body with whom God was angry, for "he is angry with the wicked every day." There is a dark background to the cross on Calvary. God's Word points out emphatically the awful doom of those who "come and go from the place of the holy," and, having neglected the offers of mercy, die in their sins. The preacher closed with earnestly entreating those who had not yet come to the cross to surrender themselves to the Saviour before the day of grace has passed forever.

Dr. Towner, besides singing two solos in a very impressive manner, made a strong appeal to the unsaved. In response to these appeals many persons at the after-meeting signified their de-sire to become Christians. It was announced that a large deputa-

One load of broken stone it may become our most abundant for street-making is worth half a supply of good spring water. But dozen loads of gravel. Now, as for the Dundas street pavement, to question which is best seems to me to be absurd. To make a solid foundation with gravel will depend altogether upon the quality and quantity of cement used and not the gravel. Broken stone will pack solid, if it has a little binder with it; and what is $1,000 or even $2,000 in the first cost-it's the after repairs that count up, let alone the annoyance of having the work gofor the job. I think the paving comthey have taken. The St. Mary's stone soft. There is plenty of good hard stone down the river, which, when broken would be found suitable. As proving the necessity for a good foundation you have only to note where in some places the vibration
