most fascinating because she is, in fact, the fallen angel Lucifer. Disguised as a tall Geisha girl, she beguiles the honest and innocent Ham. She is all the more intriguing as she reveals herself to be a figure of some compassion and wit who stands up to the brutal cruelty of Yaweh and Noah.

The rains fall and the ark sets sail, loaded with its passengers. On its voyages there are cruelties enacted in the name of faith, and rebellion in the name of compassion. The tale is evocative and intriguing. The ending leaves us with a new way of considering the legend of the ark and the way it relates to our times.

It had been so long since anyone has written a workable allegory that it seemed unlikely that it could be done anymore. It is a great pleasure to see Mr. Findley proving that idea wrong.

Jack Daniel Distillery. Named a National Historic Place by the United States Government.

AT THE JACK DANIEL DISTILLERY, we have everything we need to make our whiskey uncommonly smooth.

We have daily deliveries of the very finest grain American farmers can grow. A stream of pure, iron-free water (ideal for whiskey-making) flowing close by our door. And a unique way of smoothing out whiskey by filtering it for days through ten feet of finely-packed charcoal. Thanks to all these things—and some others too—we predict a pleasurable moment when you discover the smooth-sippin' rareness of Jack Daniel's Tennessee Whiskey.
