One of the soldiers from the front says that in South Africa he was several times at the house of an Englishman who married a Boer woman. The woman told him that in a fight near their place an English officer who was mortally wounded was brought in to her doorstep where he died in a few moments. She said that he cursed in a most blood curdling fashion until he died. The dead officer's mother had secured her address and had written her a pathetic letter asking what were the last words of her son. The Boer woman told the Canadian man that she did not know what to write to the bereaved mother. The Canadian said, "tell her his last words were 'thank God I did my duty.' It won't hurt you and it will do her a world of good." The Boer woman took his advice and now the English mother has a more satisfying picture of her son's last moments than if she knew the truth. Woodstock Despatch.

Mr. A. J. Heath, District Passenger Agent of the C. P. R. was the city last evening and while he was there the Tourist Committee and the big game guides who were in town, together with Mr. W. T. Chestnut, had a conference with him regarding the coming Sportsmen's Shows at Chicago and New York. As outlined in THE GLAZIER several days ago several of the leading guides have made a proposition to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to attend these Shows, make a good exhibit of the big game of New Brunswick and generally advertise the province as a sportsman's and tourists' resort, the C. P. R. to furnish the guides with transportation to and from New York and Chicago, and to supply the advertising matter for distribution at the Shows.

While Mr. Heath was unable to give the guides a decided answer as to what the Railway Company would do, he was personally in favor of the scheme and assured the meeting that he would recommend it to the General Passenger Agent, Norman F. G. Grant.

At the annual session of the Gloucester Municipal Council held at Bathurst last week it was decided to have a new valuation prepared at once. As is well known there has been no valuation since 1884, and there must be many changes since that date. The matter has been brought to the notice of the Council many times, but as it is an expensive undertaking, and the county has had uphill work for several years back, meeting liabilities of one kind and another, the very needful work of valuating property has been postponed from time to time. It is felt that there should be no further delay principally because under the old valuation the parish of Bathurst is paying about one third of the whole pro rata of the county business, while under a new valuation it is confidently expected that Bathurst will not have to pay more than a fifth at least.

We are pleased to acknowledge the receipt from Rev. E. P. Wallace of Chatham, of a handsome souvenir of the recent visit of His Excellency Mr. Falconio to the diocese of Chatham. World Wide.
A WEEKLY REPRINT OF ARTICLES FROM LEADING JOURNALS AND REVIEWS REFLECTING THE CURRENT THOUGHT OF BOTH HEMISPHERES.

As many of the ablest writers are now engaged in journalism, much writing of the highest quality in matter and style is being seen only by the readers of each peculiar newspaper, and by them often lost before it is read. Much of such writing is only of local and very transient import, but of interest to the permanent and world wide. It is proposed to fill the pages of WORLD WIDE with articles each week of proportion will be given to the various fields of human interest—the shifting scenes of the world's great drama to letters and science and beautiful things.

It was first intended to publish WORLD WIDE upon the paper at a higher cost, but recalling the long list of elegant publications in the past have been started in Canada, only to fail and reflecting that good taste in literature does not always imply the means to pay for costly journals, and appreciate literary excellence on the plain sheet, it has been decided to offer WORLD WIDE at the lowest possible price, in order to give all who desire good reading an equal opportunity.

Published weekly, sixteen pages. Two cents per copy. 75c per annum, postpaid to any address in Canada, or U. S. 25c additional for delivery in Montreal or to foreign countries.

J. H. DUGGALL & SON, Publishers, Montreal, Canada.

A High Mark.

The New York Almanac for 1901, issued by Chas. H. Fletcher of New York City, has set a high mark for similar publications during the new century, and shows remarkable enterprise on the part of the publisher when we consider that it is published solely for free distribution. The numerous publications of this character are usually gotten up with the single idea of cheapness, while the thought of expense has certainly been set aside in the case of the New York Almanac.

The artistic colorings of the cover, the accuracy of the calendars and its fund of information all go to make it well worthy of personal and preservation. It has innumerable hints for mothers as to the care of children. A unique page is the "Baby's Record" page, which is in blank to be filled in with baby's name, date of birth, etc. first year.

The words is a very creditable piece of work, and is well worth any single day's work.
