GRADUATION AT LORETTO.

Delightful Exercises at the Popular Ladies' Academy.

Bishop Dowling and Many of the Clergy Present.

Honors For Miss McSloy, St. Catharines Young Lady.

BUFFALO BILL -PAWNEE BILL

Great Wild West and Far East Show Next Week.

For the first time in over ten years, Col. Cody comes to Hamilton on Tuesday, June 29th, reinforced in numbers and interest as regards his Wild West, and by the addition of Pawnee's Far East. Realistic in every feature, his Wild West has been perfect in organization, truthful in delineation, simple and effective in holding up the mirror to na-ture. The same adherence to manager-ial probity and fulfilment of promises will mark the production of Pawnee will mark the production of Pawnee Bill's Far East.

The Wild West and Far East are now combined and consolidated. A more complete and instructive exhibition was never before presented, and it has the merit of not being in any sense a "show," for everything is real and genuine, everymember of the aggregation being just, what he is represented to be.

The fact that for so many years Col. Cody and Major Little have delighted and instructed the people of America and Europe with their extraordinary expositions is proof that nothing better succeeds than plain truth and sincerity. It would be easy to manufacture such scenes as are given, but such imitation could not long hold the public.

The cowboys, cowgirls, vaqueros, Asiatics, East Indians, Burmese, Australian boomerang throwers, the cavalry and artillery, musically trained elephants, the American Indians, none of would have any value except that they are the genuine article, without any doubt or dispute. As now organized this combined organization stands out a peer or competitor, and affords education to the untravelled as well as leasure and entertainment to each and very spectator.

CATHEDRAL CONSECRATED.

Impressive Ceremony at Christ's Church Last Night.

Bishop DuMoulin Officiated Before Large Gathering.

Courtney, of New York, Preached the Sermon.

Christ's Church Cathedral, lately freed rom debt, was consecrated by His Lord ship Bishop DuMoulin last night in the presence of a large audience.

The Bishop was met at the door by the rector, Rev. Canno Almon Abbott, and the Churchwardens, Messrs. Geo. Moore and H. H. Champ. Mr. Champ presented the Bishop with a petition from the congregation asking that the church be now onsecrated.

Bishop DuMoulin was accompanied by Very Rev. Dean Houston, Sub-dean Suth-erland, Archdeacons Clark and Forneret, and Chancellor Martin, who presented the church to the Bishop for consecration.

James' Church, New York, and late I lishop of Nova Scotia, delivered the sermon. He chose for his text I. Kings ix. 3: 'And the Lord said unto him, I have I heard thy prayer and thy supplication, that thou hast made before me; I have hallowed this house which thou hast built, to put my name there forever; and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.'

The speaker dwelt at some length on the house of God built by Solomon and its consecration to the service of worship by the Almighty; how this one great principle had lived through the ages and the same principle was being carried out in this very cathedral. Solomon hy his act had risen above his predecessors and preceded his contemporaries by making an alliance with the Almighty. Solomon had cherished a patriotic feeling and prayed God's blessing on the building which he had constructed to His honor and glory. Not even in that supreme hour of consecration and devotion did he exclude the stranger. His prayer was for all, and, rising from his knees, he blessed the people and fed them, so that they went away glorifying God for all the blessings they had received. He had preached Christ's doctrine, "Let your light so shine that others, seeing your good works, may glorify your ed. He had preached children see "Let your light so shine that others, see may glorify your ing your good works, may giorify your Father which is in Heaven."

Dr. Courtney said there were two things for the temple to do—to build up the national and religious life of the whole people and to make the people one. The Christian experience of the people the national and religious life of the whole people and to make the people one. The Christian experience of the people is the gathering together of the individuals to worship God, to testify to His presence and feast at His tables. Love to God and neighbor is life. When in distress as well as in prosperity man can still worship God; he is proving Himself loyal. The holy city of Jerusalem testified that God was present in adversity as well as in prosperity, and the temple dedicated there gained the favor of God's love and protection. It was right and fitting that we should consider a cathedral on a parallel with that temple dedicated by Solomon, and which God committed to His people.

If there is development in human character and this development is dependent on the personality of God, then revelation is the prime object of study. Christ revealed the truth to the apostles, which took place only after He rose from the dead. All scientists are striving to learn more and more of the forces of nature, and why should Christians cease to seek for a greater revelation of divine truth. It was a mistake to take for granted that finslity has been reached. Up until less than fifty years ago the central truth on which men's lives were fixed was the atonement; to-day it is fixed on the person of Jesus Christ. Not long ago people thought they understood the constitution of the church; to-day the great aim is union, an endeavor treach the truth and learn more of its contents. The cathedral was the centre of unity, holding all together, and from which centre God's love is manifested to all branches of the church.

After the sermon the offering was taken, and it was announced that this would be used for decoration purposes.

objection which this movement has met is the same as all mission endeavors meet, namely, "I don't believe in missions." The man who raises that objection is not a Christian. If we cannot

Look at the missions on their merits, the pick of our colleges and country are giving up their lives in the interest of this work; is it reasonable to suppose they will do no good? Missionaries have the finest feeling of our nature comes

He hoped Canada would take her part in the evangelization of all nations.

Bishop DuMoulin, in reply to Dr. Tucker, said he was only sorry that all Hamilton had not been within the reach of his burning words. His address had sunk deeply into the hearts of all, and The case was a most interesting one.

The case was a most interesting one. The case was a most interesting one. Proskowreakoff, after stealing the funds, made his way to Canada, via Japan, and began business as an Oriental merchant. He was afterwards joined by a woman known to the Russian police as Anna Zeman, a dangerous Nihilist, who claimed to be his wife. Their home became the headquarters and rendezvous of Russian refugees and outlaws, among whom were several of the mutineers who had massacred their officers on the cruiser Potomkin in Odessa harbor, and then threatened to bombard the city if they were molested.

Russian detectives finally located him here, but Proskowreakoff was warned, and escaped before his arrest could be made, intelligence reaching him before it did the lawyers and representatives of the Cay. He has a preparative here label to the days of Abraham, and now by a marvellous combination of circumstances and reduced has a markable opportunities in trade, commerce and mission work. THE CLOSING.

In closing Bishop DuMoulin thanked the delegates of the Synod for the spirit and manner in which they had entered into the work. He had heard complaints into the work. He had heard complaints that the Synod did nothing during their sessions but business transactions and neglected the spiritual side, to which he replied that the insinuation was unfair. The Synod has a spritual side, but must also have a secular side. He asked them all to remember this, and to reason out for themselves if the manner in which the session had been conducted was not the session had been conducted was not He dismissed them with all trust in God He discissed them with all trust in God for the prosperity of the church until-they should meet again.

TIRED OF SEPARATION. Kingston Woman Asks Permission to.

Visit Her Husband. Visit Her Husband.

Kingston, June 24.—Col. Hunter, J. P., 3 recently issued an order of separation between a farmer and his wife, making the husband and son pay 85 per week for the woman's support. The husband was ordered, on pain of arrest, to keep away from the woman's premises. The funny part of the affair is that the wife yestered ay called on Col. Hunter and asked permission to visit her husband. He granted it, and believes the separation will soon be a thing of the past.
