Idle Hours Take the Second Place

Defeat Amaranths in Well Contested Game--Largest Crowd of Season.

Had it not been for the bad package handed to them in the last half of the first inning last night, the Amaranths had a right to win the game from the Idle Hours, and eliminating the six runs scored on that occasion the game would have been the best yet played this season, the closest score. What went wrong with the wearers of the purple in the first inning no one seems to know, but it remains the fact that they went all to pieces and it was only by a mighty effort that they pulled themselves together. Outside that one inning they played a rattling game, their opponents scoring but twice in the remaining eight innings. Billy Long and his pal behind the plate of the same name put up an excellent game, the former being much steadier than he has been heretofore. Foichat made three errors that were more than expensive, two of them being muffs of flies that a ten year old should have caught. One new man appeared on the Amaranths, but he did not cut the ice he was expected to.

"Tiv" Krelling was a new star that appeared with the Idylers at short. It was his first offense this season and he plays ball like he wrestles--for all there is in it. At short he covers territory like a whirlwind, bats well and though he was guilty of a couple of bad fumbles that let batters to first when they should have been retired, his playing all through was better than the average. Boyer caught, also his first game this season. He and Lowery made a good battery. The crowd was thought to have been the largest that has yet attended any of the games, a very large number of those present being ladies.

A glance at the score given by innings shows that all the runs on both sides were made in three innings, the Idylers being shut out five times and not playing their last half of the ninth. The Amaranths had six shutouts out of the nine, the first five innings being one succession of goose eggs. They were first to the bag, Nelson, Long and Steinkamp all going out on flies in one, two, three or four. When the Idylers came in they slaughtered the innocents to beat the band and it was more than heart-rending to see the way the runs were piled up. Forrest knocked a single to the left garden and scored on a wild pitch, Kennedy sacrificing in order to forward Forrest. Krelling put a single to Foichat at short and the latter made his first error and it was fierce. Krelling made two bags on the play, coming home on Henderson's hit, a two bagger to right field. Smith took a walk and Carson drove a light grounder to Foichat who again fumbled something fearful throwing to third and allowing Carson to make the second cushion. Henderson scoring in the meantime, Coffey hit for two bags, brought Smith and Carson home and scored himself on a wild pitch. Boyer put a liner to third which Hobson fumbled and during the excitement Coffey stole to third. Lowery took a walk and Forrest came up with the bag full. He sent a long fly to center field which Douse nailed to the cross and by making a long throw to third retired Coffey.

In the second the Amaranths got two men to first but that was the best they could do, Foichat dying on third and Douse on second. Hobson hit light to pitcher and went out at first, Smith having to go up in the air after it. James fanned and Foichat drove a single through third and short. Douse made a good hit to center field and Hickey a light one to pitcher, the latter failing to reach first in time. In the latter half the Idylers scratched out another tally and it looked bad for the Amaranths with a score of 7 to 0. Kennedy drove a liner to third and was retired at first. Krelling hit for two bags and scored on Smith's sacrifice and Henderson drove a liner to the center though he was left on the base. After Smith's sacrifice Carson went out at first on a grounder to third.

In the third again did the Amaranths get two men by first only to die in their tracks. Billy Long got as far as third on a single to second and Nelson reached second on a single to the same spot which was fumbled by Forrest. Then Long the catcher, Steinkamp and Hobson were bowled over like ninepins, the former and the latter going out at first and Steinkamp on a fly to Forrest. In their half the Idylers took a copher, Coffey-pounding air, Boyer going out at second on a pretty double play by Billy Long, Nelson and James, and Lowery retiring at first. The latter hit light to the pitcher who threw to second and Nelson got it to first in time to catch the batter.

The fourth was notable for ciphers on both sides. James put a single to center field which Kennedy nailed as usual, duplicating the performance the next moment when Foichat came up Douse took a walk and Hickey fanned. With the Idylers, Forrest took his base on balls and Kennedy made first on a light hit to third though neither reached home, owing to a splendid play on the part of Long the pitcher. Krelling sacrificed and advanced Forrest to third and Kennedy to second. With but one man out and one on the second and third cushion it looked as though there were two runs in sight sure. Henderson took the willow and drove a single to pitcher and then there was good head work. He made a motion to throw to third thus preventing Forrest from going home then like a flash put the ball to first in time to catch Henderson. Smith went out at first on a pop.

