CLEARED UP BY POLICE

Two Girls Found To Have Changed Residences Due To Domestic Troubles.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter.
Paris, Sept. 25.—Marjorie Parker, 15, and Reba Lemo, 13, who "disappeared" yesterday, have been located; they merely changed their residences because of alleged domestic trouble.

The Parker girl left her grandfather's home and stayed with friends for the night because of a whipping it is said her grandfather had given her for being "fired" from the box factory. Chief of Police J. S. Green found her at the home of a girl friend in Paris today, and after hearing the domestic breach, took her home.

Reba Lemo was located in Linwood at the home of her sister. She had been living with another sister in Paris, but had had a quarrel with her. As it is alleged her former home was not a congenial one, "the Soldiers' Aid Commission is investigating the case, and will probably keep her at the home of her sister in Linwood.

Until today Paris believed a real mystery had developed, and stories of strange men abducting the girls were numerous. Chief Green attended these stories within a few hours when relatives of the girls enlisted his aid.

Warmth and Beauty in the New COATS

SEWING
WEEK

Special displays and sales this week offer special opportunity to purchase your supplies for the home-saving season.

The new models certainly have a way with them—perhaps it's a gay flare that will catch your fancy. Perhaps the straight and narrow silhouette, or the free, swinging lines of a cape. But we know that somewhere in this collection is a coat that you will approve of and want for your own. Embroidery, banding or furs embellish them. And for color, they choose the woods in autumn, as well as navy and black. While our assortment includes the lower or popular-priced coat from fifteen to forty dollars, we are mentioning here only a few of the more exclusive fur-collared models in the most expensive materials, such as Silverettes, Marvella and Sarona Cloths—the season's smartest coats.

and has come back strong again into the trade. But a word of warning is heeded. Much of what is now marketed with all the appearance of reliability and beauty may prove very unsatisfactory in wear, on account, as already stated in our advertisements, of the pelts having been lying in warehouses during war years until they are defective. Our methods include careful and expert inspection of every skin and so we stand behind our product with
