NEWS BY THE ENGLISH MAIL.
OUR MILITARY STRENGTH IN THE CRIMEA.
The Globe vouches for the substantial ac-curacy of the following statements, which are probably put forth to correct the general impression which Mr. Cobden's letter is calculated to create. On the 16th Oct. the strength of the whole British army in the Crimea was in round numbers 56,000 men of all ranks, of whom the number of ineffec-tives was about 4500. It was composed of 14 regiments of Cavalry, numbering nearly 5000; of 52 battalions of Infantry, com-prising something over 33,000 in the aggregate; 14 batteries and some troops of Artillery, and 9 companies of Sappers, not far short of 9000 men in all. The remaining 10,000 are made up of Commissariat, Land Trans-port Army Works, Medical Staff and other Artillery Corps. Of the 4500 ineffective somewhat more than one-third were wound-ed, and the rest, very nearly 3000, were suffering from sickness. Summing up the above we have now in the Crimea 56,000 men, of whom 51,500 are effectives. Cal-culating the mortality among them as 100 a week for the six months, and the sick list to be as numerous as at present, there would be of the soldiers at present in the Crimea 49,000 effective on the 18th of April, adding to that number reinforce-ments—2500 cavalry and 29,000 infantry, we should have at the commencement of the campaigning season about 70,000 British troops. Other important English forces, although containing but a small numerical proportion of Englishmen, will hencefor-ward be available. We shall put down the different foreign legions at the more than moderate estimate of 5000 men, and, omit-ting the Sardinian army, we calculate the total strength thus—British troops, 70,000; Turkish Contingent, 20,000; and British, German, and Swiss Legions, 5000 men; making a total altogether of 95,000 men.

A letter from Balaklava in the Opin-ions states—"The troops are exercised firing at the target when not on active duty. The French have erected targets in the plain adjoining the Tchernaya within the range of the Russian batteries, in order, they say, to accustom their conscripts to fire steadily under the enemy's guns. The general be-lief at the camp is, that the Russians must eventually abandon the Crimea before the superior forces of the allies, but another view is indispensable to compel them to retreat. The allies do not appear disposed to regard the Crimea merely as a battle-field; the works now being accomplished there show they intend retaining possession of it. The English are carrying on works at Balaklava on a gigantic scale. Thousands of Turks, coming chiefly from Constantino-ple and its environs, Tartars, Piedmontese, and others are paid by England at the rate of 3f. a day, besides soldiers' rations. These men are employed in landing in the bay an immense quantity of materials, which were conveyed from thence to the camps by beasts of burden. Whole regiments are meantime engaged in most important works.
Along the bay, the English have built a quay, at which the largest ship can land the pro-visions of the army without the aid of small boats, such is the depth of the water. Im-mense magazines are being formed at Bal-aklava, which would supply the wants of an army numbering, not 25,000 or 30,000, but even 100,000 men. Assuredly all these ex-penses would not be incurred, if it were in-tended to evacuate the Crimea. We are now supplied with comfortable woollen gar-ments, with which we can brave the rigours of winter."

A letter from Souchum Kaleh gives a ra-ther more encouraging description of the state of affairs at Kars than some of the previous accounts. Colonel Simmons ar-rived at the above place on the 11th of Octo-ber from Balaklava in the Great Britain, with 1800 Turkish troops. He there met Omar Pacha, who had sent forward the ad-vanced guard of his army with the intention of following with the main body on the 12th.
Colonel Simmons, it appears, had been pre-sent at a council of Circassian chiefs, the result of which had been a combination of plans by them and Omar Pacha, the exact object of which is not mentioned. Regret is expressed at the small force at Omar Pa--cha's disposal, but the letter adds, that it is daily being augmented by draughts from the Crimea and elsewhere. The letter further alludes to the continued investment of Kars, and the great risk there existed of its reduc-tion with its garrison of 16,000 men, and 192 pieces of artillery, and imputes to the commanders of the allies considerable remi-seness in neglecting so important a place.
In conclusion, the writer of the letter ex-presses an opinion that the recent expedi-tion to Kinburn and also to Eupatoria are not likely to be attended with any important re-sult at this season of the year.

ATTACK ON NICOLAIEFF.
The Fremden Blatt, which occasionally has early news (where geographical position gives advantage to the Austrian capital), and which was the first to announce the blowing up of the fortress of Ochakoff which remained doubtful for two days till the Nicolaieff telegraph admitted the fact, has the subjoined with respect to the great Russian arsenal and dockyards on the Bug: —"It is reported, that on the 27th and 28th, the necessary soundings having been taken, the Allies proceeded to destroy the Russian strand batteries. The Allies have convinced them-selves that the Russians will not be able to make the channel leading from the mouth of the Bug up to the dockyards impassable. The smaller steamers, bombvetches, and gunboats can, there-fore, advance, and bombard the two 'crown works' (ouvrage a couronne) of Nicolaieff. It is not known whether the flotilla of small vessels will be accompanied by any of the larger ships.
It has transpired that the French General Bzaime intends, under the protection of the guns of the fleet, to construct a redoubt from which the bombardment of Nicolaieff itself will take place.
We remark, that the foregoing intelligence is from private sources. Direct despatches we have none."

TURKEY.—The Sultan has sent sabres, enriched with brilliants, to the Generals who conducted the defence of Kars, and decorations to the officers who had distin-guished themselves on the 29th September.
The town of Kars is exempted from all taxes for three years, as a reward to the inhabitants for the devotedness they have shown the garrison during the continuance of the siege.

We understand that it is definitely ar-ranged that the visit of our ally, the King of Sardinia, to this country, will take place during the ensuing month of December.
His Majesty will, before arriving in Eng-land, have been previously entertained by the Emperor of the French.
A man was placed a few days ago in a lunatic asylum, at Berlin, to be treated for a mental alienation, brought on by the use of hair dye. On examining the dye which he had employed, it was ascertained to be composed of lead, and at length led to madness.