Another zero for the Amaranths in the fifth and the rooters began to lose heart. Billy Long slammed out a two bagger but it availed him nothing as he was left on the base. Nelson went out on a fly to third and Long the catcher sent the same sort of a package to Kennedy. With two men out Steinkamp made a sacrifice hit, the reason for which could not possibly be understood. The Idylers added another score, the last they got during the game. It was made by Coffey who sent a two bagger to left field and scored on a hit by Boyer.

It was in the sixth that the spell against the Amaranths was broken and they made their first runs. Hobson hit to second for a single and scored on a sacrifice hit. Foichat placed a grounder in right field, made third on a passed ball and came home on Foichat's two bagger to the right garden. The latter on Douse's hit was fearful of the fly being saved and did not fare run until late and then he sprang for home like one possessed. Douse made second where he expired, Hickey going out on a fly to Kennedy and Long and Nelson pounding for atmosphere. Three they scored and it gave them badly needed courage. In the latter half Long fanned them out in one, two, three or four. Krelling being the only man to reach first and he had no business to. He dropped a fly into the hands of Foichat and he made his second unpardonable muff. Kennedy, Henderson and Smith fanned.

Each took a copher to the seventh. Long the catcher put a single to short and in felding it Krelling fell down allowing Long to make his base. A moment later Steinkamp dropped a grounder at second and Long was out on a passed ball. Hobson went out on a fly to second and James fanned. In the latter half Carson and Boyer both failed to find the leather and Coffey went out at first.

In the eighth Foichat scored for the Amaranths and the Idylers were presented with a copher. Score, 8 to 1. Another run was pulled out by the Amaranths in the ninth which was the best they could do. Steinkamp hit safe to second and came home with Foichat's assistance. Hobson went out at first as did also James. Foichat came to the plate and lammed out what should have been good for two bags, but he was caught at second and retired. They being ahead the Idylers did not play their half of the ninth. The following is the lineup and score by innings:

Idylers 8 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Amaranths 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 5

Two base hits, Henderson, Coffey (2), Krelling, Billy Long and Foichat. Base on balls--by Long, 3; by Lowery, 0. Base on hit ball, by Long, 7; by Lowery, 5. Umpire, Leroy Tozier. Timekeeper, W. H. B. Lyon.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Double Header for Howard and Edwin Hemen

A joint party is being given this afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Hemen in honor of the anniversary of their sons--Howard, who was 12 years of age on May 13th, and Edwin, who will be 10 tomorrow. All their playmates are present and pan-dimonium reigns in that part of the city. All sorts of games are being played. Youthful voices on the piano, refreshments at which a 20 pound cake was ruthlessly slaughtered are being served, including several gallons of ice cream and lemonade. Laris & Duolos photographed the assembly. Masters Howard and Edwin were the happy recipients of numerous presents from their little friends.

CHURCH NOTICES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The following special music will be sung at tomorrow evening's service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church: Mrs. Edythe Walker will sing "The Shepherd of Souls" from "The Sign of the Cross" by Sidney Jones, and the choir will sing "Thus Speaketh the Lord of Hosts," an anthem by Stainer, with soprano solo by Mrs. Boyer.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Flower Sunday and Children's day. In the morning the pastor will give an object lesson address to children on "Seeds" and an address to adults on "The Relation of the Sunday School to the Church." The music in the morning will be provided by the children.

An open session of the Sunday school will be held at 3 p.m. to which the parents and friends of the school are invited. A program of music and recitations will be a feature of the afternoon exercises. The pastor's evening subject will be "Lessons from the Flowers." Music: Anthem, "Depth of Mercy," (Emerson) alto solo, Mps. Fysh, bass solo Mr. Ralph Johnson, chorus by the choir; offertory solo and quartette, "The Saviour's Voice," (Salvator), solo Mr. McLeod, quartette Messdames Jones and Fysh, Messrs. McLeod and Johnson; after the Benediction, "Bow Down Thine Ear," (Himmel), the choir. The church has been prettily decorated for the occasion, and amid the bower of flowers a number of sweet-singing birds will be hung.

