Mothers! Mothers! Mothers!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere at 25 cents a bottle.

The Much-Abused Robin.

Robins, although generally regarded with disfavor by gardeners and farmers because of the few strawberries and cherries which they eat, yet live principally upon insects. Although the spring months the robins live almost entirely upon worms, and feed their young upon the same. In 1858 Professor Treadwell of Cambridge, Mass., submitted to the Boston society of natural history an elaborate paper giving in detail important facts observed by himself in feeding young robins. The great value of his paper is in the evidence it furnishes of the enormous amount of animal food which young robins require in order to thrive. Prof. Treadwell found by feeding young robins that they required 41 per cent. more than their own weight of animal food in twelve hours before they began to gain, and that after eating this large amount their own weight was 15 per cent. less than that of the food consumed. That they absolutely needed this large amount of food was shown by their falling off in weight when they had less. In view of these facts it is easy to imagine what an immense number of worms it must require to raise even one brood of four or five young robins. Robins use for food for their young and for themselves earth worms, and eat worms principally. A writer of an article on birds in the Atlantic Monthly, in 1869, says that a pair of robins built their nest on the top of a lattice porch immediately under his window, and after the young birds were hatched he closely observed what they received for food, and found it consisted almost wholly of cut-worms, which prove so destructive to field and garden crops. When it is considered what an immense amount of food is required to keep young robins in a thrifty condition, every gardener would be delighted to have that amount of cut-worms taken from his garden every day. Possibly he would be willing to give the old robins a few cherries when ripe, to repay them in part for the good they had been doing him all summer.

A Strange Religion.

(Huntsville Forester.)

In April last Webster Walls, a lad aged 20 years—a new arrival from Scarboro', Ont.—began to hold religious meetings in a private house in Chaffey. As the interest grew he told the people that when they felt they were condemned by the influence of the Holy Spirit this feeling was on account of the ribbons, flounces, and jewelry worn by them. If they did not take off these they would go to hell right away. When the people were well excited, Walls introduced a stranger, one Sage, as the proper one to administer communion. When Sage came the excitement was at its height. The neophytes, when called upon, one after another would rise, shout, roar, slap their hands, stamp their feet, and fall prostrate as if in a fit. On recovering from the fit some of the converts would tell of seeing angels, and even the Saviour. As the meeting progressed—they were held almost every night—the excited hearers were continually cajoled to give up their jewelry, etc. The speaker himself, after mildly gesticulating one evening, fell on the floor, pawed around like a dying alligator, and after a time he regained his feet and part of his senses. He told the converts if they only saw all he had seen and felt, they would give the world to enjoy it. Some ladies took off their wedding rings and gave them up, although enjoined not to do so by their husbands.

A Russian Marriage Ceremony.

The bride and bridegroom held a lighted taper in their hands in front of a small altar placed in the centre of the church. Rings were placed on their fingers, and their hands being joined they were led by the pope three times around the altar. Two highly ornamented gilt crowns were placed on their heads, and held over them by the groomsmen during part of the services. They drank wine out of a cup three times, and kissing one another the ceremony was finished. The married couple then made a tour of the church, crossing themselves at and saluting each saintly Icon on their way. Weddings generally take place toward evening, so that immediately after the ceremony dinner commences at the house of the bride's father. At a marriage feast lighted candles are placed in every position and every corner possible. No other wine but champagne should be drank, and the quantity of this beverage consumed is remarkable. The dinner is followed by a ball, and the feasting is usually kept up for twenty-four hours. The custom of honeymooning does not exist in Russia. The married couple spend the first few days of their wedded life with the bride's father. Shortly after the marriage the bride and bridegroom must call upon every one of their relatives, friends, and acquaintances, and after this ceremony is finished they sink back into their ordinary life.

Miraculous Powers of an East Indian.

There is in India a saintly old gentleman named Jasawant Rao, of whose miraculous powers strange tales are told. One day the wife of a wealthy native merchant dropped her nose-ring while in the act of presenting a cocoanut to the holy man. In vain did he politely request the lady to pick up her jewel; she vowed that she could not be guilty of such profanity after it had fallen of its own accord at his feet. So Jasawant Rao gave the ring to another woman who happened to be standing by, and returned the cocoanut to the merchant's wife, with directions that on reaching home she was to bathe and then brake open the nut with her own hands. These instructions being faithfully carried out, the lady was rewarded for her piety by finding her nose ornament inside the cocoanut.

Are You Going to Travel?

Don't forget a supply of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is a superior remedy for sea-sickness, and a positive cure for all bowell complaints induced by bad water, change of diet or of climate. Whether at home or abroad it should be kept at hand in case of emergency.

—Another lot of handsome new goods for spring suitings has just been opened by J. M. Maloney & Son, merchant tailors, 89 Bay street. Their stock is now one of the choicest in the city, being replete with all the latest novelties of the best European makers. Occupying premises on a side street, this firm is thus enabled to sell at prices unapproachable by any other first-class establishment.

