Curious Bits of News.

A man in Tennessee got four cords of wood, three gallons of honey and five coons from a single tree. "Take care of the forests if you want to get rich," omments the local paper which an-ounces the man's good luck.

A Yankee country weekly prints an advertisement, according to the New York "Press," that deserves a re-sponse. It reads: "If John Smith, who twenty years ago deserted his poor wife and babe, will return, said babe will knock the stuffing out of him."

Matthew J. Steffens, a Chicago pho an automatic "nickel-in-the-slot" pho-tographing machine which will make a complete picture in twenty seconds. The machine is called the "photographist," and is as simple as it is remarkable. It is the first automatic picture-making machine which has been perfected in the world, and Mr. Steffens looks for large results from the invention. He will not manufacture and sell the machines himself, but will sell the right or franchise for the different States and cities to individual companies which will place them on the market. He has already sold several "rights" in New York and

It is hard to realize that the bootblack is an invention of the last halfcentury, yet he is now celebrating, in London, the fiftieth anniversary of his appearance. He came upon the scene in 1851, the year of the great exhibition in London, the first of the "world's fairs." The city was full of visitors from all parts of the world, and the problem of the street arab was a serlous one. Mr. Macgregor of the famous Rob Roy canoe, suggested that the boys be organized into a great boot-blacking brigade, and he himself made the first box for holding the 'kit," the model of those still in use. Idlers jeered the boys at first, and sometimes stoned them, but the public found their services so convenient that he trade soon became profitable.

An annual increase of income in three Western States alone of over $22,-000,000 from improvement of the wheat crop-this is what is being accomplished by the work of experimental wheat-breeding now carried on at the Minnesota Agricultural Station. This work and its results are described in the "World's Work" (May) by W. S. Harwood. The work of wheat-breed-ing, he says, was begun in France many years ago by M. Henri Vilmor-in, more than a thousand new wheats having been tested by him. Ten years age similar work was begun at the State institution in Minnesota. Mr. Harwood writes: "To create a new wheat, the pollen from the flower of one wheat must be artificially transferred to the stigma of the flower of another wheat. Wheat is a self-feranother wheat. Wheat is a self-fer-tilizing plant. Left to itself, it will reproduce itself throughout endless centuries. Great care is necessary in the work, and trained men are essential. As soon as the pollen is transferredwhich is done about four o'clock in the morning, at the hour when the wheat florets open—the head of wheat is en-cased in a tissue sack so that the work may not be interfered with by any pilfering insect or bird. Two of the bestknown varieties are selected, one for the father, the other for the mother of the new race. When the harvest comes it may be that the new wheat has some of the poor and few of the good cteristics of the parents; or the reverse may be the case. It is impossible to say in advance what the new wheat will be. From the single head which results as the first harvest, only a handful of kernels is threshed out. This handful is of immense importance. for these kernels may become the source of a mighty race, destined not only to supplant the old wheats, but to add enormously to the wealth of the world."

'I've just been drugged and robbed,'d he. "I think it is a shame!" The officer just yawned, and said, "What was the druggist's name?"—

Practical Joking at Washington.

A few weeks ago a wild excitement was caused in the War Department at Washington, D.C., when a rumor spread around that the Civil Service rules had been disregarded in the case of an old soldier, who, after being in the department for many years, had had his head taken off without warning. It was also hinted that if the old soldier's case were reopened reinstatement would surely follow. Interested parties were directed to a certain place on the second floor for particulars. Imagine their feelings when they saw two men at a large table in the corridor at work on the lay figure taken from one of the glass cases in which the uniforms of the United States army at various periods are displayed army at various periods are displayed to an admiring public. The moths had got into the stuffing of a very old soldier indeed, wearing a Confederate uniform, and the ghastly spectacle presented itself of his wooden head standing on the table, entirely apart from his trunk. The reopening of his case occurred later in the day, when, the moths having been killed and a fresh instalment of camphor mixed with the stuffing, the figure was returned to its place under glass.

FEW PEUPLE

And Dr. Chase's Ointment is th Only Positive and Guaranteed cure for this Torturing Disease

There is usually very little satisfaction in consulting a physician re-garding a case of piles. In nine cases out of ten he will recommend a surgical operation, forgetting, it may be, the risk, suffering and phy-sical as well as financial expense which this treatment entails. this reason very many people are going about in misery with piles, be-lieving that they cannot be cured except by means of the surgeon's knife.

It is to such persons that this advertisement will bring good news of great value. Dr. Chase's Omtment has grown in popularity until to-day it is recognized the world over as the standard ointment for the cure of itching, burning skin diseases, and as absolutely the only preparation that can be relied upon to cure every form of piles.

