Attitude Is Made Known in a Circular Sent to Missionaries in China.

NO STRIKE-BREAKERS

Feeling Is Mostly Against the British and Japanese Exploitation.

Anti-imperialistic feeling in China grows daily, and with it explanations of the Chinese student-labor riots grow more numerous. It is difficult to appreciate fully the close bond of sympathy between the Chinese student and the laborer, a condition peculiar to China and the Chinese.

According to literature received by her parents here from Miss Margaret Wilson, a Unionist church missionary in Canton, religious organizations in China are taking up the cause of the Student body heads in Shangha assert that students would never act as strikebreakers, but rather they would aid workers form unions. The student-labor movement of Shanghal is declared to be anti-imperialistic more than it is antiforeign. Objection to British and Japanese capital is strongest.

The circular which Miss Wilson sends home is signed by eighteen of-ficials of the Chinese Christian Union for National Salvation. Offering as for National Salvation. Offering as facts a lengthy report on the Shameen demonstration of June 23, the Union says: That shots were fired from the international quarter first; that armed cadets, who were parad ing with students and others, could not retire and when fired upon were forced to shoot to defend themselves. The Christian Union sets forth that the students have no desire for lence, and had no such desire in June when more than 40 of their number were killed in the rioting.

An appeal is made to missionaries of China to take a part in the student movement for China's salvation. "Being aware of the fact that the world has been inadequately informed of the Chinese viewpoint and the presentation of the characteristics of the characteristi sentation of their case in such affairs, we feel that it is our duty to make known these facts to our mis-sionary friends in China, and through them to the Christian people all over

"May we also appeal to you as heralds of the gospel of love and justice for humanity that you make your stand known to the Chinese people, and to express yourselves in the and to express yourselves in the practical application as well as in the abstract preaching of the Chris-

Impossible To Make Definite Recommendation For Paving

Subterranean troubles along York street may lead to the abandonment of plans for a new pavement there this year. An ancient sewer has passed into a stage of wornout senility and it will either be replaced by a larger main on York street or on another street close by. Until the exact needs of the district are known it will be impossible to make a definite recommendation for York street paving this year.

Sewers now in use on York street vere constructed more than a quar ter-century ago. They are small in capacity and were laid close to the surface of the street.

This shallow sewer is proving inadequate for the needs of the downtown warehouse district. Large areas of flat roofs, paved alleyways and yards send the entire flow of rainfall onto the street.

Studies now going on indicate that the greater percentage of this rainfall is diverted by natural courses onto York street. At storm time, yardmaster of the Canadian Pacific Railway here, who was appointed recently to be yardmaster at Windtherefore, the sewers are burdened beyond capacity.

Either a new trunk sewer will be built on York street or a supplementary sewer will be built to care for the excess of moisture from the warehouse district. This may or may not be constructed on York street.

According to City Engineer W. P. Near, it will be possible to attend to sewer needs of this district before the possibility of a new pavement on

MANY HAY FEVER THEORIES FAIL

Osteopaths Deal With Problem in New Way, Speaker Explains.

To prevent or cure disease, osteopaths must get in line with the natural laws. If both physicians and laity could be brought to a clearer knowledge of this fact, the achievements of scientific medicine would still be more glorious. This was brought out by E. J. Gray, St. Thomas, speaking at the 11th annual meeting of the Western Ontario Osteopathic Association here yesterday.

The speaker said that through the department of the Laymen's Osteopathic Association many families were now receiving two of the best magazines on health culture, as well assured the souther physical exas two careful routine physical examinations annually. In that way diseases were more quickly detected and cures soon effected. Dr. Rebecca Harkins spoke on hay

O.M.L. OFFICIAL HERE A. T. Guay Pays Visit to the Motor Club and Discusses Legislation.

"It is expected that during the next year there will be between 500,000 and 600,000 motorists in Ontario granted licenses to drive care" A. T. Guay, Toronto, field secretary for the Ontario motor league, said this morning when interviewed by The Advertiser.

"The date of issuing the licenses," he said, "has been extended on account of issuing the regular licenses. Hon. G. S. Henry, minister of public highways, in Toronto speaking at a meeting of the Canadian Automobile association, stated that the drivers will be given the permit without any actual test, if he has driven for a length of time. But that later, probably during 1927, this will be followed by a mechanical test, and a written examination.

"In the meantime those who did get licenses, who have a number of offences against them, such as speeding and reckless driving, would have their permit revoked."

Fixing Blame, "In the new status, the actual driver of the car and not the person owning it, will be charged with the offence against him. For instance, if a father owns a car, and his sons drive it.
