RHEUMATISM!

Heretefere there has been a considerable diversity of opinion mong medical men, as to the true character of this disease. Some locating it in the fibrous or muscular tissues of the system, and others viewing it as an acute nervous disease; but it is now generally admitted to be a disease arising from a poison circulating in the blood, and further it is ad vitted that Rheamatism can never be thoroughly cured without exterminating such poisonous matters from the blood, and rejoice more, than the conscientionus physicana, whe has found out that no ne will feel better satisfied, and rejoice more, than the conscientionus physicana, whe has found eat that a cure for this stubborn diverse has been discovered. The following testimony from a gentleman of standing, and high respectability, a d well known to the Canadian public, connot fall to satisfy all that the
