

LIFE BECAME A BURDEN. THE WONDERFUL NARRATIVE OF A PATIENT SUFFERER.

The After Effects of La Grippe Developed into Inflammation of the Lungs and Chronic Bronchitis—After Four Years of Suffering Health is Almost Miraculously Restored.

Mrs Sarah Cloutier, who resides at No. 405 Montcalm Street, Montreal, has passed through an experience which is worthy of a widespread publication for the benefit it may prove to others. Up to four years ago, Mrs Cloutier's health had been good, but at that time she was attacked by that dread scourge, la grippe. Every fall since, notwithstanding all her care to avoid it, she has been afflicted with inflammation of the lungs, which would bring her to the very verge of death. This was followed by bronchitis for the rest of the year. Her bronchial tubes were affected to such an extent that it was with difficulty she could breathe, and a draught of outside air would make her cough in the most distressing manner. "There was," said Mrs Cloutier to the reporter, "a constant rattling sound in my throat, and in the state I was in death would have been a relief. I could not attend to my affairs nor to my house, and had it not been for my niece, on whom I relied, I cannot say what would have become of me. It was in vain I tried the numerous remedies given me by various doctors, and when I think of all the money they cost me I cannot but regret I have ever tried them. I had read frequently of the cures effected by Dr Williams' Pink Pills, and I felt that they must contain the truth, for if they were unfounded none would dare to give the names and addresses of the persons said to be cured in the public manner in which these are given in the newspapers. I decided to try Pink Pills, and none but those who were acquainted with my former condition can understand the good I have derived from their use, which I continued until I felt that I was completely cured. As a proof that I am cured I may tell you that on the first occasion of my going out after my recovery I walked for two miles on a up hill road without feeling the least fatigue or the least pant for breath, and since that time I have enjoyed the best of health. Last fall I was afraid that the inflammation of the lungs to which I had been subject at that period of former years might return, but I had not the least symptom of it, and never felt better in my life. You can imagine the gratitude I feel for Dr Williams' Pink Pills, and I recommend them to all who will heed my advice, and I do not think it possible for me to say too much in favor of this wonderful remedy, the use of which in other cases as well as mine has proved invaluable.

A depraved or watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves are the two fruitful sources of almost every disease that afflicts humanity, and to all sufferers Dr Williams' Pink Pills are offered with a confidence that they are the only perfect and unfailing blood purifier and nerve restorer and that where given a fatal disease and suffering must vanish. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers or will be sent by mail on receipt of 50 cents a box or $2.50 for six boxes, by addressing the Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Beware of imitations and always refuse trashy substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

Pat's Fall. "One of the most remarkable cases of falls I have ever seen," said a well known physician recently, "occurred when I was a student in Philadelphia. I had a patient, an Irishman who had a broken leg. When the plaster bandage was removed, and a lighter one put in its place, I noticed that one of the pins went in with great difficulty, and I could not understand it. A week afterward, I found that it had stuck hard and fast, and I was forced to remove it with forceps. What was my astonishment on making an examination to find that the pin had been run through the skin twice instead of through the flesh."

Freeman's Case. One Particularly Interesting to Women as it deals with their Troubles. LAMBINGTON, Jan. 7.—It has been a cause of wonder to many people why women will neglect the first symptoms, and continue to suffer from ill health, and from debility, when the means of relief can so readily be obtained. Before a cure can be renewed, the blood cleansed of poisonous material, and the ligaments and muscles strengthened and invigorated. The history of the case of Miss Nettie Freeman, of this village, whose life was saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, has had one beneficial effect in this: It has aroused scores of other women in this locality from the false modesty they were manifesting and as a result the sales of Dodd's Kidney Pills have been enormous, and the resultant good commensurate therewith.

There are forty-five survivors of the war of 1812 on the roll of the United States Pension Office, of whom fifteen are one hundred or more years old. There are twelve pensioners of the revolutionary war, but they are all widows. During winter weather try feeding steamed clover hay with corn, oats and bran mixed with it to the poultry. It makes a most excellent food. A cubic foot of average newly fallen snow weighs five and a half pounds, and has twelve times the bulk of an equal weight of water. Labor Reform and the W. C. T. U. The year's National Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, says the Outlook, brings out even more prominently than heretofore the disposition of the aggressive temperance organizations to make their reform a part of the movement felt throughout Christendom to better the condition of the working classes. For some time past the speeches of Miss Willard and Lady Henry Somerset have been as saturated with Christian Socialism as the platforms of Western Prohibitionists have been with a temperate form of Populism. Miss Willard, in her annual address at Cleveland last week, stated her attitude toward temperance and labor reform in these explicit terms:

"The principle of the living wage has been established, a living wage being the sum necessary to maintain an average man with an average family in an average state of civilized comfort, and should be the basis of that 'cost of production' beyond which lies the margin on which capital depends. ... Protestantism has forged forward toward prohibition. The Pope's representative in this country has indorsed the right of any bishop to exclude from the sacraments those who belong to the liquor-dealers' camp. Prohibition by law, by politics, by woman's ballot, is the watchword of the temperance army in all nations. I have not turned Populist, though I hope that Populists and Prohibitionists may be agreed and walk together before long."

