The contract for the New Richmond wharf has been awarded to Burns and Charleson of Ottawa, the lowest tenderers at $14,400. This is the last contract to be awarded in the county for works voted by Parliament during last session.

The works are now divided as follows:—

Work is progressing satisfactorily on the improvements to the I. C. R. station at St. Alexis to afford easier access and more room for shipment of lumber &c.

The Minister of Railways has ordered that special Quebec farmer's excursion at reduced rates on the Intercolonial Railway to Ottawa to visit the experimental farm. Start from Matapedia and include all the stations on the line as far as Montreal. The excursion is fixed for the 21st. Information can be secured as to rates and hours at the stations confined in the schedule.

Mr. Marcell has been invited to attend the 60th anniversary of the foundation of the "Toronto Globe" on the 18th inst., as presenting the press of the Province of Quebec. There is to be an excursion on Lake Ontario and a banquet at which Mr. Fielding and a number of other public men will speak.

The new bait freezer at St. Charles de Caplan was put in operation last week by Mr. George Forest fishing officer at Bonaventure whose experience was acquired at the bait freezer erected at that place two years ago and which is giving general satisfaction.

Work is about starting on the new Dominion Government Settler's building at Matapedia.

COLLISION

On the St. Lawrence Sunday Morning.

FIVE LIVES LOST.

Steamer Canada And A Local Barge Go To The Bottom.

Montreal, June 12.—Six miles below Sorel, at 2.30 o'clock this morning, the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Co's. str., Canada, bound from Quebec, for Montreal, came into collision with the Dominion Oil Co's collier Cape Breton. Twenty minutes later the Canada went to the bottom. At the time of the collision there were 110 people on board and all were rescued except five. Those who perished were: Alfred Thibedault, ticket agent of the company at Quebec, and his two sons, aged twelve and fifteen; Pursuer Bonnette, of the Canada, a man named Brunet of Sorel is missing and it is supposed that he perished.

The Cape Breton lay at the entrance of the Lake St. Peter channel waiting for daylight so as to find her way through. She was just getting under way when the Canada, making for Sorel at full speed, came into view. Just how the collision occurred and who is responsible for it has not yet been determined, for the officers of the Canada decline to talk, but from the statement given out, it would appear that the Cape Breton had not got headway on enough to answer her rudder and that she swerved across the path of the passenger boat, her bow striking the Canada just forward of the paddle box on the starboard side and tearing its way half through. Then she swung clear and the two steamers came alongside one another. There was no necessity of arousing the sleeping passengers, for the shock of the collision had already done that. The Canada at once began to settle and as the Cape Breton did not appear to be seriously damaged the passengers were hurriedly transferred to that steamer. In the excitement some of the passengers jumped overboard and were picked up by the boats from the Canada and Cape Breton, but generally those on board were composed, while the discipline shown by the crew of the Canada was excellent. Twenty minutes later when the Canada went down alongside the Cape Breton, resting on her side in the mud, all the passengers had been transferred to the Cape Breton. Thibedault and his two sons occupied a stateroom just above where the Cape Breton's bow entered the Canada and it is supposed that they were killed in their berths.

Brunet was a second class passenger, and no one saw him after the collision, though it is just possible that he went ashore with the crew of one of the boats which was sent to secure help from Sorel.

This arrived a few minutes after four, the steam barge Prefontaine being in the harbor with steam up. She brought the passengers and crew to Sorel, and they were brought up to this city this afternoon on board the company's steamer Columbine. Many of the passengers who occupied staterooms on the upper deck were fortunate enough to save their baggage, but those on the main deck lost theirs.

Some of them had but little clothing, but these were supplied with the necessary garments on arrival at Sorel.

ON SUNDAY

Rev T. Albert Moore of Toronto

ADDRESSED

Larg: Audiences in Interest of Lord's Day Alliance

The Rev. T. Albert Moore of Toronto Assistant Secretary of the Dominion Lord's Day Alliance gave a series of addresses in the interest of that Association. In the morning he occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church, in the evening at 7 he preached in the Presbyterian Church and at 8.30 he addressed a mass meeting in the Baptist Church. There were large congregations at all the services.

Mr. Moore is a plain and forceful speaker and is fully enthused with his subject, presenting an array of facts which could not fail to impress his hearers with the danger that threatens the integrity of the Lord's Day throughout the Dominion. Amongst others he gave the astounding fact that 150,000 Canadians were compelled to work every Sunday in the year, and attempts were continually being made to increase the number which he was glad to say were not successful. Were it not for the efforts of the Lord's Day Alliance the number mentioned above would be considerably over 200,000.

A number of persons became members of the local branch of the Lord's Day Alliance and a goodly amount was subscribed.

FISHING.

Plenty of Fish Being Caught.

MANY VISITORS

To Parker's Lake, Flat Lands, Matapedia and Other Places.

Each day sees the hotels of our town crowded with anglers, commercial men, etc.—the anglers preparing for fishing and the commercial men hustling to get through business and then if possible join the Waltons, who leave every day for Parker's Lake Flat Lands and Matapedia.

Wm Sprout, of the Royal, is kept busy accompanying parties to the favorite spots. Monday he took a party to Parker's Lake and had some excellent fishing. Tuesday he and a party went to Flat Lands and returned with a fine lot of trout. Mr. Sprout states that while they had very good luck with trout he himself was very unfortunate in losing a very large salmon—a record breaker. The big fish reeled off the full hundred yards of line and got away.

Restigouche Girls Graduate as Nurses.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN

Misses Sadie Moores, Mary McBeath and Nellie Dumville.

Wednesday, June 8 marked the graduation of the class of 1904 of the Elliot City Hospital Training School for Nurses, when a class of six, who have completed their studies received their diplomas from the board of trustees and were given a reception by the training school alumnae in the evening at the Edwin Joslin Home for Nurses.

The large parlor, reception room and lecture room on the first floor of the nurses' home were thrown open for the exercises, the reception room being trimmed with the class colors, red and white, and having chairs arranged for the graduates and others who were to participate. Handsome bouquets of flowers were also placed in the several rooms. The reception-room being really a part of the parlor and opening into the hallway and thence into the lecture room through large doors, there was room at hand for the accommodation of all. In the library adjoining the lecture room several members of Farr's orchestra provided music for the occasion.

The guests were received by the President of the alumnae, Mrs. Ben O. Aldrich, and the Vice President, Miss Martha Dumville, assisted by Dr. Maud E. Taft of the class of '95. Miss Ella McCobb, the matron of the hospital, and Mrs. A. J. Murkland of Lowell, formerly Miss Charlton, who was matron of the institution, also received their friends informally in the parlor.

Following the reception the presentation or diplomas and other exercises took place. Dr Herbert K. Taulkner of the hospital staff, addressed the graduates and at the conclusion of his remarks President Elliot formally presented to each of the graduates her diploma.

Among the graduates were Miss Sadie Alice Moores of Campbellton, Miss Mary N. McBeath of Tide Head and Miss Nellie Dumville of Escuminac.

The Keene Evening Sentinel of Thursday last says:—

The graduating class at the Elliot City Hospital were given a delicious luncheon Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, at the home of Miss Elizabeth W. Twitchell, Roxbury Street, in accordance with her annual custom. The tables were decorated in the class colors and the luncheon was much enjoyed.
