Mayor Plays Benefit to Aid the Inept

Fredericton's Mayor, Brad Blindsight, seen at one of his many rare appearances. Entertained his audience with his concert to raise funds for the Canadian Foundation for the Politically Inept. Held at Fredericton's yet-to-be rebuilt Garrison Club, Mayor Blindsight played from his extensive collection of Neil Diamond and Barry Manilow favorites. As he stated in an interview after the performance, "I tried to show the audience another side of my personality by complementing it with my selection of old favorites. At this time Mayor Blindsight has no plans to take his show on the road, but has not ruled out the possibility in the future. "It's not that I don't want to ... but I'm not sure if Minto or Woodstock own a Karrioke machine."

"By the time you read this the hole in the ozone layer over the South Pole will be bigger than it was yesterday, and the day before yesterday, and the day before the day before yesterday". This statement was released by bugged expert Krill Lakestream of the University of New Brunswick's science faculty.

In a joint press conference with UNB mathematician Yacking Maxum these two prominent scientists blamed this progression on the irresponsible use of hair sprays by the music industry. "Not only are they endangering their own lives with their use of these carcinogenic carcinogens," stated Maxum, "but they are also endangering the lives of all right thinking fascists as well. Of course, it is to be expected, since the music industry is a plot by..." Maxum was unable to finish his thought because of a deftly placed fist upside the head from Lakestream.

Lakestream then continued the press conference by blasting overrated rock musician Sting. "This guy spends all that time in the rainforest and making that movie with Dustin Hoffman and Tom Cruise about some rainforest guy and now I have reliable sources that say that he goes through three cans of hairspray a day and not the pump kind either it's all aerosol and how does he think that the rainforest will be there if there's no ozone to block out all sorts of ultra violet rays and other bad stuff that isn't very good because that's what's going to happen if he and other musicians like Jon Bon Jovi and Prince and Madonna keep using hair spray

although I hear Madonna doesn't use it on her head so it might be okay but probably not and there are other people too that sing and play guitar and drums and harp that's short for harmonica and sitar and piccolo and..." He kept talking for five minutes more but at this point your Sun reporter ran out of tape. When asked what should be done about this situation Lakestream talked for fifteen minutes without taking a breath before admitting that he doesn't know.

Kilts, Hose and the Art of Sexuality

By Jeff Blowhole

As an entertainment critic and responsible member of this fine community, I feel that I must talk out against our city's lack of short kilts and loose cute wool socks that go up over our knees. As a Scotsman, I am proud to see my heritage worn in the streets, but come on guys if your going to wears those cute little outfits show me some leg, let me know your there, make a fashion statement that says ... I want to roll around in a hot and steamy tub of oatmeal with you ... lets get close, lets intimate, Lets get dangerous.

So in the future, when you put on your kilts show me you care and dress appropriately.