STAKING

Which Saves Claim to Original Owner

Was Out of Country and Neglected to Take Out Renewal When Due.

Yesterday afternoon Gold Commissioner Senkler rendered a decision in the case of John Kerins against Elmer E. Shaffer, the claim in dispute being the hillside adjoining the lower half, left limit, of 49 below on Bonanza. The plaintiff was the recorded owner of the claim which had been represented last year in common with others adjoining, but when the time came for it to be renewed, that is on January 2, or within three months afterward, the plaintiff was out of the country and such renewal went by default, the defendant staking shortly after the three months had expired. The staking of the latter, however, was defective and on that account the grant he had received was cancelled and the renewal was ordered issued to plaintiff, the original owner. The commissioner's decision in full is as follows:

The plaintiff was the owner of the above claim, said claim being due for renewal on January 2nd last. Certificate to do the representation work in common was obtained by the owner of the claim to join the claim in question with certain other adjoining claims for the purpose of doing the representation work, this certificate was issued from the office on the 17th of July, 1902. At the time the claim should have been renewed the plaintiff was out of the country, and he neglected to renew within three months after January 2nd last, that is, within three months after the expiration of the former grant, and the defendant relocated the claim on April 10th and applied for record but was refused, as the plaintiff had already obtained the right to renew at the office. The defendant staked several days after the time had expired within which the plaintiff should have renewed. According to the plaintiff's evidence, about $500 was expended on work upon the claim in question during the year prior to January 2nd last, and machinery was close by on the adjoining claim when the ground was relocated. The relocater states that he saw that work was done upon the ground when he located but from its appearance he was unable to tell whether it had been done during the previous year or not. And it appears from the evidence that the defendant's staking was defective, first, in that he did not place the stakes firmly in the ground but tied them by wire to other stakes that had been planted upon the ground previously. It also appears that his stakes were small, one of them being about two and one-half inches, and the other about three and one-half inches in width at the top, although close to the location there was a wood pile where the relocater could have obtained posts of the proper size.

As to the plaintiff's position in the case, he had done somewhat more than the representation work but there was no one on the ground at the time the claim was relocated, and he neglected to renew as required under the regulations. I would consider therefore, that if the claim had been properly staked at the time, he could not have succeeded against the defendant, but, as I have stated above, the defendant's staking was defective in two particulars, and when it appears that there were plenty of stakes close by that he might have obtained for staking the claim according to the regulations, I do not think, under the decisions in Sinclair vs. Mitchell, and Fraser vs. Gandolfo, that his staking as required by section 15 of the regulations, as I do not think there was a bona fide attempt on his part to comply with the regulations. The defendant's relocation of the claim must, therefore, be declared invalid and the plaintiff shall be entitled to receive a renewal grant for his claim.

BIG SUNDAY DINNER
Extensive Preparations for Comfort of Guests.

If there is one day in the week more than another that a person desires all the comforts incident to neatness, cleanliness and good cooking, it is on Sunday, and to provide that comfort to the thousands of Dawson patrons Mr. L. W. Horkan of the Standard Library hotel and cafe has spared neither pains or expense. Within the past few days his place has been thoroughly renovated, re-papered, re-painted and otherwise improved and he is now better than ever prepared to cater to the wants of his patrons.

At the Standard tomorrow a complete Sunday dinner with all the accompaniments will be served for fifty cents and for seventy-five cents turkey, chicken, goose, duck or any style of poultry dinner with home raised vegetables will be served. For a square meal at any time, day or night, week day or Sunday, for less money than it can be had anywhere else in Dawson, go to the Standard, where surrounded by natural flowers of endless variety you will be treated as would be the scion of royalty.

