FUTURE GIRL LAWYERS. Elected Officers of New York University' Law Class of '94.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—When the class of '94 of the law department of the New York University met some days ago to elect class officers, it showed its gallantry as well as its good sense by electing each of the three girl members of the class to an office. The three are Miss Florence H. Danger

The three are Miss Florence H. Danger-field, of Auburn, N. Y., who was elected president of the class; Miss Lulu B. Richardson, of Ohio, who was chosen second vice-president, and Miss Emma Voos, of this city, who got the office of historian. All are among the best students of the class.

Miss Dangerfield is the first woman who has ever been honored by election to the presidency of a class in New York University. She is an attractive-looking girl, with gray eyes, a pretty figure, and abundant light hair, and is the daughter of a well-to-do inventor, of Auburn. In no cespect does she resemble the traditional 'strong-minded' woman. After graduating at the Auburn High School, she took a two years' classical course in Cornell, but ild not graduate owing to ill-health. From there she came to this city and studied privately for a time, after which she university.

Miss Dangerfild, being also a stenographer Miss Dangerfild, being also a stenographer and typewriter, is private secretary to Chancellor McCracken. Her election to the office of president, so her classmates declare, was a deserved tribute to her ability as well as to her popularity.

Miss Voos, the class historian, won the essay prize this year for the best essay on a legal subject.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 .- Charley Mitchell, New York, Feb. 15.—Charley Mitchell, the English pugilist has arrived in New York. He says he will cover Corbett's deposit of $10,000 at once. He wants the fight for the world's championship to come off in a reasonable time—in six weeks, if possible. Mitchell says he will fight in a twelve foot ring, or even smaller, if Corbett desires. There will be no running away on his part, he says, such as he was falsely accused of in his match with Sullivan.

present. Mitchell was somewhat surprised, but not demonstrative when he learned that he might have to return to England without having touched his foot on American soil. He sent for counsel.

Mitchell finished a term of imprisonment in England only a short time ago, and is therefore an ex-convict, and comes under the law which prohibits the landing of aliens who have been in prison, providing it is his intention to settle in this country.

The contention of Mitchell's counsel was that his condition in England does not bar him from landing in America under law because Mitchell was convicted of a simple assault and not felony. Judge Andrews, of the §Supreme Court, discharged Mitchell when he was brought before him this morning on a writ of habeas corpus.

When a reporter informed Mitchell that Corbett had deposited $10,000 he said: "That's good. I'll have Corbett's money covered inside of twelve hours. I have no conditions. All I want is that the fight shall be conducted in a fair, square, sportsmanlike manner. When I fought Sulivan in France I made many enemies. They said I ran away and all that bosh. FAITH VERSUS PHYSIC.

A Christian Scientist Refused Admission to Genesce Presbytery. BATAVIA, N. Y., Feb. 16.—The most interesting session of the Presbytery of Genesee ever held in this county was that Genesce ever held in this county was that of Tuesday. There were about fifteen clerrymen and two dozen elders present. The application of Arthur R. Vosburg, of North Bergen, for ordination was presented. He previously had been examined and accepted in the Lyons Presbytery. The only ground for doubt as to his acceptability was his views in regard to Christian science. His psychological examination as well as theological was as satisfactory asit was rigid, and all went well until the following question was asked: "Should you be orgonial to the satisfactory as th question was asked: "Should yo dained pastor of the North Berger and one of your parishioners be should you feel justified in cal Chistian Scientist in preference to

"As such pastor would you leel justified in giving lessons in so-called 'Christian Science' to your congregation!"
"Yes, I would," he replied frankly.
After this he was asked to withdraw. A vote was taken and it was unanimously against the ordination of Mr. Vosburg.

Death—Both Hands and Both Feet Gone.

PLAINFIELD, Feb. 16.—Drs. P. J. Zeigler,
J. T. Fritts, J. H. Carmen and J. A. Allia on Tuesday morning amputated both the hands and the feet of Andrew Mantz, a farmer who lives in the mountains of Somerset county, seven or eight miles from here, and it is said he is likely to recover.
On the night of Jan. 10 Mantz went to a mountain dance five or six miles from his home, which is near Mount Bethel. He started out about midnight to waik home from the dance.

A mile from home he was overcome by the cold and fell down in the snow, which was ten or twelve inches deep.

After lying in the snow for hours he crawled on all fours to his home. He was found next day nearly stiff. He was thawed out, all but his hands and feet.
Amputation of these was then necessary.
