A PIONEER FOR AID. HALLAM.

Work has begun in New York Harbor on the enlargement of the Hoffman Island, which will be fitted up and utilized as a modern quarantine station. The island, at the present time, has an area of about two and a half acres. It is proposed to enlarge its dimensions to nine acres. The scheme necessarily involves a large amount of filling in. The means that will be used for effecting this transformation is our old friend the sand-pump. Several of these devices of great power will be stationed at some distance from the island, with which they will be connected by pipes, laid on cribs of logs. Through these pipes the pump will force a continuous stream of sand and water, in the proportion of two parts of water to one of sand. It is on this principle that work on the island should have been carried on in the past. Although we have done a great deal of work on the island, we have but made a small beginning in the total amount that will finally be accomplished. There are hundreds of acres yet to be reclaimed and the sooner the city becomes possessed of a plant that will do the work most effectively and cheaply, the better will it be for us. The City Engineer has already recommended the purchase of a sand-pump, it would have come in very useful at the present time to do the work that is now being done by contract. Instead of frittering away any further sums to contractors the city should make a point of investing the next appropriation for Island Park improvements in the purchase of a filling-plant that will be of the greatest service to us for many years to come. It would pay for itself within a year.

DR. LANGTRY'S SCHEME.

The letter from Dr. Langtry in another column corrects an erroneous impression of the rev. gentleman's five-acre scheme, as it appeared in the press on Monday last. Dr. Langtry's project does not presume that a workman shall give up his work in the city and occupy himself entirely on the suburban five-acre holding. The project is designed to afford the ordinary mechanic and artisan employment supplementary to that which he already has, so that when reverses come and he is thrown out of a situation he will not find himself completely at the mercy of circumstances. Dr. Langtry thinks between a small amount of mechanical skill and ability to work a small plot of land, the workman would be in a much better position than he is to-day, depending on his trade alone. This theory exactly coincides with one announced by The World some two or three months ago. The World on that occasion pointed out that the working-man, in order to better his position, ought to think out some scheme by which he would become independent of every wind that blows. Nothing that we know of could elevate his position in this respect more than the occupation of from three to five acres in a district contiguous to the place where he finds his mechanical employment. On that amount of land an industrious man can find the backbone of subsistence for himself and his family, and when the worst comes, the worst, if he has this fall back upon, he will not be entirely dependent upon charity.

THE TOLLGATE QUESTION.

The York County Council is now wrestling with the everlasting tollgate question. As our readers are aware, there is an enactment at present in force, under which the city agrees to do away with the market fees on condition that the York County Council will abolish the tollgate system. Unless a mutual agreement is reached before the end of the present year, the enactment referred to becomes null and void. It will, therefore, be easier for the parties to reach an agreement now than later on. The city, on its side, is and always has been willing to make the deal, but the county has not been able to come to a favorable decision. We understand on one occasion a majority of the council did vote in favor of abolishing the tolls, but through some technicality the agreement was not completed. We trust the gentlemen who are now in session at the Court House will give this matter their earnest consideration during the present week. The feeling against the tollgate system is growing stronger every year, and everyone admits that the time has long since passed when they should be wiped off the face of the earth. We believe the exercise of a little diplomacy in equalizing the charge for maintaining the roads that will be necessary if the tolls are abolished would be able to secure a vote favorable to the change. The tollgates in the vicinity of Toronto are becoming less profitable every year. The adjacent municipalities are opening up new roads in order to avoid paying tolls. Moreover, it takes 30 per cent of the receipts from the roads to pay for the collecting of the tolls. As these alternative routes are being opened up, the advantage to the city of having the tolls abolished becomes less and less. The County Council should, therefore, consider that what is freely offered them to-day may, in the course of a year or two, be procured with a good deal of difficulty. The exchange is a reasonable one, and the County Council ought to make a special effort to put it through before our standing offer expires.

American Fishing Nets Seized.

