Re Warts on Horses.

Editor "The Farmer's Advocate" Questions are frequently asked in "The Farmer's Advocate" as to what will renove warts from the nose and hips of colts. I would advise an application of washing soda diluted in a little water and applied with a sponge daily. This remedy was given me by a friend a few weeks ago, and I tried it with success while castor oil and all other remedies tried, failed. The washing-soda remedy is worthy of a trial.

Heavy-Weight

Of the different makes of Wire Fences there must naturally be one that will weigh heavier than the others. It will pay you to buy that Fence, because weight is life and strength, provided of course that all the wires—the line wires, the uprights and the locks are made of the same size wire and all are hard steel throughout.

The heavy weight among Fences is the "Ideal." All the wires are full gauge No. 9 hard steel wire, and each and every wire is heavily but evenly galvanized. Weigh it and others. The scales will prove the most weighty argument we can offer for Ideal Fence. The more closely you examine Ideal Fence and weigh the facts the more firmly convinced you will be that it is the fence to buy for a permanent investment. Why not have a continuous chain of steel around your farm by erecting Ideal Fence on Ideal Steel Fence Posts.

A postal with your name and address will bring you our catalogue No. 4 giving valuable Fence information and telling you more about Ideal Fence and Ideal Fence Posts costs you a postal card-Send for it today. It only and contains information that will save in buying Fencing. you many dollars
