An interesting entertainment will be given at the Opera House Tuesday afternoon (postponed from Saturday) by the children, under the direction of Mrs. Everett and Miss Gladys West.

A most unique entertainment is in store for the people of Wolfville at an early date when the class in Folk dancing, under the direction of Miss Helen Starr, will give their first exhibition in the Opera House. The program will be quite different from anything which has ever before been presented in Wolfville, and will include peasant dances of Sweden, Denmark and Bohemia, as well as special numbers, such as The Butterfly, The Highland Fling, etc. It is unfortunate that the Opera House could not be secured for the evening for this performance, but the hour is set for 4 P. M. in order to give every one the opportunity of being present, and no one can afford to miss a treat such as this is sure to be.

WOMAN'S WORD CHANGES PRISONER TO QUIXOTIC HERO

R. A. Walsh Stages Remarkable Court Room Scene in New Production, "The Oath"

In the prisoner's dock a man charged with murder passes through the recital of the circumstances which point directly at him. A few words spoken by himself would clear him, but he has taken an oath never to speak and his lips remain sealed.

Among the spectators is a young married couple, the prisoner's dearest man friend, and the woman whom the prisoner has once loved. The man murmurs "I would give anything to save him." The woman asks "You mean that—anything?"

Then comes the scene which makes "The Oath," which will be seen at the Opera House, Jan. 4th and 5th, the most dramatic photoplay which has ever been shown in this town. It is a scene which makes the spectator grip the arms of his chair, and half rise to his feet, filled with anxiety for fear there may be a slip of some kind in the tense action.

THE PRINTER WAS PEEVED

A local printer got slightly peeved at a letter from a doctor who wanted bids on several thousand letterheads, different sizes, different grades and different colors, and wanted the printing form held standing. So Mr. Printer took his typewriter in hand and wrote:

"Am in the market for bids on one operation for appendicitis. One, two or five inch incision—with or without ether, also with or without nurse. If appendix is found to be sound, want quotation to include putting same back and cancelling order. If removed successful bidder is expected to hold incision open for about sixty days, as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gall-stones at that time and want to save the extra cost of cutting."
