.

Castro's plans according to the information received by agram at San Juan, were carefully laid and were of an extensive nature. Rifles, cannon, ammunition and other munitions of war, had been hidden in advantageous places ready for instant use. These supplies, with provisions for a good sized army, had been obtained from unsuccessful promoters of revolutions in other South American countries, and also from well known sources in Venezuela itself.

Paris, Nov. 7.—At the close of the Reims meeting French aeroplane manufacturers received many applications from women, who are very anxious to learn how to control an aeroplane, and it is said that at various factories there are about a dozen women now taking first lessons in aeroplanes. One of them is Mme. Presta, who attracted attention at the Juvassy aviation meeting by her unusual costumes, which consisted of knickers, puttees and a close fitting Norfolk jacket. She has decided views on woman's special fitness for aviation.

"Some poor creatures," she told a reporter, "lack pluck and their nerves seem to bother them. Now I don't think women would be in the least frightened by flight in an aeroplane. I believe that in this respect they would acquire themselves better than men. We women have just as much pluck as any man aviator I have yet seen."

She is now seeking practical experience. What would delight her more than anything else in the world, she says, would be to pilot an aeroplane unaccompanied. So far she has been coldly received by aviators and aeroplane manufacturers.