—Do you feel miserable, tired, half-sick, no appetite, and out of sorts generally? Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters is just the medicine you want; a few doses will at once relieve you. Go to your druggist and get a bottle, price 50 cents. Smith & McGlashan, special agents, 135 Yonge street.

August.

The summer season now reaches its climax, and is prolific in developing bowel complaints. Over-indulgence in fruit, immoderate drinking of iced waters and summer beverages, in a few hours produce fatal ravages among children and adults. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the most reliable remedy for all forms of summer complaints. Safe, pleasant and prompt in its effects. All dealers keep it.

INSURANCE.

ITEMS.

"THE ÆTNA" is the name of a quarterly journal now in its thirteenth year, published in the interest of life and endowment insurance by the undersigned. A copy will be mailed, free of expense, to any one applying for it. From the last number we give a few brief extracts:—

CAUGHT MANY.—The importance of keeping up policies of life insurance is illustrated forcibly in the case of N. Gothier, of Plantagenet, Ont. He took out a policy of $1,000 in the ÆTNA LIFE, Dec. 15, 1879. When the second premium became due, (Dec. 15, 1880) he had decided not to continue it, believing his prospects for a long life better than the average. The agent used every available argument to have him continue, but without effect. In sixteen days from the lapse of his insurance policy he was killed while felling trees for his employer. His death was nearly instantaneous. By his refusal to pay the Company $19.27, he leaves his family in embarrassed circumstances, in which a thousand dollars would have been a fortune.

MATURED ÆTNA ENDOWMENTS.—The ÆTNA LIFE is disbursing to its patrons, holders of matured endowments—an average of over two thousand dollars per day. The satisfactory results given by the Company are handsomely acknowledged in the following letters, to which we invite the attention of our readers:

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE, FORT EDWARD, N. Y., May 28, 1881.

Dear Sir: I desire to acknowledge with my heartiest thanks the handsome treatment I have received from your noble Life Company, the ÆTNA of Hartford, Conn. The returns for my annual payments received from you last year, and this, on the maturity of my two endowment policies, have more than met my expectations. You have paid me a good interest for all the moneys I have put into your hands; you kept my life insured for the ten years to the full amount of the policies; and now, when I need it most, you pay me the full sum in a lump. I have never made any investment that pleased me more.
Yours very truly, REV. JOSEPH E. KING.

IPSWICH, MASS., April 24, 1881.

Dear Sir: I have this day received payment of my ten-year endowment policy which I took out in the ÆTNA. On this policy I paid to the company $3,558.98, and received in return, $4,191.43, leaving a balance as interest on my investment of $632.45. Another policy of $902,00 falling due at the same time, has also been promptly paid. I am so well satisfied with my investment that I have taken out another policy for $5,000,00. Yours truly, GEO. H. GREEN.

H. STILSON, General Agent, Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Sir: In May 1866, I insured with your company on a fifteen year endowment plan. I have to-day the pleasure of acknowledging the receipt of a check for $2,537.07 in payment of my policy. I have paid in to the company, $2,217.27, and received in return the amount stated above. In addition to having had insurance for the last fifteen years, I have received as interest on my investment $319,80, which satisfies me that my money has been well expended.
Yours truly, JAMES N. HOWLE.

COULD DO BETTER.—A gentleman in Lake County, Ohio, was a few years ago insured in the ÆTNA LIFE for $10,000. He died in April last, and his executor found among his papers the policy above referred to, and notified the Company, confidently expecting that there was due the family the above sum. Imagine their feelings when informed that the policy was not in force because the insured concluded a few years since that he "could do better with his money."

CHEAP ADVERTISING IN
THE WORLD,
The Only ONE CENT Morning Paper in Canada.

THE TORONO WORLD,
although only recently established as a morning paper, is already read widely, not only in Toronto but in every town and village of any importance in Ontario, as well as in many places in Quebec and Manitoba, and its circulation is advancing by more than one hundred daily. The afternoon edition also continues to grow in favor throughout the city and suburbs and to command increasingly numerous circle of readers. The large and rapidly-increasing circulation of THE WORLD on the one hand, and reasonable rates on the other, must commend it to all classes of advertisers as a most desirable medium of communicating with the public.

THE WORLD is published every morning at five o'clock. Extra editions are also published whenever there is news of sufficient moment to demand them.

All advertisements are measured as solid nonpareil, twelve lines to an inch.

ORDINARY RATES

are as follows:
Casual advertisements, of whatever nature, FIVE CENTS a line for each insertion.
Reports of meetings and financial statements of banks, and railway, insurance and monetary companies, TEN CENTS a line.
Paragraphs among news items, double the ordinary rates.
Special notices, twenty-five per cent. advance on the ordinary rates.
Birth, marriage and death notices, TWENTY CENTS each.
Condensed advertisements on the first page, HALF A CENT a word, each insertion.