It seems strange that anyone should suffer the wretched uneasiness and acute fortune of burning, itching piles when it is so easy to procure Dr. Chase's Ointment. Nea'rly every dealer in medicine keeps Dr. Chase's Ointment, and you can apply it at home without any inconvenience. The first application is usually sufficient to put an end to the itching, and it is rarely more than one box is required to make a thorough cure.

Mr. F. Stokes, 116 Dunlop street Barrie, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with blind, itching piles for years, and could get nothing to stop the constant itching. I was always in pain until a friend of mine told me of the wonderful cures Dr. Chase's Ointment had made among his acquaintances. "I only used one box, and am entirely cured. In gratitude for this marvellous cure, and for the benefit of others suffering as I did, I send you this record of my case."

Mr. George Thompson, a leading merchant of Blenheim, Ont., states: "I was troubled with itching piles for fifteen years, and at times they were so had I could scarcely walk. I tried a great many remedies, but never found anything like Dr. Chase's Ointment.

"After the third application I obtained relief, and was completely cured by using one box." Hosts of cases in which Dr. Chase's Ointment has actually cured serious and long-standing cases of piles have been reported in the Canadian press. Should you want to know more about it ask your druggist or your neighbor. There are few people in Canada who are not familiar with the record of famous preparation. If your dealer does not have Dr. Chase's Ointment in stock, it will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 60 cents a box, by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Tor-

"More haste, less speed," and "hasten slowly," are proverbs born of exrience that some things can't be hurried without loss and waste. That is specially true of eating. The railway lunch habit, "five minutes for refreshments," is a habit most disastrous to health. You may hurry your eating. You can't hurry your diges-tion, and the neglect to allow proper time for this important function is the beginning of sorrows to many a busy man. When the tongue is foul, the head aches, when there are sour or bitter risings, undue fullness after eating, hot flushes, irritability, nervousness, irresolution, cold extremities, and other annoying symptoms, be sure the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition have "broken down.' Nothing will re-establish them in active healthy operation so quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medi-cal Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, puri-fies the blood, and builds up the body. It is a strictly temperance medicine containing no alcohol or other intoxi-

She was very, very fat,
And she sat upon his hat;
Think of that!
Seven dollars gone to smash,
With the quickness of a flash—

But she settled down demurely
With a sigh of sweet content
At the added sense of comfort
That the silken headgear lent;
Think of that,

Think of that!

Oh, the man was raving madt
(Twas the only hat he had—
Think of that!)
But he didn't dare to swear,
He could only sit and stare—
Think of that!
So he waited for the curtain,
Then went out to get a bowl,
While the longing for revenge
Was throbbing madly in his soul—
Think of that—
Gentle reader,
Think of that!

But she never smiled again!
Think of that!
And they buried him next day,
In the sticky, yellow clay—

And it was not suicide;
He had overlooked the hatpin
In his anger, so he died—
For a hat,

A Warm Welcome.

Skagway heralded the arrival of the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company's steamship Islander in its port on her first trip by the following glow-ing report, which appeared on the front page of the "Daily Alaskan:"

"Sunday afternoon half of the popuation of Skagway accepted the cordia invitation of Captain Foot to inspect the steamship Islander. Captain Foot was personally in charge, and he was very solicitous to see that everybody had a chance to see the fine ship and partake of the good things. He was most ably assisted by Agent Dunn, Mr. Pumphrey and every member of the crew. They were all just as polite and attentive as though those aboard had paid their hard cash to be taken care

It would be difficult to give an accurate description of the vessel and her appointments without going into the minutest details. The ship's exterior is well remembered by many Skagwayans, but the interior has been so completely changed that it was abso lutely unrecognizable yesterday. The fittings are most elaborate and the decorations are all of artistic merit and present a harmony of view which is indescribably grand. The dining saloon is exceptionally large for a ship of the proportions of the Islander. Its finish could scarcely be finer it would seem. The furnishings of the ladies' cabin, the lounging room and other parts are of the finest. One of the attractions which is always looked for by the sea traveler is a chance to promenade. The Islander's cabin is so located that a splendid walk can be had around it.

But it is in the staterooms where the well-being of the passenger has been zealously guarded. Every ar-rangement and detail which could possibly contribute to the comfort has been provided. From main truck to kielson, from stem to stern, the ship is kept scrupulously clean. As many wended their way up town after viewing the vessel and enjoying the hospi-tality of Captain Foot, they were con-strained to say she was the finest vessel with the most popular skipper on

On the way up there were many musicians on board, and the last night out a concert was given, at which T. R. Pumphrey presided.

Mr. Ransom feebly shook his head.

That's the way these city folks marry That's the way these city folks marry off their daughters so easy!
