in quite another way. For faith answers all the most essential questions which man puts to himself, and which must be an-swered if he would be satisfied with his swered if he would be satisfied with his existence. These questions are: Who made this world? Who made myself? Why am I in this world? What is the origin of evil in this world? What is my destiny in this world for time and eternity? What have I to do to reach it? What sha'l be my lot after death in eter-

Reason by itself does not answer these questions, and hence infidels remain in darkness. But what streams of light surdarkness. But what streams of light surround us, as we listen to the teaching and communication of faith by revelation.
We see here only the beautiful image of God's workings, on the wrong side.
When that picture woven by God's hand shall be turned on the Judgment Day of mankind, Divine Providence will be vindicated and glorified in the eyes of angels and men, and of the devils and infidels themselves!

Poor infidels! who, instead of recognizing God and the perfection of his world considered in the light of faith, prefer to believe in "matter without a beginning;" believe in "matter without a beginning."
By so doing they merit fully the name given them by Solomon, or rather through him by the Holy Ghost, telling us how at the day of judgment they will speak to themselves. Listen to the words quoted in the Book of Wisdom, chapter v: "Rethemselves. Listen to the words quotes in the Book of Wisdom, chapter v: "Re-penting and groaning for anguish of spirit the infidels will say of the faithful: These are they whom we had some time in derision and for a parable and reproach. We fools esteemed their life madness; now they are numbered among the children of erred from the way of the God. We erred from the way of the truth, and the sun of understanding hath not risen upon us. We wearied ourselves in the way of iniquity, and the way of the Lord we have not known. What has pride profited us, now we are consumed in our wickedness. Such things as these the sinners said in hell."

Listen, children of man, rather to these prophetical words of the Holy Ghost through Solomon, than to the absurdities of Ingersoll preaching Infidelity for money's sake, and to the blasphemous utterances of his associate Non-thinkers.

The Baptist ministers of Chicago have The Baptist ministers of Chicago have declared themselves against professional revivalists, for the following good reasons: "They cultivate a distracted, one-sided religious life. They give undue prominence to noisy and public efforts for saving souls. They produce the impression that religion is largely a matter of feeling. They are too much of the burlesque and souls. They produce the impression that religion is largely a matter of feeling. They savor too much of the burlesque and of buffoonery. They lower the dignity of the most solemn subject which can engage the most solemn subject when can be men's attention. They put a premium upon ignorant and crude presentations of Gospel truth. They insult the intelligence of the age by making the unlearned and the unwise its religious teachers."

No article ever attained such unbounded popularity in so short a time as Burdock Blood Bitters, and that too during the existence of countless numbers of widely advertised bitters and blood purifiers. It is evident that this mediine begins its work at once, and leaves o desirable effect unattained.

THE MEDICAL FACULTY were among the first to recognize the value of Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda as a remedy for throat and lung affections, preremedy for throat and lung affections, pre-mature decline and general debility. Phy-sicians not only recommend it for incipi-ent consumption, bronchits, asthma, mi-nor pulmonary and bronchial troubles, but speak in the highest terms of it as a means of enriching the blood and counteracting a hereditary tendency to consumption. In every part of the Dominion and throughout the United States it has attained a popularity as wide-spread as it is deserved, and the evidence attesting its Is deserved, and the evidence attention to efficacy is voluminous and convincing. The Cod Liver Oil, which is its pulmonic constituent, is absolutely pure and does not nauseate the stomach; while the Hypophosphites, superadded to and chemically phites, superadded to and chemically blended with this ingredient, possess invig-orating properties which render it most desirable in diseases involving such a tre-mendous waste of tissue and loss of bodily ubstance as incipient consumption, which it checks with'a promptitude truly marvellous. In addition to its pulmonic effects, it imparts tone to the whole system, and being a fine blood depurent, counteracts a tendency to scrofula. Moreover, it is sold at a reasonable price, the cost of the smaller bottles [the contents of one often smaller bottles the contents of one often sufficing to break up a bad cold] being 50 cents, and of the larger, $1.00. Prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont. The accidents of life are unavoidable, but should a writer accidentally get hold of a bad pen, the remedy is easy: procure one of Esterbrook's Steel Pens. The Stati-oners have them. Brown Bros., Toronto, wholesale dealers.

Hagyard's Yellow Oil

Will be found invaluable for all purposes of a family liniment. Immediate relief will follow its use in all cases of pain in the stomach, bowels or side; rheum-atism, colic, colds, sprains and bruises. For internal and external use. It has no equal in the world for what it is recom-mended. For sale by all dealers at 25c. per bottle.

Deserving of Praise.

Too much cannot be expressed in favor of that uusurpassed remedy for coughs, colds, asthma, croup, sore throat, and all lung complaints. If you suffer from neglected colds try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. The cost is triflng, only 25 cents.