Windsor, Nov. 21.—Canada's Lake Erie cruiser Petrel arrived at Windsor this morning with 102 American fishing nets aboard, which it is claimed had been seized in Canadian water near Middle Island last Saturday. Capt. Dunn had reported the seizure to the Department of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa, but had not received instructions how to dispose of them. Several tons of fish had been found in the nets, but they would not keep and were sold cheap.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer ailments which might have been avoided by proper remedies had been used. It is attended by delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.

A FRIEND'S LIFE ENDED.

Salvador Franch, Chief Conspirator in the Barcelona Horror Executed.

Barcelona, Nov. 21.—Salvador Franch, the chief conspirator in the bomb throwing plot which resulted in the death of 80 persons and the wounding of 80 others in the Liceum Theatre in this city a little more than a year ago, was executed here about 6 o'clock this morning. All day yesterday and all through the night the condemned man spent his time in preaching the doctrine of anarchy. He rejected energetically the efforts of the priests who sought to persuade him to turn his mind to his approaching death, and expressed scorn and contempt for those persons who believed that his recent pretended conversion was genuine. The prisoner throughout the last day and night of his life showed no fear. His meals were eaten with good appetite, and were apparently heartily relished. At 8 o'clock last evening his wife and daughter were admitted to his presence, and spent considerable time in an endeavor to induce him to confess his crimes and accept the consolation of religion, saying: "If you don't you will ruin us." Franch curtly refused to pay any heed to their appeals. It was several times found necessary for the crowd which had collected about the prison in the hope of seeing the execution.

ON A CHARGE OF FORGERY.

A Markham Township Farmer Arrested on a Serious Charge.

David Kendrick, of Alimara, Markham Township, was yesterday arrested by County Constable Coxwell at Grand's stable, while endeavoring to sell a horse and taken to Stouffville on a warrant charging him with forging the name of William Connor to a note for $200. Connor is a farm laborer employed by John Graham, 7th concession of Markham, and gave a note to Kendrick some time ago, which he paid before it became due. Then, it is charged, Kendrick made out another note for a similar amount and signed Connor's name to it and discounted it with the executor of the Miller estate. The executor's wife, who was called on by Mr. Connor and requested payment, he gave Kendrick, and produced the note, which the forgery was discovered. A warrant was immediately sworn out, and Kendrick's arrest followed, after which he was taken to Stouffville.

The Chrysanthemum Show.

The Chrysanthemum Show at the Pavilion is the centre of attraction just now. Yesterday afternoon and evening large crowds gathered to view the "Fride of Japan" in all her glory. The labors of the judges are over, the awards having all been placed. Although the American firms have raised in many prizes, Toronto has come off with flying colors. Some of the American prizes were made by making two entries in one class, whereas the Canadians, in almost every case, put in only one entry. The men from the U.S. had a perfect right to do so, according to the existing code of things, but next year the regulations will be altered so that only one entry can be made. The judges were Robert Flowerdew, Detroit; Charles Swift, Rochester; and the same as last year, and two better men could not be found.

Mr. Scott, the flower specialist of Buffalo, attended the show to-day, and he said most emphatically that the display of roses could not be beaten in America. A group of magnificent yellow chrysanthemums (cut blooms), called "Golden Wedding," and exhibited by R. Monahan, Parkdale, has called forth the admiration of everyone. It was awarded a special prize. The plan of this large outdoor show-garden was designed by Mr. George Philip, and it has proved so admirable that it will likely be the model of all such arrangements. The tables and decorations of the building were due to Mr. Charles Arnold, who has displayed the greatest taste. To the strains of Sousa's marches the large and brilliant throng promenade among the beautiful flowers, and made a pretty picture for the many spectators in the galleries.

At former shows J. H. Dunlop, the Toronto grower, whose name is a household word among the large buyers of the United States and Canada, has generally swept the chrysanthemum and rose classes. This year he lost most of his finest specimens by the frost while they were being conveyed from the conservatories to the Horticultural Gardens. Mr. Dunlop had several new and gorgeous varieties of chrysanthemums to show the public and his disappointment was all the keener.