STEAMBOATS ARE COMING

Whitehorse and stuck on the bar at Upper Lebarge to which she was still clinging at 2:30 this afternoon. The following passengers are on the Columbia:

Joe Choyzski, Mrs. Choyzski, R. Pfund, in charge of a wireless telegraph expedition booked for Fort Gibbon; twelve men of the United States Geographical Survey, in charge of E. S. Ward, T. B. Hood, W. W. Lowery, W. H. Osgood, N. Hollister, Isaac Powers, N. Stoick, N. Zwalis, P. Jemo, William Mulligan, J. L. Graff, H. E. McSarty, W. E. Kenyon, P. Harteller, U. S. Har-tellet, H. C. Weiby, Miss E. Kelly, Miss Edna Hatch, Mrs. E. Hoff, Miss A. During, Miss During, Mrs. and Mrs. W. S. Hostetter, Mrs. K. Mid-dieoff and two children, Mr. and Mrs. John Warren, C. E. Rankin, F. B. Lazier, L. A. Clark, C. W. Hol-dick, S. Page, W. Bisson, R. R. Wright, C. B. Wilkerson, S. Sgryes, A. McCubbin, E. Anderson, P. Rus-beldorff, Edward Scott, W. Fletcher, J. Williams, E. M. Culbertson, F. Bloedam, E. Ames, Mr. Hatch, W. B. McCubbin, R. J. Taylor.

The Columbia has a general consignment of freight and to this is no doubt due the fact that she is lingering on a bar.

The Steamer Dawson of the same fleet will leave Whitehorse for Dawson at 8 o'clock tonight with a full list of passengers and all the freight she will be able to carry and still cross the Upper Lebarge bar.

The Whitehorse will sail from Dawson on her return up the river Monday night at 8 o'clock.

H. D. SAYLOR DEPARTS.
Receives Word of His Father's Illness

United States Consul Henry D. Saylor left for up-river and possibly for the outside on the Sybil last night and how soon he will return is largely a matter of conjecture. He may be back on the first boat coming from Whitehorse after his arrival there or it may be months. Mr. Saylor's trip at this time is occasioned by the news received a day or two ago of the serious and possibly fatal illness of his father who is well advanced in years. The news came in a letter from Mrs. Saylor, which had been delayed en route. Mr. Saylor at once wired for later information and also asked the authorities at Washington for leave of absence in case it became necessary to return to his old home. The last message that came over the wire was the reply from Washington granting the leave of absence desired, and naming Mr. T. A. McGowan as acting consul during his absence.

During the absence of the consul Mr. McGowan will act as such officer, his familiarity with such duties making him well adapted to fill the position. Since the resignation a number of weeks ago of H. Te Roller there has been no acting consul, there being no need of such while Mr.

Saylor was in the city. Mr. Te Roller had filled that position for a long time at different intervals both during the McCook as well as the Saylor regime, but his personal interests have become so extensive that it has become necessary to resign all connection with the consul's office. Miss Buiz will naturally remain as the consular clerk.

It is reported today that the steamer Columbia has run foul on a sand bar in Lake Lebarge, and it is announced by the management of the D. A. A. A. that if such is the case and the steamer is late in getting to Dawson, the athletic meet will be postponed from Monday night to Wednesday night.

CASCA IS PAUSING
Keeping Columbian Company on Upper Lebarge Sand Bar

The big and powerful steamer Casca left Whitehorse yesterday evening but had 100 much freight aboard to get over the Upper Lebarge bar where at 2:30 this afternoon she was still sticking. Agent Mortimer thinks she will arrive in Dawson in time to leave on the return trip up river Tuesday night. She has aboard on the downward trip a large number of passengers.

En Route to O. Klond

Mrs. Frank N. Smith, wife of Mr. Frank Smith, manager of the N. C. Co. S. branch at Eagle, passed through Dawson yesterday en route to her home at Oakland, California, where she will spend the summer. Mrs. Smith arrived from Eagle on the steamer Sybil at 4 p. m. yesterday, and left for Whitehorse via the same boat at 8 o'clock. During her short stay in Dawson she was entertained by Postmaster and Mrs. I. N. Hartman.

The remains of the late W. B. Copping, drowned in the Yukon river May 5th, and recovered near Ogilvie early this week, were interred in the Hillside cemetery yesterday evening at 7 o'clock, the funeral being held from Greene's undertaking parlors. A number of deceased's old friends followed the remains to their final place of rest.