For the organizing of the working classes to better the condition of the rank and file of the people Miss Willard expressed the fullest sympathy, and declared her belief that the labor organizations could be relied on to secure their ends by the peaceful methods of arbitration and the ballot. In some directions—other than temperance and social purity—Miss Willard went even further in her recommendations than the Populists or the trade-unionists. Particularly severe was she in condemning the great newspapers for publishing only such things as the corporations and their stockholders desired to have published. If this labor-reform spirit in the head of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union extends among its membership in the same way that her zeal for woman's suffrage and prohibition have extended, a labor and temperance reform alliance is next to inevitable.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company, as a matter of business and not of mere sentiment, claims to strongly favor temperance, as nearly every well conducted railway company in America is now doing. In a recent letter of Mr Taft, assistant general manager, he states that the company has for years declined to sell lands at the different stations along the line except under conditions prevent the sale of liquors on the premises, and which have the effect of depriving the buyer of his title to the property in case that stipulation is broken. The men employed are notified that the use of liquors should be abstained from, "not only on account of the great risks of life and property incurred by intrusting them to the oversight of those whose intellects may be dulled at times when most care is needed, but also and especially because habitual drinking has a bad effect upon the constitution, which is a serious matter to men so liable to injury as railway employes always are."

Women as Legislators. As a result of the recent election, three women will take their seats in the Colorado House of Representatives at the next session of the State Assembly, and a woman will occupy one of the commodious offices in the new capitol building. It is interesting to note that the public instruction. Considerable curiosity is expressed as to what their feminine officials "will do with their opportunity." As for us, we feel sure that now as in the past, women will be found equal to the occasion. It is noticeable that among the many failures, one seldom sees the notice of a woman's failure. Enormous profits, backing by brewers and distillers, and the fact that no matter whatever else the working man goes without he never denies himself his glass of beer account for it.

Scraps for Odd Moments.

"Jones says he wasn't paid for his last poem?" "Well, if it's really his last pay him handsomely!"

Is Jinks a poet? No, just hard times; couldn't raise enough money to have his hair cut.

Garfield Tea cures sick-headache. "What subjects are treated in your new book?"—"None. It's a plea for prohibition, and doesn't treat at all."

Hawker's Balsam, a sure cough cure. Kitty: "Can't I put these flowers in any place where they will look pretty?" Tom: "Not while you stay in the room with them."

Garfield Tea sold by all druggists. She: "These horrid photographs don't do me justice at all." He: "My love it's not justice you stand in need of—it's mercy."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a perfect cure for scrofula, that dreaded taint in the human system.

Young Tatter: "What we want in our society, Miss Maule, is brains." Miss Summit: "But how are you going to supply them?"

If faithfully used, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will remove scrofula in whatever form it exists.

"Father," said the boy, "what is insel-vent?" "Inselvent," was the reply, "is merely a long word used to describe a short condition."

A cheap and sure cure for cold in the head or catarrh; a twenty-five cent box of Hawker's catarrh cure.

"You'd better discharge that new writer—he can't spell." "You are mistaken; we have merely discovered a great dialect genius."

Rub your rheumatic joints with Dr. Manning's German remedy. The universal pain cure. A soothing, healing and perfect cure, Hawker's pill.

Woman: "I'll be ready in just one second. Husband—Then I'll have time to run down town and get shaved before we start love."

For your throat, when hoarse or lumpy use Hawker's balsam of tolu and wild cherry. It affords prompt relief and leaves the voice clear and distinct.

Tom—You look awful blue. I suppose it's because of Miss Maybell's having refused you. Cholly—Yes, I can't help feeling sorry for the poor girl.

If you do not know how good a remedy Garfield Tea really is for constipation and sick headache, send a postal card to D. Desmore & Co., 271 Queen Street.

I propose, began the deliberate old lawyer who called around to see a young widow on business, when his vivacious client exclaimed, I accept. They are now partners.

Dandruff is an exudation from the pores of the skin that spreads and dries, forming scurf and causing the hair to fall out. Hall's Hair Renewer cures it.

Teacher—One of the inalienable rights of Americans is free speech. Do you know what that means? Boy—Yes'm; freedom to say what you like to anyone you can lick.

Many a Young Man. When over-work, possibly assisted by an inherited weakness, the health fails and rest or medical treatment must be resorted to, then no medicine can be employed with the same beneficial results as Scott's Emulsion.

Johnny—"Pa, what's the difference between cannibals and other folks?" Pa—"Cannibals, my son, eat their own kind; other people generally go no farther than to live on their friends and relatives."

Its Saving Power. Rev. J. Franklin Parsons, Cathart, Ont., writes: "The package of K. D. C. worth its weight in gold, anyone suffering from Dyspepsia if he has a dollar left, should buy it, and try the truth of what I say. They who give it a trial will continue to take it I am sure."

Free sample of K. D. C. Pills sent to any address. K. D. C. Co., Ltd., New Glasgow, N. S., and 127 State St. Boston, Mass.

We'll have to discharge that agent said the president of the insurance company. He's a nice fellow, but he isn't suited to the business.

What has he done? Inquired the cashier. Issued accident policies to a football team.

A good story is told of a lazy and suspicious farmer whose farm lies just outside Worcester. He called at a neighbor's house recently. Sit down, sit down exclaimed the neighbor. I don't know as I might, replied the farmer; but nevertheless he sat down. After some talk about the crops and the value of an adjoining piece of ground the farmer said slowly: I don't know as I ought to be sitting here. I came over to see if I could get a ladder; your house is on fire.
