EQUIPMENT OF THE COLLEGE.

The work of the College, which was known at first as the Protestant Episcopal Divinity School, was begun in a very modest way in the year 1877, in the School-house of St. James's Cathedral.

In 1882 the original College Street building, to the south of University College, was completed and occupied, and in 1885 was almost doubled in size by the addition of a handsome library, with dormitories overhead and refectory below.

Even this building proved inadequate for the growing needs of the work, so it was sold for hospital purposes, and the foundation of the present commodious building was laid in the Spring of 1890. This new building which will be formally opened in October of the present year, is beautifully situated in Queen's Park, on Hoskin Avenue, a short distance to the north-east of University College.

It contains rooms for forty-four students, lecture-rooms, library, chapel, housekeeper's quarters and residences for the Principal and the Dean, and is in every way well equipped for its work.

The Library contains at present about 8,000 volumes and receives additions as rapidly as the funds permit. The rooms of the students are suitably furnished; and every provision made for their health and comfort. The generosity of benefactors has provided a number of Bursaries available for those needing this assistance. The College would be greatly strengthened by further benefactions for this purpose. The teaching work of the College is carried on by a staff of four theological professors. Great stress is laid upon the practical work in the city and in country missions as a means of training, which is carried on under the supervision of the Professor of Practical Theology.

THE SITUATION OF THE COLLEGE.

In such a city as Toronto, with many earnest laymen, and especially with many clergymen of theological attainments and experience, means of enriching and strengthening the work of the College are provided, unequalled elsewhere in Canada. There are also in Toronto so many Christian