The struggles of our hearts—the sorrows that bow down our spirits—the loves that bind us to earth with ties that seem too strong for even death to sever—all will pass away like a dream, and our very existence, so far as the world is concerned, will be a legend of the olden time. Read in this the folly of worldliness.

which shows the Company, after paying off all losses due, and car ying over lewer unadjusted claims than for many years, to have a larger capital in available premium notes and cash assets than at the end of the preceding year,

As stated above, the Directors considered it adisable to slightly advance the rates to the former ligures, and it is their intention, so far the least as the cash system is concerned, to teep them at such a figure as will never necesitate the assessment on the premium notes to exceed the cash rates, and although it may be often hought politic, atter a sason of light losses, and scriaps with a reasonable hope of continuence of he same buck, to cut down the tariff; yet the event has so frequently disappointed the expectations that your Directors have determined not again to err in this respect, and trust the members will support them in the resolve.

respect, and trust the members will support them in the resolve.

Steam Thibeshers.

The u e of these machines for threshing has, in many sections of the country, entirely superseded the use of horse power, and a new and dangerous hazard has been created thereby. As shown by the Inspector's report, a considerable loss has accrued to the Company during last year from accidents arising from these machines, and it has become absolutely necessary for the Directors to lay down certain rules regulating the use of the same. These rules will be printed, for the guidance of members, on the back of this re, ort, and, as will be seen, any loss arising from the use of a machine not licensed by the Fire Inspector of this Company, or worked contrary to the terms of the license, will not be recognized.

AGENTS.

the terms of the license, will not be recognized.

AGENTS.

A list of the agents of the Company will be found on the last page of the cover of this report; their names appear in the order according to the amount of work done by each. As a majority, they have done well, and are deserving of the warmest thanks for the zeal and energy they have displayed in the success of the Company.

The usual official inspect in of the affairs of the Company were made by Professor Cherriman, the Inspect or of Insurance, and the result found satisfactory, as the returns printed in the Government blue book show.

MUTUAL SYSTEM.

spee or of Insurance, and the result found satisfactory, as the returns printed in the Government blue book show.

MUTCH. SYSTEM.

In conclusion your Directors have to refer to the continued attacks that are made by interested parties on the system of Mutual Insurance. These parties either conveniently forget, or do not know that all incurance, no mater in what guise or form it is presented, is based on the principle of mutuality. The many who escape pay for the losses of the few who suffer, "and in the case of a st. ck or proprietory company pay further in the shape of a division of profits to the shareholders. On the other hand in a Mutual Company these profits are kept in the hands of the members or insurers. In all branches of business, as with all classes of insurance companies, failures take place—the result, in most instances, of wrong magement. These ideas were expressed by the promoters of your Company some twenty-three your good, when they commenced business, and having in view the fact that no company of any importance of the state of the strictly adhere to one description of risks—private dwellings and farm buildings—and not be tempted by higher premiums to a departure from the clies, Other companies started in a like manner at the same time, and since launched out into mixe and general business, and all, soore or later, came to grief. The promoters of your Company in their annual report to 1850, in explaining their reasons for extending the arta of their business, took the position "that the stronger the Comrany, and wider spread its grounds of operation, the more equable will be the annual proportion at amount of losses." Your Directors have even had these views before them, and acted up to the spirit of them, as a consequence, being a well-spread concern, it barely left the great local fires of 1570 in the valley of Ottawa, and the crompanies for last which are liable to upset and swamp out any mere local concern (as indeed it did many of such companies in the State of Michigan last seas "n), and

Mr. Armstrong, President, moved the adoption of the report with a great deal of pleasure, owing to the array of satisfactory statements which it contained. In spite of the most determined opposition from other companies the business had very largely increased during the past year. He said the company's agents were deserving of all praise. He regretted the heavy losses that had occurred, but said the increased assessment had been most cheerfully paid. The amount of losses carried over this year was over $10.700 less than last. In referring to the over $10,700 less than last. In referring to the | a specialty. over $10,700 less than last. In referring to the general extension of business into counties that were considered dangerous, he said that it was cheaper to run a large business pro rata than a small one. In the insurance business there was no such thing in this country as standing still. It was either go forward or backward. He also showed the advantage of an extended business upon the theory of the law of averages. He pointed out the danger to which small companies, such as those in townships, were εxposed when heavy fires or a succession of them took place.

Mr. Joseph Marshall seconded the motion

in a brief speech.

Mr. A. Vining discussed the question of Mr. A. Vining discount of the Company's business. He favored the adoption of the report, but advised a judicious oversight on the part of the Board regarding the extension of business into districts liable to bush and running fires.

Mr. Armstrong pointed out that the Company had in reality lost nothing by extending their business into these districts tending their business into these districts in the past.

Mr. Smith, of Kent, applied for payment of claim for horse killed in the field by lightning. He claimed to have understood that his policy covered the horse outside as well as inside the building.

On motion of Mr. J. A. Leitch it was decided to pay $66.66 2 3.

In order to proceed with the election of Directors, Messrs. J. Marshall, A. J. B. McDonald, and M. H. Ferguson were appointed scrutineers.

I have been troubled for a number of years with a very disagreeable impediment in speech. I heard of the London Institute, and after considerable investigation I concluded to try it. The treatment proved to be all I could wish, and I found myself improving from the first day; in a very short time my speech was perfectly free, and I was enabled to speak it public as well as private without fear of stammering. It is now four months since I left the Institute, and I am certain now that the cure is permanent.
